WELCOME OREGON C. E.

By Charles V. Stanton

THE City of Roseburg is host to the Oregon Christian Endeavor Union. The streamlined convention opened Thursday night and will continue through Sunday, attracting delegates from all parts of the state.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor originated in 1881 in Portland, Maine, where a Congregational minister, Francis E. Clark, inaugurated a program for training young people in the duties of church membership and the activities of a Christian life.

Today the organization has approximately five million members. Societies are found in more than 80 religious denominations and in nearly every country. But Christian Endeavor societies are not dependent upon churches, for they exist in hospitals, on board ships, in army camps, in public institutions, in prisons, and, in fact, wherever congregations of young people are to be found.

The purpose of the society, as expressed in its constitution, is to "promote an earnest Christian life among its members, to increase their mutual acquaintance, to train them for work in the church, and in every way to make them useful in the service of God and their fellow men."

We are training millions of men and women today in the arts of war, but great numbers of those in uniform also are trained in the arts of peace and good will, through past experience in Christian Endeavor or like organizations. Millions of C. E. members throughout our land today are practicing religious precepts. They will be powerful missionaries of peace in the years to come, yet courageous enough to fight for the principles of Christianity to which they have taken solemn pledge.

There is a startling contrast in the character of soldiers locked in battle throughout the world. History has never produced tales of greater barbarity than have emanated from axis dominated lands. The Jewish pogroms, the massacre of innocent hostages, the cruelties practiced against conquered peoples, the treacheries of ruthless soldiery have sickened a civilized world. But contrast these with the allied policies of feeding the starving peoples of the countries they have occupied, humane treatment of prisoners, care for enemy wounded even at great personal risk. It is a contrast between the barbarian and the Christian ways of life.

Before Europe's madman could lose his minions upon the world he was forced to train the youth of his land for two decades. He was required to remove the influence of the church and religious organizations, ban character-building institutions, and prohibit lodges based upon sacred concepts.

He had to debase and debauch his young people. Before he could mould them into butchers, he was forced to drive out of their minds all of the instincts of filial love and human compassion.

But opposing his Godless, brutalized armies are poised millions of men who carry with them the banner of Christianity. The ultimate victory will go to those forces who uphold the teachings so aptly exemplified by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, which Roseburg has the good fortune this week to entertain.

Honolulu Visitor Here — Mrs. A. M. Selby of Honolulu, who recently came to the states by clipper plane, is visiting in Roseburg at the home of Mrs. J. E. Savoyers and her sister, Miss Gertrude Rast, on North Stephens street. The Selby family formerly made their home here. Mr. Selby is working in Honolulu.

Expected Here — Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Houser and two sons, Rodney and Douglas, of Eugene, are expected to arrive in Roseburg tonight to visit over Tuesday with Mrs. Houser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Knight, and with brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Forter. Mr. Houser, who is manager of the Western Auto Supply store in Eugene, will assist Jack Davis, local manager, in the opening of the company's new store in Roseburg.

Will Visit Relatives — Miss Sammy Collins, bookkeeper at the Shell Oil plant, and Miss Edna Collins, employee of the local J. C. Penney company store, are leaving tonight for Ashland to visit their grandmother, Mrs. Grace Dykstra. They also plan to visit relatives and friends in Medford and Grants Pass and will return to Roseburg Monday evening.

Leave For North — Lt. and Mrs. Walter Minturn have left for Seattle, where the former will report for duty in the navy while Mrs. Minturn will proceed to Ketchikan, Alaska, to resume her work in the USO, following a trip of several weeks east as far as Kansas City, Mo., and a stopover of 10 days in Roseburg to visit Mrs. Minturn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Watson.

Hang on to your hats, kids, here we go again. Come Monday you'll never recognize the afternoon program or be able to locate a thing unless you watch your program carefully—or just let 'er run all day. No more Ray Dady at 2—Welcome Inn moves in there on Tuesdays and Thursdays. And we have another deal that's about to come to a boil for that spot on the alternate days. Radio Tour is with us again at 2:45 and at 3 you'll hear Griffin Reporting. Dusty Records, Johnson Family and Fulton Lewis remain intact, and at 4:15 there's a new program which has an enchanting title, "Care and Feeding of Husbands". We don't know much about it, but it sounds good and, shall we say—helpful. Remember, this is all for Monday. Oh—so you have a feeling something is missing? Yes, you're right. It's the old Dream House of Melody. It breathed its last on Friday at 3 p. m. Requiescat in pace!

Now back to tonight—it's Downbeat Derby time come 8 o'clock, so don't forget it. Two new programs are coming to you on Sunday — The Mysterious Stranger replaces the Shadow at 2:30 and Orquestra Tipico Mexicana will be heard in the 6 to 7 dinner hour concert that has been occupied by Cleveland Symphony. We may as well admit right here that we don't know a great deal about it because of some misunderstanding about the publicity. Mrs. B. thinks "yes" and we think "no", and at long last we're getting smart and won't commit ourselves. Anyway after much dusting off of our Spanish and the aid of a few dictionaries, we deduce that it's a concert of typical Mexican music. The Jack Benny show comes from Vancouver, B. C., this week. After all our steaming around, we find that Dennis Day has been inducted into the navy and will leave the show after this appearance. And that's all for tonight, folks. Have a nice week-end.

Pistol-Packing Patton Assigned To Duty in Europe

LONDON, April 21.—(AP)—Pistol-Packing Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., who commanded the American Seventh army in Sicily, has arrived in the European theater of operations for duty, it was announced officially today.

The general had last been reported in Cairo where it was rumored, months ago, he was to lead an allied invasion of the Balkans.

He had dropped from the spotlight, however, following the victory slapping incident in Sicily, which involved the punishment of a shell-shocked soldier and Patton later publicly apologized to the Seventh army.

Patton stepped into the limelight with the landing of his troops at Casablanca in November, 1942, when, with pearl-handled pistols slapping at each hip, he went ashore with an ultimatum for the surrender of the French forces.

Later he commanded the American forces in the battle at ElGuetar in southern Tunisia, giving over command of the American Second army corps to Lt. Gen. Omar M. Bradley for the final push on Tunis and Bizerte only when recalled to train the Seventh army for the Sicilian invasion.

Bradley is now the senior commander of American ground forces in Britain.

Food Demonstrator on Duty at Camas Valley

Miss Maw, food demonstrator from the office of the county agricultural agent, began a series of meetings with the Camas Valley women Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Tom Seigel. This first meeting was on "The Families Food Supply." The May meetings will be held at the schoolhouse, May 16th the subject will be "Vegetables Cookery." May 31 she will demonstrate the preparation of food for freezing.

Those who attended this first meeting were Mrs. Walter Banks, Mrs. Bernard Monroe, Mrs. Harlan Wiley, Mrs. Robert Wheeler, Mrs. E. A. Markham, Mrs. Guy Lawson, Mrs. Clemens and daughter, Mrs. Roy Stewart and son, Mrs. Harry Boyle, Mrs. Tom Seigel and Mrs. Guy Moore. Miss Maw is desirous that many more women of the valley attend and avail themselves of this free instruction.

Ex-Roseburg Man Meets Old Friends in L. A.
