DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

Confusion and fear prevail in the world today. It is difficult for us not to be overwhelmed by them. How can we possibly live confidently in such a world? How can we accept at full value the words of Christ? "Let not your heart be troubled." The answer is that we must first accept His set of values. We must understand as He did, that there are things that are not affected by the tumult and the turmoil—things that are worth living and dying for. Any man who gives his allegiance to such things cannot possibly fail. What are these things? Not physical possessions, for they can be taken away from us. Not the approval of men, for the acclaim of the multitude is fickle. Christ on the cross felt peace and knew no fear, because He knew His death could not destroy the will of God in which His values were grounded. We, too can live confidently, if we put first the kingdom of God for we know that He cannot fail. The trouble lies in the act, that we want to know, here and now, why God deals thus with us. "Ye fearful saints fresh courage take, the clouds ye so much dread are big with mercy and will fall in blessings on your head." Amen.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST

The girls trio from Northwest Christian college of Eugene will sing at the Bible school hour of 9:45 a. m., the morning church hour, and will give a concert in the evening at 7:30. Walter Noff, tenor soloist, and Truman Robbins, baritone soloist from Eugene, will also assist in the evening concert.

In honor of the 55th anniversary of the church there will be a special sermon in the morning at 10:45 on the subject, "The Birthday of the Church," and a fellowship basket dinner at noon in the church dining hall. At the close of the morning service an opportunity will be given to place a gift toward the church indebtedness, as the "Victory" March is played. All members and friends are urged to attend.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Roseburg. Sunday morning promises to be a most interesting and helpful service when Mr. Clyde Beard, principal of the Roseburg high school, will use as his topic "V-Day." Assisting him will be Miss Amanda Anderson who will read the scripture lesson; and Mr. Leroy Hlatt and Mrs. Joseph Deets, who will each sing a solo. At the evening service Mr. Beard's sermon topic will be "Why I Should Not Be Saved." As the close of this service there will be refreshments and a brief program honoring young people being promoted into the high school and those graduating from the high school. Everyone is welcome.

Sunday school at 9:45 each Lord's Day and five youth groups and one adult group at seven each Sunday evening. Mrs. Greta Caskey, Sunday school superintendent, announces that a Daily Vacation Bible school will be held at the church June 5th to June 16th, with Miss Doris McReynolds of Western Baptist seminary, Portland, director.

Myrtle Creek

MYRTLE CREEK—Mr. and Mrs. John Ausmus and son, Gerald, who have been living in California for some time, have returned to their home on north Myrtle about two miles east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown have sold the "Corner" grocery store to Mr. and Mrs. Winkler. This store is located at the corner where the depot road leaves the highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baird spent a part of a day here last week calling on friends. Mr. Baird was pastor of the local Church of Christ here until about two years ago when he accepted a call to the church at The Dalles. He has now resigned there and will enter Butler university in Indianapolis this fall for a six year course.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Koontz and children of California visited here over Mother's day with his brother, George Koontz, and family.

Mrs. Flowers and small daughter are here from Pittsburg, Calif., visiting at the home of her brother-in-law and sister,

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Adams.

Mr. Sutton who has been a patient at the local hospital following a bad mixup with a runaway team and some farming implements, has returned to his home on Days Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Powell have been very happy to have as guests their daughters, Mrs. Clifford Jones and Mrs. Arthur Brown. Mrs. Jones returned to her home in Portland last Sunday. Mrs. Brown, who has been with her husband, Lt. Brown, in Camp Polk, La., will remain with her parents until they are again located for a definite time.

Work is continuing at the new theater which will occupy the south half of the Henry Adams building. Mr. Adams will use the north side of the building for his grocery store. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vedder, proprietors of the former Kautz grocery store, have moved into the small new cottage at the corner of 2nd and Broadway streets, which was recently erected by Victor Cornutt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Greer have moved into their house at the corner of First and Broadway, and are rapidly getting a first class lot of improvements both in and out of the building.

The baccalaureate services for the high school will be held next Sunday night, May 28, at the Christian church and the sermon will be preached by Pastor E. W. Powell. The full program of the graduation services

Begrimed Associated Press reporter Al Dopking, at right, gets a story from members of a battle-tested Marine corps medium tank after having watched it perform in the hottest fighting on Eniwetok Island in the Marshalls.

NEVER before has war been reported like this in word and picture. Associated Press correspondents and photographers—the greatest staff ever to cover a war—are telling the real, human, complete story. They live the story they tell. In front lines. The story of the infantryman, the boy just out of high school, is the story they tell. Just as they report the interview with the general. For instance, during a recent four-week period, The AP service of regional war pictures from overseas passing through the New York office alone, mentioned more than 1,000 different hometowns of soldiers, sailors and marines. Moving from one area of violent battle to another, these correspondents continuously undergo most extreme hazards and hardships to keep the news and pictures coming through. Their achievement is without parallel or precedent!
