PRODUCTION NECESSARY
It is a little early to get a true and complete picture of the plans for turkey production for the year of 1944. As near as we can judge, the crop will be about the same as last year, according to early estimates in Douglas County.

TURKEY EGGS
Turkey eggs are beginning to lay, and with a few days of good weather we will have lots of them soon. There are reports that some order for early poults have been cancelled, and some folks are beginning to wonder about selling their eggs.

ROAST CHICK
It's about the time of year when we begin our annual warning not to roast your chicks until they are about three months old. We have several pet peevish about brooding chicks and poults, and want to start early this season to cussing and discussin' gthem.

CARTOONIST CONFESSES
We wish to thank Mr. Eccles for the now famous cartoon of his laying rooster. Mr. Eccles says he has retired, but the darned old rooster is still on the job, and has his hat in the ring for a fourth term. (Next time you come into the Mill, take a look at the pictures on the south window of the office.)
