

Receipts of Hogs Jam Stock Yards

SPOKANE, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The old Union stock yards reported today its hog pens were jammed and that several cars of on-the-hoof pork stood on a railroad siding awaiting unloading. The yards held nearly 2500 head.

On one occasion this winter the yards turned away hogs when its pens were filled. Several times an appeal was made to farmers to bring no swine to the yards on certain days to avoid a glut. Slowness of purchases and manpower shortage at the yards and in packing plants, as well as an unusually large hog crop, have been advanced as reasons for the jam.

Ration Lift on Shoes Starts Buying Stampede

PORTLAND, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Stocks of $5-or-less footwear were considerably depleted to-day following stampedes which marked lifting of rationing on low-priced shoes yesterday. A number of stores found it necessary to post guards and limit the number of customers.

the FEED BAG

Published Weekly by the Douglas County Flour Mill, Jan. 17, 1944. Mfrs. of Umpqua and Sunrise Poultry and Dairy Feeds.

BETTER TIMES AHEAD. (WE HOPE).

When the demand for feeds is as strong and sustained as it has been for many months, it is not always easy to keep our feet solidly on the ground. Our thinking can get so accustomed to this unnatural war time situation that we might be persuaded that our own particular ability must be responsible for it.

In the kind of business most of us grew up in, we had to justify our existence by the quality of service we gave those who swapped their money for our feeds; and we know that is what the successful conduct of our business will require in the future. This period which business is now experiencing cannot last, and in many ways, it is a dangerous period for our thinking. Every Monday morning, and throughout the week we keep reminding ourselves of that.

Like most other organizations, we have lost a number of experienced people to the armed services, and we have operated with fewer employees than were needed to carry on the business the way we would prefer. During these times we have not always been able to serve you as well as we would like, nor as well as we expect to serve you in the happier days ahead.

But we have enjoyed doing business with you, and hope the feeling has been mutual. May we extend our very best wishes for 1944, with the hope that before another New Year we will again live in a peaceful world.

BLOOD-TESTING.

Due to the tremendous amount of blood-testing we have to do, we must ask that you not embarrass yourself or us by asking us to test your birds, UNLESS you are a regular customer of the Mill. We should love to do it, but time won't permit.

BE CAREFUL! HERE IS A SPECIAL (AP) PRESS REPORT OF JANUARY 15th.

We don't wish to create unnecessary alarm over the feed shortage, but at the same time it is our desire to keep the feed situation before our customers in order that they may not attempt to produce more turkeys, chickens and general livestock than feed is available for.

Please read carefully the following report by War Food Administrator Marvin Jones: Wheat (300). Washington, Jan. 15th.—(AP). Impending shortages of wheat may necessitate curtailment or stoppage of allocation for livestock. War Food Administrator Marvin Jones told a senate interstate commerce sub-committee today.

Defending an Office of Defense Transportation order which would require allotment of 200 American railroad cars daily to import 40,000,000 bushels of wheat from Canada, Jones said Russian and military demands for grain are increasing and warned that delay in acquiring the Canadian supply would produce a "tragedy unspeakable".

"There is danger of a shortage of wheat for milling purposes in this country", Jones advised.

"With the vast amount of livestock and poultry, it would be a tragedy unspeakable if we get into a situation where later we just don't have the feed for our livestock".

COULD BE.

Two men named Wood and Stone were standing on a street corner. A pretty girl walked by. Wood turned to Stone. Stone turned to Wood. Then they both turned to rubber, and the girl turned into a drug store.

LET'S STOP AND THINK.

Probably at no time in history until the last few months, has there been such a universal tendency among people with something to sell, to tell prospective customers to curtail purchases. Here's where we caution you!

Feed supplies will be short again this year. ANYBODY telling you the contrary just doesn't know the facts. In the feed business, it is going to be rationing, quotas and goals. If we don't fall in line, we have a fine chance to get pushed in.

Goals for Oregon have been set at 96% of last year's eggs, 74% of last year's broilers, and 92% of last year's turkeys. Oregon is in a "feed deficit area", so if we don't submit, it is entirely possible that Washington will cut off our feed supplies to meet their pattern. All this regardless of whether or not there are actual shortages.

We beg that you take these facts into consideration when planning your operations for 1944. Maybe if Lane County and Jefferson County comply. Douglas County might ignore goals. But just suppose they feel the same way, and we all get in the soup! Don't you think we better all be good until the War is won?

CORN.

Yes, believe it or not, we can now sell corn. Whole, cracked or ground. It is only a matter of getting it. We have it on the road, but it may be three or four days until it arrives.

BREEDER'S MASH

We now find it possible to get the necessary ingredients for our famous Umpqua Breeder's Mash again. We will start making it in plenty of time for the coming turkey breeding season. As usual, it will have the kick, and will be the most economical mash you can buy.
