VICTORY COOKERS CLUB HAS PARTY

SUTHERLIN—Mrs. Matt Aldrop met with the "Victory Cookers" of the 4-H club last Thursday afternoon at the Arts building. Mrs. Aldrop took charge of the meeting as their junior leader, Viola Aldrop was absent on account of illness.

They spent the hour having an Easter egg hunt, after which they had a delicious lunch with Mrs. Fred Holleman as a guest.

Mrs. Hazel Davis helped Mrs. Aldrop to choose the two best looking eggs. Betty Jane Jones' egg was chosen first. It represented a white 4-H clover on a green background. Evelyn Garman won second and she had her egg fixed like a doll with green ribbons in her hair. Both girls received five cents as a prize. Katherine Stowe won the prize of five cents for finding the most eggs. The girls all had a nice time singing songs with Evelyn Garman accompanying them at the piano.

EASTER PARTY IS ENJOYED BY GROUP

SUTHERLIN—A delightful Easter party was given by the teachers of the younger classes of the Methodist church on Saturday, following the rehearsal for the Easter program.

The children enjoyed an Easter egg hunt, then enjoyed sandwiches and cocoa. The table was covered with a paper cloth, gay with colored rabbits, chickens and Easter eggs and flowers. The table was centered with a basket of Easter eggs and two large bunnies.

Those enjoying the afternoon were: Bert Watson, Allan Watson, Jimmy Holman, Harold Sheets, Leone Riggs, Harriet Riggs, Sandra and Joan Clark, Dolores and Velma Wridge, Wanda and Janice Pampas, Phyllis Jean Porter, Donald Woods, Charlotte Slater, Betty Jane Jones, Myrdred Chester, Janice Epps, Philip Larry Gourley, Harold Rietmann, Mrs. P. CARNAHANS HONORED AT LARGE RECEPTION

A record number of people, nearly all of whom are patrons of rural route No. 1, were present Saturday evening at the South Deer Creek grange hall to commemorate the 27th year of service of mail carrier, Mr. G. C. Carnahan.

The lecturer of the grange, Mrs. Luke Patterson, presented an interesting program which included a play, "A Difference in Training," by LeRoy and Marvin Sigfrison; a song "Coming In On a Wing and a Prayer," Marta and Neta Rose Paterson; reading, Mrs. Harold McCormack; a joke by Mrs. Harry Collison, who acted as master of ceremonies, the master of the grange, Mrs. Esther Morburg, being unable to be present because of illness in her family; reading, "A Pointed Lesson," Charles Olcott Bailey; reading, "Doors," Mrs. Wm. H. Bailey; song, "In a Little Street Where Old Friends Meet," Mrs. Clyde Kester and Mrs. Albert Karcher, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Dale Adams, and an address by Mrs. Carl Becker, lecturer of Evergreen grange. The program was completed by all singing "God Bless America."

Mrs. Collison then instructed the steward and lady assistant stewards of the grange, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Karcher, to escort Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan to seats in the front of the hall, where, after the presentation of the flag and singing of America by the audience, Dr. C. H. Bailey on behalf of the patrons of the rural route, presented Mr. Carnahan with a beautiful leather coat and a billfold. Mrs. Carnahan was the recipient of a dainty set of blue dishes, and both she and Mr. Carnahan thanked the audience in well chosen words. Tables were then set and all enjoyed the sandwiches, cookies, pie, cake and coffee so generously furnished by the ladies. The balance of the evening was spent in visiting and conversation, and at the close of the evening an album containing signatures of all those attending was presented to the Carnahans.

CLUB ENJOYS MEETING THURSDAY

SUTHERLIN—The meeting of the seventh and eighth grade cooking club of the 4-H was called to order last Thursday by the president, Lloyd Holgate. Jackie Culver, Lloyd Holgate, Dave Garman, Melvin Walter and Floyd Corty were the five members present. They had a song and yell, after which they discussed what they had covered at their first meeting.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

In the divine-human task of growing Christian personalities, we are likely to fall into the practice of majoring in the minor. We can spend so much time garnishing the outer edges of life that we may lose sight of the great central values of life itself. All too often we major in the idea that things are a power. Materialism holds that material realities are the only realities, that the main business of life is to have great possessions, accordingly. Anything that does not ring a cash register or fill a barn or a warehouse has no value. The gold standard, according to this theory, is the right standard upon which to build your life; when you have attained this, you have succeeded. But Jesus says that life is something else. We must have truth, self-respect, love, kindness, sympathy, understanding—we need to be continually transcending ourselves. These qualities are not material but belong to the spiritual realm. We can have them only by surrendering our lives to the Highest. Therefore, I will major in the power of God rather than in the power of things for life is more than meat. Let us labor for the things that are eternal. Amen.

The 4-H met last Thursday morning and discussed plans for a party. The club is still working on its trellises. The meeting was adjourned by the president.
