SENATOR CHARLES L. McNARY

By Charles V. Stanton

SENATOR CHARLES L. McNARY, a man whose career was a striking example of opportunities offered by the American way of life, is dead, and in his passing the nation, and particularly the state of Oregon, mourn the loss of one who, by qualities of leadership and forthright adherence to principle, furnished an example of statesmanship seldom equalled in the history of our country.

Had he represented a more politically important state he doubtless would have been the president of this nation. For eleven years he has been one of the most outstanding political figures, his shrewd judgment and ability causing him to be chosen as the republican leader in the U. S. senate, despite the fact that he frequently sided with the majority party.

His life exemplifies the opportunities offered in a free land to those who have the ambition and the industry to succeed.

The youngest of 10 children born to pioneer parents, he was left an orphan as a small boy and was reared by an elder sister who sacrificed her own ambitions to care for her brothers and sisters.

Memory of his own struggle for education made him the benefactor of many needy students at Willamette university, where he was dean of the law school for five years after a period of successful law practice. The poverty of his early days perhaps also influenced his support for the social reforms initiated by the present administration.

Senator McNary's position as republican leader in the senate was unique. Heading a group largely composed of rock-ribbed Old Guards in the early days of his post, he nevertheless often took the liberal view in opposition to many other party leaders. Yet he commanded the respect of both liberal and conservative factions, and was held in esteem by republicans and democrats alike.

In 1936, he was considered as a prospect for the presidential nomination and was not chosen only because he represented a state too far from the center of population. He was vice-presidential candidate in 1940 after having been one of the nominees for the office of president at the party convention.

Senator McNary achieved national prominence because of sincerity, industry and statesmanship, not because of showmanship. His voice seldom was heard in the senate chamber. He sought no personal glory.

Credit for many of his accomplishments went to his colleagues. He exhibited a rare quality of leadership.

Despite his prominence in national politics, he worked industriously for the state he represented in the senate for more than a quarter of a century. He was particularly a friend of the agricultural and timber industries and fought vigorously to protect them.

An able parliamentarian, a shrewd political observer and leader, a statesman devoted to producing harmony, yet ready to fight, with all of the great power of which he was capable, for those things he believed to be right, Senator McNary was the type of public figure the nation can ill-afford to lose during these critical days.

That Oregon has been proud of its senior senator has been amply demonstrated by the votes of confidence by which he was returned to office for four successive terms. Our sorrow at his passing is the more acute because of our crying need for leaders of his ability.

Baski, Short Ender, Wins Verdict Over Mauriello

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The heavyweight title ranks had a new title threat today.

The threat is 22-year-old Joe Baski of Kutztown, Pa., former amateur road miner, who last night in a rough and rugged scrap in Madison Square garden punched out a 10-round decision over Tami Mauriello of the Bronx.

Mauriello entered the ring as the No. 2 ranking challenger for Joe Louis' crown, and as a 5-12 favorite, but he left it a badly-beaten boy.

Baski, making his first main event start in the garden, flattened him for a nine-count in the first round, piled up an impressive lead in the early sessions, and then coasted to victory.

Cougars Quit Cellar By Defeating O. S. C.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Connecting for two out of every three shots in the second half, Washington State college Cougars moved out of the north-east division cellar last night with a 32-15 triumph over Oregon State.

Halftime scored favored the Oregonians 22-10. The two teams will meet again tonight in the final game of the O. S. C. season. Washington State has two games with Washington remaining.

Springfield, Ashland Win Basketball Games

(By the Associated Press) Little Springfield knocked Eugene out of the state title picture last night, 33-40, as district high school basketball playoffs proceeded throughout Oregon.

It was the second defeat for Eugene, one of the highest scoring teams in the state, at the hands of Springfield, which now will meet Marshfield for the district 3 crown and a berth in the state tournament.

In southern Oregon Ashland defeated Medford, 37-28, to tie Kilamath Falls for the lead of the Southern Oregon conference. The game, however, had no bearing on the district 2 playoffs which open next week.

LaMotta Beats Harris On Split Decision

DETROIT, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Jake LaMotta of New York punched Ossie Harris of Pittsburg all over the ring last night and to the astonishment of the fighters themselves and spectators LaMotta got nothing better than a split decision.

Muster-Out Pay Details Available in Roseburg

Mrs. Ellen Post, executive secretary of the Douglas county chapter of the American Red Cross, announced today that information regarding the muster-out pay for discharged World War II veterans is available at the office, room 404, in the Perkins building, Roseburg, or from Mrs. Jess Bowman of Glendale and from Mrs. Helen Lewis of Reedsport, home service workers. Application forms are also available at the chapter office and from home service workers.

As a safety measure Mrs. Post urges that all veterans have their discharges recorded at the clerk's office in the county courthouse before allowing them out of their possession. Discharges must accompany applications for muster-out pay.

Coos River Downs Myrtle Creek for Entry in Tourney

Coos River defeated Myrtle Creek, 34 to 30, in an exciting game on the neutral Riddle floor Thursday, winning the right to enter the B league district tournament at Marshfield against Reedsport, Powers and Port Orford March 3 and 4.

The Myrtle Creek boys, playing before a record crowd of fans, apparently had stage fright in the early stages of the game and could not get their defense working properly, missing many shots both from the field and free-throw line. As a result, Coos River held a 22 to 8 lead at half time.

Coch Tom Ireland brought his team out of the jitters during the rest period and the Vikings came back to score 22 points in the last half, while holding Coos River to 12 points, but could not overcome the first half lead rolled up by the visitors.

The winner of the Coos-Curry-Douglas tournament will go to Grants Pass during the second week in March to meet the B champion of the Jackson-Joseph-Klamath district, and the winner in that contest will go to the state championship tourney.

Although the Myrtle Creek team was decidedly "off" in the game Thursday night, Coach Ireland reported his opinion that the better team won and that the Coos River five deserved the right to enter the tournament.

Russians Smash Nazi Efforts to Halt Victory Drive

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Russian armies massed along the 400-mile-long front between Pskov and Rogachev are pressing westward in White Russia toward Latvia and the northern part of Poland despite increased German resistance, a Moscow communique reported today.

German commanders threw fresh reinforcements into the Rogachev area yesterday in a futile attempt to seal the gap torn in their lines by a Russian army on Thursday.

No less than 14 fierce counter-attacks north of captured Rogachev were thrown back by the soviets, the Russian communique said.

To date the battle around Rogachev has cost the Germans 6,000 men and enormous stores of war equipment, the bulletin added. On the northern end of the front, Russian troops converging on Pskov, Baltic gateway stronghold below lake Peipus, drove the Germans further west toward Latvia. They killed another 1,100 Germans and captured 54 towns and hamlets. The Moscow bulletin said.

A second force was 22 miles north of Pskov at Lutovo, another 28 miles northeast of Keshka, and to the east still another column had reached the outskirts of Porkhov.

The situation around Vitebsk was still obscure. A Berlin radio report that the great stronghold 150 miles north of Rogachev had been evacuated was not confirmed by subsequent Russian and German communiques.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Radio France at Algiers, quoting Bern sources, said today that Marshal Georg von Keuchler, German army commander on the northern front in Russia, has been imprisoned in the German fortress of Koenigsberg charged with insubordination to Adolf Hitler. Von Keuchler, the report said, has orders to hold his northern front at all costs.
