Al Davis Hands Bob Montgomery First Round Kayo

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Al Davis, Brooklyn's bad boy batter, is today's flistic toast of the town.

Four years ago he drew a lifetime suspension from New York rings, and a barrage of boos from the fans, for hitting Fritz Zivic with a series of low blows. Last night, his exile lifted since he returned from the army, he stepped back into Madison square garden's ring a 4-1 underdog to Bob Montgomery, Philadelphia's dusky star who until last November held the New York-Pennsylvania version of the lightweight title.

Davis kayoed the Philadelphian in one minute and three seconds of the first round. It was the quickest knockout in the history of the garden, and it was the first time Montgomery had been stopped in his colorful career.

Davis caught bouncing Bob with a left hook to the head and sent him down for a four count in the first 15 seconds. Montgomery staggered to his feet, backed to the ropes under a flurry of blows, and finally took the full count as another left hook to the jaw connected.

Roosevelt Plans to Launch Program For Forestalling Postwar Slump

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)

President Roosevelt today was reported on the verge of ordering into effect some of the major recommendations contained in a newly-devised master blueprint for swinging America's "arsenal of democracy" back into peacetime production.

Publication of the 10,000-word document, constituting in effect a strategy for economic victory on the postwar homefront, apparently signaled the beginning of a new era for government, business, and workers—an era in which continuing production for war will be meshed increasingly from now on into restored production for peace.

The report contained numerous recommendations, some of which would require legislation, others which would need merely the order of the president.

It was indicated that Mr. Roosevelt already was moving to effect some of the economic reconversion plans, the operation of which would not necessarily depend upon the end of war.

The expressed aim of the program, drawn up by Bernard M. Baruch and John M. Hancock, White House advisers and veterans of industrial mobilization in both World wars, is to avoid economic chaos in the period of readjustment from war to peace and to create instead an "adventure in prosperity."

Slackening Already Noted This period, the report makes plain, is already beginning as war needs slack off slightly. But the jobs will start in earnest the day Germany is defeated and only Japan remains to be licked.

That day is designated as "X-day" and it is proposed that the White House order preparation of a detailed "X-day reconversion plan" for industry based on a program already drawn up by the War department but concerned only with any supply needs.

"No let-up on the war" is the recurring theme, but paralleling it is the reiterated argument that the administration and congress must work together now in preparing for every phase of economic readjustment.

"There is no need for a post-war depression," Baruch and Hancock say. "Handled with competence our adjustment, after the war is won, should be an adventure in prosperity. Our soldiers will not let us down. They are our chief concern. No pressure groups of self-seekers will take our thoughts from the duty we owe them."

"Finally, while the producers should be restrained from excessive profits during the war, the workers as long as hostilities are on should refrain from strikes. No grievance, however just, should be permitted to slow our

(By the Associated Press) Gonzaga university earned ranking as the No. 1 collegiate basketball squad of the Pacific Northwest last night when they spouted to a 49-41 victory over the University of Washington.

Elsewhere on the basketball front, Oregon trimmed Oregon State 46-38 to come within one game of clinching second place in the northern division.

The Oregon win at Eugene brought the Webfoots within 34 games of Washington and dropped Oregon State out of a third place tie with Idaho.
