Church Attendance

Check to Begin at Baptist Church

The members and friends of the First Baptist church of Roseburg are starting an unusual eight weeks "Church Attendance and Worship Crusade" this coming Sunday, January 23. This movement, national in scope and interdenominational in nature, is under the supervision of the Spiritual Recovery Fellowship of Philadelphia, Pa. It has been discovered that not more than one third of Protestant church members attend their own churches regularly on Sunday. This program is being tried out in one church in each state and after that, if proven successful, many other churches are expected to take it up. The local Baptist congregation has been chosen for the state of Oregon. Careful records will be kept of results during an eight weeks period and reports will be sent each week to Philadelphia and Portland. The Baptist pastor, Rev. H. P. Scone, urges all members and friends to accept the challenge and see what can be done.
