to have plenty of strength to hammer at both Romania and Poland at the same time.

THERE'S an interesting rumor, said to come from an authentic source. It relates that the Germans are beginning to destroy their installations in GREECE.

If that should prove to be true, it would mean that they are shortening their lines in the Balkans. If they are shortening their lines in the Balkans, it suggests that they are expecting us to launch an attack from Italy, across the Adriatic, into Yugoslavia. Your map will tell you what that would mean, if successful.

INTERESTING news comes from northeast India.

It appears that our airborne commandos have CUT the communication lines that serve the Jap forces that are attacking Imphal and Kohima. If we HAVE cut these communications and can KEEP them cut, the Jap forces over the line in India will be doomed.

No military force, even rice-eating jungle Japs, can continue to operate without new supplies of food and ammunition.

IF this interesting report turns out to be true, and if we can finish what we have started, it will mean that w chave outsmarted the Japs in the communications-cutting race that has been on ever since the India-Burma battle started.

THERE is other interesting news from this theater of the war. Mountbatten has moved his headquarters from New Delhi to Ceylon.

Ceylon is an important British naval base. Churchill told us some weeks ago that Britain now has IMPORTANT naval strength in the Indian ocean. When the REAL ATTACK on Burma comes it will come by sea, and Ceylon is the natural place for it to start.

At Ceylon, Mountbatten will be in direct contact with British naval commanders, whereas at New Delhi he was far removed from them.

The implication is that we're getting nearer to the long-expected campaign to RECOVER Burma.

Wife Slayer Lonergan Gets Long Prison Term

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Wayne Lonergan was sentenced today to 35 years to life in prison for the bludgeon-strangulation slaying last Oct. 24 of his 23-year-old heiress wife, Patricia Burton Lonergan.

The 26-year-old former RCAF aircraftman and society playboy stood impassively in general sessions court as Judge J. G. Wallace imposed the sentence.

Japanese soldiers wear belly-bands or Senninbari-belts of a thousand stitches, each sewn by a different person, which supposedly make them invulnerable.

"POP" BEARD RESIGNS

By Charles V. Stanton

RESIGNATION of Clyde Beard, principal of Roseburg senior high school, adds new difficulties to reorganization of the district's teaching staff, as his decision follows closely upon that of City Superintendent W. M. Campbell, who is leaving the Roseburg schools after 20 years of service. The two resignations are not related, as Mr. Beard has long been debating acceptance of the opportunity offered him to join the staff at Linfield college—a chance for advancement too important to be rejected, as much as he regrets departure from the Roseburg school system.

We know Principal Beard is truly reluctant to leave the position he has held for more than 14 years. We know this not only because he has told us so, but because we know the sincerity of his effort to maintain an efficient school. No man can so earnestly and successfully strive to achieve an objective without suffering heartbreak when he must leave the task in which his love has centered.

The greatest sorrow lies ahead, however, when he must separate from the boys and girls in whose behalf he has labored so diligently. Clyde Beard has been more than a school principal. He is "Pop" Beard to the students of the Roseburg high school and the nickname has been applied through sincerity, which makes it particularly appropriate. He has been counsellor, father confessor, guide and friend, voluntarily assuming an obligation far beyond the call of duty.

A man whose christianity is professed not only in faith but in deed, he has given to the operation of the Roseburg high school a personal example of spiritual leadership which has had a marked influence upon those who have passed through the portals of that institution.

It is to be regretted that a man of his calibre must be lost to the district. But it is easy to understand that one who has shown such capabilities must be sought for service in larger fields.

He will be hard to replace when the teaching staff of the Roseburg schools is reorganized for the coming year. The district has been particularly fortunate in the type of men and women who have served as officers and instructors. We believe it has been fortunate in the choice to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mr. Campbell. We have been most favorably impressed by the personality and ability of Walter V. Dennis, who is to take over the task of city superintendent.

Mr. Campbell served the district well, particularly in the field of finance. He leaves a record of which any man may well be proud. His successor is a man who is not only well versed in matters of school finance, but who, like Mr. Campbell, places emphasis upon the ability of those chosen to serve as instructors, insisting upon high educational standards in the schools over which he exercises control, making teaching performance paramount to all other issues.

To fill the place left by Principal Beard will be no less difficult, but we have confidence the board will be able to find a man well qualified for the position.

We know that the parents of the boys and girls who are students at the Roseburg high school, or who have been graduated during the years he has served as superintendent, are extremely appreciative of the service he has rendered the district and join us in regretting his departure, while rejoicing in the fact that he has won the recognition he so richly deserves.

Lodging For Delegates is Problem Here

Christian Endeavorers' Meet Expected to Draw Nearly 500 Visitors

The problem of finding sleeping accommodations for from four hundred to five hundred delegates expected to be in Roseburg Thursday through Sunday for the Oregon State Christian Endeavor convention, is the principal problem facing the convention committe, it was announced today by Valmer Klampe, publicity chairman.

