SUTHERLIN P. T. C. HAS MEETING TUESDAY

SUTHERLIN, Dec. 16—The Sutherland P. T. club met at the Arts building on Tuesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Merle Wahl, conducting the business meeting. It was voted to hold regular meetings once every two months. The principal, Mr. W. A. Gilchrist suggested that the intervening months, the parents try and visit the school, and stated that they were welcome at any time. Mrs. Elsie Irving announced that the home nursing classes were doing very nicely and that there were so many it had to be divided into two separate groups. Mr. Gillett, the band teacher, stated that his pupils were doing very nicely, but they were in need of some instruments, especially a snare drum and a bass drum, and the loan of these instruments to the school would be appreciated very much. Mrs. Hazel Davis, primary teacher, asked that if any one had some blocks, old toys or a small wagon she would appreciate the donation of them very much, as it is very hard to entertain the youngsters for an hour or so until the school bus leaves.

It was voted to give a prize of five dollars to the grade whose room has the largest attendance of parents present at the next P. T. club meeting, this money to be used for something needed in the room.

The following program was given:

Song in unison, "God Bless America" led by Mr. Gillett and accompanied on the piano by Erma Martin.

"Three Little Acorns, and Three Little Turtles," were dramatized by the primary pupils.

Piano solo—"To Spring" by Greig—Erma Martin.

DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

The Gospel is the power of God. Rome was already on the way to her downfall, and St. Paul knew it. He warned her of the impending destruction and in his letter pointed her to the way of salvation. He offered her a gospel that he knew was adequate for national redemption, but Rome was in no frame of mind to heed him, for she had lost her sense of vision—"where there is no vision," says the wise man, "the people perish." That was true of Rome, just as it is true of people and nations today. Mr. Wells in The Research Magazine tells of a young man who saw life as a succession of days, that became steadily more crowded with ignoble and trivial occupations. Then suddenly he reached out his arms in the darkness and prayed, "O, God, give me back my vision." After 410 A. D. Rome cried crying to an unsympathetic world, "Give me back my vision." Had she followed the way of Christ she never would have lost them. Let us pray God that both we and our nation may never make the same mistake. Only those who put their trust in God are unafraid. Amen. (Upper Room)
