

Sunday at the Churches

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

Many people are in great perplexity today because of their spiritual shortsightedness. They cannot see things in their proper proportions. Their vision is too low, and consequently they see things, and things only. In the midst of a storm, they see only the low-hanging clouds, and forget that the earth, the sky, and the sea lie in the hollow of God's hand. When something happens that brings them trouble or distress, they are apt to complain that God has forgotten them. But here is the great fundamental truth: "All things work together for good to them that love God." Life cannot be rightly interpreted by one thing, some one thing standing alone may be very confusing. But no one thing makes the warp of life. God sees life whole, and He weaves all things, sunshine and shadow, loss and gain, life and death, into the fabric of life. If we are willing to love and trust Him, we will be able to see, as the days go by, that all things have worked together for our good. Here is where faith comes to full force. We must always remember, "The Lord thy God, He it is that doth go with thee: He will not fail thee nor forsake thee." He will bless thy going out and thy coming in. Amen.
