Goes in the Hole for 80 Bucks

Pfc. Roy Lewis Webb, above, of West Liberty, Ohio, bet his 37th Division pals on Bougainville Island $80 that he could dig this de luxe foxhole, 8 feet wide, 10 feet long and 4 feet deep, in four hours. Sustained by only three five-minute rest periods and a nickel's worth of chocolates, Webb moved approximately 19 tons of sand in three hours and 56 minutes—and collected. More than $800 in side bets changed hands.

She was born in Yoncalla July 16, 1931, and had made her home there continuously. She is survived by her father, Clarence E. Wilson, and step-mother, Mrs. Idell Wilson, of Costa Mesa, Calif.; two sister, Naomi Frances Wilson and Eunice M. Wilson; two half-brothers, John K., and Douglas E. Wilson; her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Wilson, and uncle, Jacob E. Wilson, all of Yoncalla. Funeral announcements will be made later. The body has been removed to the Stearns mortuary, Oakland.

Oregonians Lead Property Buyers In Douglas County

Home state purchasers lead all others in buying Umpqua valley real estate, according to tabulations made from reported recent sales of the Roseburg Realty company. Eleven Oregonians purchased properties but Californians ran them a close second, with eight Golden Staters listed on the buying side. Third to furnish new citizens to Douglas county was Washington, from which four families have or will soon move here. Other states to furnish one or more families are Idaho, Illinois and Iowa.

Properties of all classes are active, according to the local realty firm, with a substantial number apparently merely seeking the security of subsistence production. A definite desire to get away from crowded war industry centers as soon as the war is over is evidenced by many out-of-state buyers. Considerable interest is being taken in irrigated farms and an increasing number of inquiries are coming in for large stock ranches, they stated.

Purchasers Listed.

Among recent transactions completed or in process of completion are the sale of the W. J. Hyatt place at Elgarose to Wm. E. Austin of Myrtle Creek. Mr. Austin has moved to his new home and is making extensive improvements. Mr. and Mrs. Charles LeFever of California have bought the A. O. Keenel 14-acre home at Melrose and are also making extensive improvements. Mr. LeFever has retired from active business life.

Planning to move here this fall are Harry and Milo Smith from Central California. The Smiths are buying the 750-acre stock ranch of L. B. Atterbury, just south of town. Mr. and Mrs. Milo Canfield of Venice, Calif., are planning to move here sometime in the future after completing a deal for the I. W. Reed 200-acre farm at Olalla. Other purchasers who plan to move here after the close of the war include Wm. R. Shigley of Chicago, O. W. Bylund from Southern California, and D. O. Wells of California.

Other farm transactions will include the H. L. Walsh 240-acre ranch at Brockway to Rex A. Lason, California; the F. H. Albro poultry farm at Tenmile to C. P. Cecil, California; the Halsey Delamp 5-acre homesite in Umpqua park to Cecil Humphrey; the Ray Bessey farm at Tenmile to Wm. Blazer of California; the R. C. LaDuke suburban home to A. D. Hughes, foreman for Hansen Motors; 5 acres on U. S. No. 99 from Grace King to Ray Caviness; the 30-acre farm of Harry Burdick at Melrose to Wm. Pearson of Idaho; the Nelson Bros. poultry and dairy farm to P. D. Gardman; and the 10-acre Jorey fruit farm at Edenbower to Houston L. Walsh.

City Property Included.

Important among city transactions were the sale of the Dr. J. R. Shoemaker home to Mr. and Mrs. Abe Bean of Tacoma, Wash. Mr. Bean is operating the Olympia Supply company which also leased the Shoemaker business block on Jackson street, through the Roseburg Realty company. He has also leased the A. E. Kent building on Jackson street. Other business locations sold were two lots from Fred Chapman to CRNR, and the Myrtle Grove Auto court from Robert Reed to C. L. Greenleaf of Iowa.

Residential property sales included the George Baker home to A. E. Fender of Idaho, the G. I. Bryant home in Millers addition to Roseburg to L. M. Walsh, Rudolf Solonicka's house at 823 S. Pine street to Halsey DeCamp, the F. R. Larimer home on Mill street to H. J. Hickerson, Robert Craig's house on East Second to C. S. Mobley, the M. O. Ream property at Rice and Hamilton to Virgil C. Lyon, the Elmer Lander house and garage building on Fullerton to J. M. Cummings and Edward Foster of Washington, and the A. J. Geddes home on North Jackson to Mr. and Mrs. Morgan J. Russell.

Increasing business in the office of the new realty firm has necessitated the addition of an office assistant and Mrs. Esther Basson of Garden valley has taken the position.

R. H. S. Hoopsters Beat Grants Pass To Enter Tourney

The rejuvenated Roseburg Indians, bearing out the predictions of their coach, Hod Turner, defeated Grants Pass 34 to 27 in an elimination basketball contest on the neutral Medford floor last night. It was Roseburg's only victory over the Cavemen in five games. As a result of the victory, Roseburg will enter the district tournament starting tonight at the Southern Oregon College of Education gymnasium at Ashland.

Grants Pass started the scoring and had the Indians down 7 to 5 at the quarter, but the Indians started laying in long shots in the second period and were out in front 16 to 12 at half-time. Roseburg also led the third period, increasing their margin to 25 to 18 as the game went into the last quarter.

In the final frame the Indians played defensive ball, stalling for time, and shooting only when there was a good opening.

For the first time this season, the Indians controlled the backboard, with Loomis, Benson and Young working nicely to take the rebounds. Cumings sparked the offensive and set up the scoring plays. Both Young and Cummings were fouled out of the game in the last quarter. Krell filled in the last few minutes, despite a sore ankle, with Marr also getting into the contest. Grants Pass lost Smith, their aggresive center, on personals in the third period.

Lineups:

G. Pass 27	Pos.	34 Roseburg
Furchnes 3	F	18 Loomis
Riebel 6	F	7 Young
Smith 8	C	4 Benson
Ausland 1	G	2 Cummings
