PLAYING FOR MONEY

By Charles V. Stanton

ACTION by the directors of the Roseburg chamber of commerce in seeking federal aid to develop recreational facilities is a step which is far more important, we believe, than most people realize. Perhaps you have not stopped to consider the essential place recreation has in community life. The old saying, "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," is as true of communities as of individuals.

One of the most effective remedies being applied to national juvenile delinquency is recreation. A sharp reduction in the curve of juvenile crime has definitely followed installation of adequate recreational facilities.

Chamber of commerce members are business men. Their chief interest is in securing profit from the capital they have invested in their respective enterprises. They have found that by pooling their money and efforts toward promoting better trade relations improving the liveability of the community, advertising local resources and advantages and engaging in other promotional work they can increase population, attract trade dollars and thereby increase profits. Too often, however, they have overlooked the fact that they can make money while playing.

A case in point is our annual pre-war fish fry. For several years Roseburg celebrated the opening day of the trout fishing season by closing stores until noon and requiring business houses to make a display of catches. Fish feeds were held along the streets and in the main business intersection.

The event attracted widespread publicity. It caught popular fancy everywhere. Streets were thronged in the afternoons by spectators inspecting the exhibits.

Yet some business men were never able to see the value in that bit of horseplay. The four hours they closed their doors, with the possible turning away of a few customer dollars, far outweighed in their minds the community advertising the event secured.

We may be prejudiced by the fact that fishing is one of the things we'd rather do (period), but we still believe 100 per cent cooperation in the annual fish fry is a real dollar-getter in the long run.

We have always observed that any community which takes interest in sports is a live-wire business community. Towns that support their high school basketball, football and baseball teams, towns that break their routine occasionally to indulge in a bit of horseplay, are always good places in which to do business.

In addition to such community undertakings, provision should be made to provide facilities for organized sports. We will have opportunity, following the war, to enjoy a sawmill baseball or softball league, providing we can provide a lighted field. We are sorely in need of a swimming pool. We already have some money on hand for that purpose.

(Marshall Pengra, KRRR manager, swimming pool fund chairman, asked us to insert here that contributions are always welcome—editor's note.)

We have need for more tennis courts, particularly illuminated courts. We need a skating rink, children's playgrounds, sandlot baseball diamonds, rodeo grounds, handball courts, and numerous other facilities for healthful recreation.

Some people doubtless will consider expenditure for such activities to be a lot of tomfoolery, but it is our opinion money spent for recreation is well spent and will bring tangible returns in dollars and cents over a period of years.

What is back of it all.

DEWEY is equally non-committal. He tells the intensely curious reporters that he is NOT going to comment on ANY political question. His position is that he is WHOLLY occupied with his job of being governor of New York.

MAYBE all this mummy and mystery, all this don't-ask-me, how-should-I-know stuff, all these moves that don't add up are leading us nearer to the goal of a republican candidate whom the people of America will TRUST and a republican platform in which the people of America will HAVE CONFIDENCE. But it certainly doesn't look that way now.

Coos Port Facilities Inspected by Cordon

Misfortune Hits Rainiers at Start of League Season

(By the Associated Press)

Pre-season favorites for the Pacific Coast league baseball crown, the Seattle Rainiers stand at the bottom of the league today—losers of three games and two outfielders. Portland fared better—taking two of the three weekend games from San Francisco.

The Rainiers dropped a double bill to Hollywood yesterday, Fischer losing 7.5 and Speer going down 4.2. Saturday's opener had the same result, Seattle losing 2-1 with Hal Turpin on the mound.

In the parade of errors and misfortune which saw the usual reliable Sueme drop two perfect pegs from center field to allow runs, and Howard Davis Arlington rookie, stumble and fall 10 feet from home plate with the tying run in the second game, Roy Johnson turned his ankle and Bill Krueger pulled a ligament in his leg to leave two holes in the Seattle outfield.

Portland and San Francisco exchanged top-sided triumphs, the Seals winning 183 Saturday only to have Portland capture a 17-7 win in Sunday's opener and follow through with a 5-3 triumph in the finale.

Los Angeles, 1943 winners, moved out into the winner's circle with three triumphs over the 1943 cellar occupants, Sacramento. Angel wins came by scores of 5-1 Saturday, and 15-4 and 7-3 Sunday.

San Diego divided a double bill with Oakland yesterday, losing the opener 6-1, but winning the nightcap 7-2. San Diego won Saturday 8-5.

NEW PRESSURE CANNERS

Production of 400,000 pressure canners has been authorized by the War Production board between now and July 1. The 1944 canners will be made of aluminum instead of the carbon steel war models made last year. Early authorization to six manufacturers is expected to result in more timely deliveries than 1943, when many of the 339,000 canners produced were not available until after the canning season. The new canners will not be rationed this year.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS
 was no pacifist in the pres-
 The Jew speaks out. Recently the following article appeared in the Secular Press.
 Quote: "The Master of Man was no pacifist in the presence of evil as so many church leaders are today. They have evolu-ed a sickly namby-pamby Christianity. They back away from the liquor problem, gambling, immorality, venereal disease, and other evil which are destroying the moral standards of the nation. The church in many instances is little better than a good-natured, comfort loving social club, instead of a mighty battler against wrong. The pacifist disease has sapped the fighting spirit of countless followers of Christ. They no longer crusade against those things which murder the souls of men." The statement merits consideration. In the first place as far as the leading evangelical churches are concerned, the distinction should be made between the church as a whole,
 and the local congregation.
 The church has not been afraid to give progressive crusading leadership against all social and national evils. But the situation is somewhat different when we apply the criticism to some local congregations. Among many local congregations the crusading spirit is conspicuously lacking when the ministers preach soft things, and when we make the House of God a social affair there is little hope of making it a spiritual Power House for God. Amen.