The state convention was originally scheduled for last October, but was postponed due to the then statewide prevalence of infantile paralysis.

All local arrangements for the meeting have been completed, it is announced, aside from the matter of accommodations for visiting delegates. Roseburg residents are asked to open their homes to the young visitors and furnish bed and breakfast. The housing committee is headed by Mrs. Len B. Fishback. Persons willing to aid in providing rooms are asked to notify the chairman, phone No. 137-R. Provision has been made that where beds can be supplied but breakfast cannot be provided, the delegates will be fed at the First Christian church.

Six Roseburg churches will be required to provide rooms for the various conferences and metings planned as a part of the convention program.

The male quartette from the Northwest Christian college, Eugene, will furnish the special convention music.

Chief Speakers Listed

Theme of the convention will be "Faith Overcomes" and the keynote speaker, Rev. Mark Kochler, will come from Whitworth college in Spokane.

Union Head to Speak

Other speakers will be Rev. Phil Barrett, president of the California Christian Endeavor union and assistant pastor of the Sacramento Westminister Presbyterian church; Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons, pastor of the Federateed churches of Corvallis, and Mrs. Fred J. Tooze, president of the Oregon W. C. T. U. Song leader for the meetings will be Ivan Cornell, assistant pastor of the Albany Christian church, and accompanist will be Chester Earls. Miss Dorothy Howes of Forest Grove, state president of Christian Endeavor, will preside at all sessions.

Juniors will hold their convention April 22, with Miss Bertha Osterloh of Beaverton in charge.

Camas Valley

Jeanne Moore went to Eugene Sunday to attend the wedding of her sister, Genevieve.

Henry Church went to Eugene Sunday to visit his wife and twin daughters. The girls have been named Mary Jo and Margaret Jeanne.

Robert Church visited his cousin, Rozelle Brown, while his father was in Eugene.

Glenn Wellman, field man for the Douglas County mills, visited the baby chick flocks in the valley this week.

Young chickens have been raised in the valley for so long that each chicken ranch has its own blue diver hawk near by waiting for the chicks to become large enough to turn out. At the Lawson ranch the hawk had been observed for some time as he sat near listening to the chicks in the brooder. The other day, as Mrs. Lawson entered the brooder house with an armful of wood, she discovered that the hawk had found a hole in the wire and was inside where he had killed four chicks. She stuffed the hole with wood and grabbed a broom and went after the hawk with such fury that he was soon dead.

Norway's chief contribution to the United Nations cause has been the services of her merchant marine—about 1,000 ships.

DIAL LOG

By SUSAN

A nicely balanced program tonight for you—beginning with music at 5:30, when Annaloris brings "Music You Remember". There's a half-hour of music at 7:30 too, when San Quentin On the Air comes sliding down the airways—that is, it's all music except for Warden Duffy's little talk. The orchestra offers "Elk's Parade", the Glee club will do "The Lord's Prayer" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic", and Johnny Trudrung offers the lovely "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes". Eye Witness News at 8 with another thrilling story, and at 8:30 there's Freedom of Opportunity, this week saluting Lt. (j. g.) Ira "Ike" Kepford, former Northwestern grid star, credited with downing 16 Jap planes in 79 days. Wednesday morning: Here Comes the Band at 7:15; good band music and two scintillating guest stars on the 9:30 Your Army Service Force's broadcast, too. Ilona Massey and Sgt. Bill Macarthy, editor of "The Yank," will appear as guests. Then there's lots of good music—Jack Berch at 10:15, Luncheon With Lopez at 10:30, and Around the Town at 11:45—and the most stupendous, horrendous tales of murder at 1:30 in the afternoon when True Detective Stories makes its weekly appearance. As you know by now, Believe It or Not has finished their show, and for the time being you'll be hearing Nick Carter, which will, of course, bring joy to the hearts of the younger members of the family. We don't know whether this will be a permanent listing or not, but you'll remember of course that Wednesday night at 6:30 is the time for the Little Theatre Off Times Square to present their First Nighter. This week it's "Angel In Paris"—more about it tomorrow.

Older Players May Form Softball League Here

Organization of a city softball league is under consideration and there is prospect of several teams being formed to maintain a summer schedule, Floyd Baughman, owner-manager of the Roseburg Bowling Alleys and one of the principal organizers of the softball league, announced today.

Due to the absence of young men, it is proposed to form a league of older players to furnish recreation during the spring and summer months.

Sponsorship of the league must depend upon a civic organization, Baughman said. It is believed sufficient team sponsors can be obtained to make the league operative.

Varied Weather to Be Topics of Soldiers Here

Members of the American Legion will learn tonight about two extremes of weather. Lieutenant Robert Bellows and Sergeant James Moran have been invited to speak at the joint program of Umpqua post and auxiliary at the regular meeting to be held tonight. Lieutenant Bellows is on furlough home after two years in the Aleutian islands, and Sergeant Moran is spending sick leave at home following wounds received in the South Pacific.
