frontiers to be pointless. He says the Germans have half a million men in Italy and "we have sufficient forces in Africa to nourish the struggle as fast as they can be transported across the Mediterranean."

Speaking to the Russians, he says: "Britain is intensely interested in maintaining Poland's independence and is convinced that repeated Moscow declarations for a strong, independent Poland represent the settled policy of the Soviet Union."

For all practical purposes, he might as well have said: "There will be no fight between Britain and Russia over Poland, for we stand ready to BACK RUSSIA."

As to Germany, he says that Hitler and his police force are still in full control and the Nazi party and the German generals have decided to hang together.

The Germans have "evacuated" Krivod Rog. Their position in the Ukraine is crumbling. In the Marshalls, we take Eniwetok—about 1000 yards wide by 6000 yards long.

KNOX tells us we've destroyed 92 Jap vessels in three weeks but there's nothing to justify any estimates of an early end of the war in the Pacific.

AN AMERICAN HAS SPOKEN

By Charles V. Stanton.

HEAVY applause rocked the staid senate chamber Wednesday as Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky offered his resignation as majority leader, following a bitter denunciation of President Roosevelt's veto of the tax bill.

It is only natural that republicans, and other opponents of President Roosevelt and the New Deal party, should applaud the courageous act of the senate majority leader.

There are few nations in the world where a person occupying a political post corresponding in importance to that held by Senator Barkley would dare criticize the governmental head so openly and vigorously.

The United States and Great Britain, maintaining democratic forms of government, are endeavoring to "sell" democracy to a world torn by ideologic strife.

Furthermore, his vehement attack serves to restore confidence at home. This nation has trembled upon the verge of dictatorship.

That one who has been an administration spokesman and leader for 12 years has called upon congress to maintain its "self-respect," and has hurled the president's insults back at the White House, gives us confidence that the fundamental structure of our government is safe from further extended encroachment.

The political implications of Senator Barkley's defiance are many. His action could well make him a candidate for the democratic nomination for the presidency.

Forester Would Pay $1.56 an Acre on O. & C. Claims

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(AP)—Settlement of the claims of 18 Oregon counties to 472,000 acres of timber lands in national forests by payment of $1.56 an acre to the counties by the government was suggested yesterday by the forest service.

The lands are alternate sections, claimed by the counties as part of the re-vested Oregon and California railroad grant.

L. F. Kneipp, assistant chief forester, made the cash proposal during hearings before the house public lands committee on a bill (HR 1688), which proposes to charge the O. & C. re-vested lands administration, an interior department agency, with control of the properties.

Kneipp told the committee that the $1.56 an acre represented the amount which the counties were charged with contributing to the total cost of settlement with the railroads.

He said the counties would participate in increased forest earnings made possible by administration of these lands by the forest service but would not receive as much as 75 per cent of the timber land revenue which they are guaranteed under the O. & C. re-vestment act.

The cost to the government, he said, would be gradually repaid by the government's share of the forest earnings.

Washington News From an Inside View

Argument, Sentiment, Comment

By HARRIS ELLSWORTH, Congressman, Fourth Oregon District

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—Nearly 600 former residents of Oregon now are living in or near Washington. We have an "Oregon Society" formed mostly for the purpose of arranging get-togethers so that we Oregonians can get acquainted and talk about home.

The moving spirit in the Oregon society here is Miss Pherne Miller who, by the way, is a daughter of Oregon's famous poet, Joaquin Miller. Miss Miller is secretary of the society, but actually does all of the work of keeping the records and making arrangements for meetings.

The principal number on the program for the meeting Monday night will be a half hour of magic and sleight-of-hand presented by Carl D. Shoemaker. It may be his Oregon friends are not aware of it, but the fact is Carl Shoemaker is noted here for his skill as an amateur magician.

Cool Bay has been in the forefront here this week. The Oregon delegation in congress, ably backed up by representatives in congress from Washington and Idaho, has been endeavoring to save the large chrome industry built up in the Coos Bay region and then suddenly stopped short with a cancellation of the contract.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Harrison of Roseburg have received word that their son, Corporal Keith Harrison, has been advanced in rank to sergeant. He is stationed at Camp Adair, Corvallis.

Private First Class Eldred B. Clark, son of James E. Clark, Rose hotel, Roseburg, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant. He is serving with the 3rd Infantry division of the Fifth army in Italy.

According to word received, Kenneth Hagg, radio technician second class, United States navy, is stationed at Bermuda and has been spending his leave in Salem visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Hagg. He is well known in Roseburg, having attended the local high school.

Word has been received here that Wright Mallory, Jr., formerly employed with the Umpqua National forest, is now stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif., where he is a member of an artillery company. Mrs. Mallory is employed in Portland.

J. F. Epperly, Douglas Resident, 33 Years, Dies

J. F. Epperly, a resident of Douglas county for the past 33 years, died at his home in West Roseburg Wednesday following a long illness. His widow survives.

deavoring to find out just how this reduction is to be made. In other words, I have been trying to find out how our Oregon institutions will be affected. As of today there is no specific plan. Just a few facts are available. The 35,000 remaining in the colleges will be primarily those who are taking advanced courses in medicine and dentistry, or engineering, and include some 5,000 pre-induction students. The students withdrawn will be those already basically trained and on active duty. Seventeen-year-olds will not be affected nor will there be any curtailment in the reserve phase of the program.

Reassignment from the army specialized training program to other duty before the first of April will be made at the completion of a particular training course or term. Colleges will be reimbursed for the unexpired portion of contracts covering students withdrawn from ASTP. Some 80,000 will be assigned to the army ground forces. Most of the remainder will be assigned to other units destined for overseas service.

DIAL LOG

By SUSAN There are several bits of programming here and there that we've neglected to mention, but they're nice interludes and we hope you've been hearing them. For instance, we like I Hear Music at 9:30 in the a. m., and we like Buddy Cole at the Organ each evening at 9:30—that's a nice breather between news and Fulton Lewis, Jr., so try a small sample—we think you'll enjoy both of them. For Friday beginning at 6:30 in the evening you'll find lots of good listening. It's Double or Nothing time, of course, on the 6:30 spot; then there's Eye Witness News at 8:00 and Name That Song at 8:30. And, speaking of the last-mentioned show, we wish—oh, how we wish—they'd moved George Wright to Hollywood along with Dud and Tommy—we don't think the new organist is nearly as good. Friday is the night for the Freedom of Opportunity broadcast at 10 o'clock. This week it will bristle with the famous of filmland. Col. Frank Capra will present the award, and Walter Houston will accept the key and scroll for his son, Capt. John Houston, who will be saluted as the outstanding young man of the week. And, in passing, may we remind you that it's Thursday—and there's lots of good shows on right now—so start listening.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Bob Newcomb was reading me a letter the other day—from his son in the Marines. Dick Newcomb's somewhere in the South Pacific, thousands of miles from home, yet he writes to ask: "Tell me, Dad, do they still pitch horseshoes back of Ray's? Is Johnny keeping my tools in shape? Are the front still biting in Seward's Creek?" Makes you realize what the men over there are thinking about. Sure, they're fighting for Democracy and Freedom and a Better World Tomorrow.
