vessels, four tankers and assorted warships is steaming into the Mediterranean past Gibraltar.

(Hinting that we may be incubating a landing on the Mediterranean coast of France.)

BALKAN rumors say that Yugoslav royalist parties have met in the mountains and reaffirmed their loyalty to King Peter, whom Tito has forbidden to return. These royalists are said to have demanded Yugoslav postwar expansion at the expense of Italy and the Balkans. Tito says the Germans, AIDED by Mihailovic, Peter's minister of war, have opened a new offensive in Yugoslavia.

IT appears likely (although it's only a guess) that Tito has the backing of Russia, and that we and the British, after first being friendly to Mihailovic, are swinging over to Tito's side. If that is true, it appears probable that Mihailovic and Peter (looking out for their OWN future) may be going over to the Germans.

All of which is interesting merely as illustrating the tangled nature of the racial and personal quarrels in the Balkans.

ANOTHER Balkan rumor says that "like rats leaving a sinking ship, two more Nazi agents have quit Turkey and surrendered to the British."

What is happening in Turkey has been closely censored for weeks. One can only guess that the Turkish situation is extremely hot.

IN western Europe, the air war goes on as usual. "Mystery" targets on the invasion coast across from England have been raided by our planes 41 days out of the past 55.

What we're doing there, of course, is destroying the German air force, both by shooting its planes out of the air and by bombing the factories where German planes are built.

GENERAL STILWELL, at Chungking, pledges an aggressive LAND AND AIR campaign from the INTERIOR of China to meet Nimitz' projected sweeping drive across the Pacific, and tells of building up "every facility and accommodation" for GIANT CARGO CARRIERS to bridge the gap between our production and our fighting centers.

He adds that our vital China-based air operations can't wait for penetration of the Jap blockade by land and sea.

EVIDENCE is multiplying that we can't wait forever to get aid to China.

The Chinese are facing two problems—Jap military power and their own mounting inflation. In an effort to combat Chinese inflation, we're shipping bank notes and gold into Chungking by air, but gold and greenbacks are only a temporary help.

What China needs is MORE GOODS. We've got to get them there somehow. Otherwise China may collapse under the weight of her own inflation.

MORE THAN CURFEW NEEDED

By Charles V. Stanton.

THE Roseburg city council is expected at its next regular session to adopt a curfew ordinance. Sixty per cent of the cities in Oregon, and all except one of the municipalities of more than 2500 population have curfew regulations, according to the bureau of municipal research and service maintained by the University of Oregon in cooperation with the League of Oregon Cities.

Curfew ordinances in Oregon date back to 1893. Several cities had such measures in the early 1900's. Thirty-nine of the 57 curfew ordinances now in operation in Oregon have been passed since 1933.

Enforcement, however, has been lax in recent years, but now the increase in juvenile delinquency, particularly in communities near military or war establishments, brings the necessity for regulations into prominence, the league points out.

The recommended type of ordinance, such as the one being considered in Roseburg, is far different than the measures passed in former years. Police officers are given a wide latitude for discretion in the administration of the controls. Children who are conducting themselves in an orderly manner, who are not loitering or playing on the streets, will not be troubled. But provision is made for dealing with those who, through idleness or lack of constructive occupation of time, are apt to engage in mischief or disorder. Furthermore, the penalties will be imposed upon parents rather than upon children, thus assuring sterner parental discipline.

As pointed out by the League of Oregon Cities in a review of suggestions for community action to curb juvenile delinquency, responsibility for proper rearing of children rests primarily with the parents, but, as population has centered in cities, society has created an environment in which former types of recreation and amusement are no longer available to children. Thus there is placed upon the communities a responsibility for supplying this function, although parents will still remain accountable in the final analysis for the conduct of their children.

Curfew ordinances will not solve the problem. They may help, but the need will not be met until the underlying causes of juvenile delinquency are corrected.

Needed far more than police control is a community effort to provide a suitable recreation program. Schools, county and city governments, civic and patriotic clubs, churches, labor organizations, parent-teacher associations and other groups should be affiliated in a coordinated and well-planned agency set up to direct projects connected with youth welfare. Money should be furnished schools to keep gymnasiums, workshops, music rooms, etc., open at night for free use under competent supervision. Churches should be made community centers for entertainment. Tournaments in various sports should be organized. Roseburg children are clamoring for a skating rink and swimming pool. Many of the older children could be interested in bowling and other sports, if the cost could be brought within their means.

A curfew law is perhaps a necessity, but we could to more advantage spend a few dollars preventing juvenile delinquency than to put our money into an augmented police force in an effort to control it.

Sergeant Paul Morgan of the state police, just back from a trip to Texas, has no fear the United States will lack predominance in the air for the balance of the war. After observing the number of army airfields in Texas, Morgan asserts that if only one flier is graduated from each field there will be enough to whip the axis.

Mrs. N. R. Snyder, Former Roseburg Resident, Dies

Word has been received here of the death at Portland, Feb. 10, of Mrs. Neta Rosa Ryder, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Rose, early settlers in Roseburg. Mrs. Ryder, who spent her early life in Roseburg, had resided in Portland for a number of years. She was a sister of Noah Rose, Sutherland; Ruth Cox, San Francisco, and Allie Hollensted, Portland.

The Babylonians had a numerical system based on 60, instead of ten, and almost as handy as our own.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

There is great excitement in the liquor trade and among people who buy liquor because of the shortage of whiskey, and the apparent prospect that unless something is done about it the available supply will become exhausted so that the regular drinker will have nothing with which to cool their parched throats and quench the fires of their raging stomachs. Just the other day in the nation's capital where a grave "liquor emergency" exists, a whiskey delivery truck pulled up in front of a liquor store. In a very short time there was a line nearly a block long, most of it consisting of individuals who probably didn't have $5.00 a few years ago and who are not likely going to have $5.00 a few years hence. The government says that there are approximately 899,023,881 gallons of liquor on hand in warehouses. The whiskey traffic says that the actual quantity is 96 million gallons less than this because of "soakage and evaporation." At least one hundred million gallons says the trade must be held off the market to maintain reasonable standards of quality. This leaves only 203 million proof gallons available for the frantic customers and this quantity, we are told at the present unprecedented rate of demand will last certainly less than a year. A dismal prospect indeed. (Voice.) Amen.

Have a Coca-Cola = Here's to old times

...or welcoming home a sailor son

These days there can be more real welcome in a snack shared in the kitchen than in many an old-time banquet. And with ice-cold Coca-Cola to add refreshment, you have all the makings at hand for a good time. As our men in camp and overseas so often tell, in all the world there's no more cordial invitation than those three familiar American words, Have a "Coke". At your icebox, the same as in P. X.'s around the globe, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the global symbol of American hospitality.
