

Alcohol Project At Springfield Receives Setback

WASHINGTON, April 13—(AP)—The proposed alcohol-from-wood-waste plant at Springfield, Ore., was rejected yesterday by the War Production Board requirements committee because of scarce manpower and material.

Construction of the Springfield plant, which would have been financed by the government and operated by the Willamette Valley Wood Chemical company, was recommended recently by WPB's chemical bureau.

"In view of manpower and materials shortages," WPB officials announced, "the construction of additional new facilities for the production of alcohol cannot be justified at the present time." WPB also turned down a proposal for an alcohol-from-sweet potatoes plant at Clewiston, Fla.

The decision does not effect an industrial alcohol plant approved last month for Bellingham, Wash.

SALEM, Ore., April 13—(AP)—Governor Snell today urged War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson to approve the proposed alcohol-from-wood plant at Eugene, which has been rejected by the WPB's war requirements committee because of a shortage in materials and manpower.

The governor's telegram said: "Strongly urge favorable consideration Eugene alcohol-from-wood plant. Local arrangements fully completed and manpower clearance obtained. As you well know, this production vital to war effort and presents favorable long range possibilities postwar period. Surely war requirements committee misunderstood proposal or were not in possession of all pertinent facts. Respectfully urge your personal attention this important matter."

U. S. Sticking To War Aims, State Dept. Aide Assures

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—Assistant Secretary of State Breckenridge Long says the American people may rest assured their government will stick to its present war aims.

He told the American Federation of Labor postwar forum last night the United States wished only to help invaded countries back on their feet, and had no intention of meddling into their internal affairs after the war.

"We," said Long, "will not permit the armed forces of this country to be used for the support of any group, or any government, contrary to the will of the people."

"The American people need have no fear that the American point of view is not being vigorously and effectively preserved on every occasion where our immediate and long-range interests are involved."

Anti-FDR Head

Dr. Gleason L. Archer, above, president of Suffolk University, Boston, was elected chairman of the new anti-Administration American Democratic National Committee, following the resignation and withdrawal of Harry H. Woodring.

The diplomat said American foreign policy must be judged both by its effectiveness in winning the war and its success in helping to lay the basis for peace and economic well-being. And sometimes, he said, the objective is not achieved—"Finland is a case in point."

Long told the labor forum these three conclusions had been reached:

1. That the major nations and the law-abiding states should create an international organization to enforce peace and security.

2. That each nation subscribing to the program, and in due course all nations, should pledge not to use force except within the framework of the organization.
3. That each of the major nations and any others agreed upon should accept special responsibility for backing up the program.
