TODAY IS OUR V-DAY

By Charles V. Stanton

A NOTICEABLE change in civilian spirit is plainly evident following the announcement of D-day. This is only natural. Nerves have been edgy and jumpy. People have been living in dread and anxiety. Our concern is not lessened by the fact that invasion is actually under way, nor is our anxiety for the safety of loved ones diminished. Rather our apprehension is increased, for we know that severe losses must be suffered. But, at least, invasion actually is in progress. We have known it must come and, while awaiting the day, we have been restive.

The most difficult part of having a tooth pulled is the time spent in the waiting room. Every football player knows the extreme tension just before the kick-off. So have we awaited the invasion with trembling and fear, yet anxious to start and complete the task lying ahead.

Now a mighty allied force has established beachheads on the continent. Soon American boys will be trading soil made sacred by the blood of their fathers. Chateau Thierry, Compiegne, Soissons and Verdun, names hallowed in the memory of those who fought the same enemy more than a quarter of a century ago, lie only a comparatively few miles away. Some American boys who never saw their soldier fathers, who fell in France, possibly will be privileged to kneel at crosses marking the graves of those battlefields over which once again allied might doubtless will relentlessly pursue Nazi hordes.

Fields, which must still bear the scars of 1917-18, will be ground again under the destructive heel of the war god. But this time the German nation is not escaping defacement for, though she attempted to surround herself with fortress walls and force the fighting outside her own boundaries, the allies have ripped away the roof to carry desolation and havoc to the heart of the reich.

The next few days will be fraught with anxious moments. Each word from the combat zone will echo around the world. We will hear many contradictory and frightening reports. The enemy will tell of terrific losses to attacking forces. Already we have been told that paratroops have been "annihilated." But we must not forget that it was "annihilated" Russian armies which drove the Hun back to his lair, to lick his wounds, after one of the most brilliant military campaigns the world has ever known.

So, though we fear for the safety of our loved ones in the struggle that lies ahead, we face the inevitable with a spirit of confidence in the strength of our arms, knowing that victory is sure, even though temporary reverses may be met. The invasion is on across the seas. Here in Douglas county we have our V-day. Today starts the Fifth War Loan campaign. The effort is on to meet the high goals set for our cooperation.

We cannot fire the guns, but we can furnish bullets. We cannot fly the planes, but we can invest money with which to build them. We cannot drop bombs upon enemy targets, but we can supply bombs to those whose hands are more capable than ours.

Our boys across the seas faced D-day with every confidence in their ability to win. Many are giving their lives. We are asked only to invest our dollars—investing in securities which will save us from ruinous inflation and preserving for the coming days a reserve which will assure buying power to furnish jobs for those who come home from their bloody task.

Today is our V-day!

Premium Wage Plans Follow Apprenticeship

SEATTLE, June 6—(AP)—The regional War Labor board, acting on a national board directive, today announced a premium pay plan for journeyman machinists and molders in western Washington and western Oregon who have completed four years' apprenticeship.

It also reaffirmed its wage stabilization rate of $1.20 an hour for all journeymen metal trade workers who do not fulfill the four years' apprenticeship and 30 days service with an individual employer.

This results in a premium pay rate of $1.25 for properly qualified journeymen—the rate awarded machinists in the Portland area by the national board a year ago last February.

At the same time, the regional board, awarded a rate of $1.06 for machinists' specialists, which is a 6-cent increase and awarded a 2-cent increase to helpers after 60 days' service. Tool and Die-makers were awarded a 5-cent increase to $1.045 an hour against the union request of $1.53.

All increases are effective as of June 1, this year, except the increase to machinists' helpers, which is retroactive to last January 5.

Wage increases were denied to saw and knife workers and wire rope employes, on the basis of an insufficient showing.

The board directed that rates for leadmen continue to be established by prevailing practice within individual establishments. In the molders' case, the board also awarded a rate of $1.125 to experienced burners, a 12-cent-an-hour premium over inexperienced burners.

"This does not open the door for a general wage increase in this area," said Dr. George B. Noble, regional board chairman. "The premium pay plan applies only to a specially skilled group of employes."

High Duty Standards Set by Oregon Waves

Oregon's Waves, already on active duty at shore stations all over the United States, are setting high standards of performance in many and varied duties, but more women are needed to maintain the state's record of achievement, Chief W. E. Bell of the navy recruiting service reports. Chief Bell will be at the Roseburg chamber of commerce office on his regular tour of duty Friday and Saturday, June 9 and 10, and states he is particularly anxious to interview women interested in enlistment in the Waves.

Women between the ages of 20 and 38 years, married or single, without minor children, who are not engaged in essential industry are eligible for enlistment, he states. Full information can be obtained by contacting the recruiting officer.

Presbyterians Open Bible School at Glendale

GLENDALE — The annual Presbyterian daily vacation Bible school opened here Monday, June 5, with an enrollment of 33 pupils. Instructors are Mrs. Earl Bilec, Miss Doll Harbour, Miss Lorraine Clarke, Mrs. William Wunch, Mrs. William Dobyns, Mrs. R. B. Gardner, Mrs. P. J. Miller, Rev. Chester Brockway and Dick Cochrane.

The students are divided into age groups, 4 to 6, 6 to 8, 8 to 11 and 12 to 14. The school will continue through June 16.

A public program will be given Friday, June 16, to demonstrate the various activities of the school.

General and Pre-School Clinic Dated at Yoncalla

A pre-school and general clinic, conducted under the sponsorship of the Douglas County Health unit, will be held in the Red Cross rooms at Yoncalla, starting at 10 a. m. Tuesday, June 13. Dr. E. J. Wainwright, county health officer, will conduct the clinic, assisted by Mrs. Hazel Littler and Mrs. Mary Barrett, county health nurses. It is particularly urged that pre-school children be brought to the clinic in order that remedial defects may be corrected prior to the opening of schools in the fall.

Mayor Firm as Taxicab Drivers' Strike Goes On

PORTLAND, June 7—(AP)—Portland's taxicab drivers' strike over a new city ordinance requiring them to file photographs with police went into its sixth day with Mayor Riley still standing firm in his refusal to consider amending the measure while the city council was "under pressure."

Maintenance of a single soldier overseas requires about 65 pounds of supplies per man per day.

Washington News From an Inside View Argument, Sentiment, Comment

By HARRIS ELLSWORTH
Congressman, Fourth Oregon District

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3 — If and when Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Major General Walter C. Short are tried under court-martial proceedings on charges of dereliction of duty in connection with the attack on Pearl Harbor, it is rather more likely that some startling revelations will be made. The two officers who commanded our forces in Pearl Harbor at the time of the attack will surely present facts at such a trial to prove they were not at fault and were not unfaithful to their duty. In that event, someone else will probably be indicated by their evidence as having been at fault. If Kimmel and Short made this error, they should be found guilty and punished accordingly. If they were simply following orders from higher up—those higher up persons should at least be compelled to share the blame.

Court-martial proceedings must be instituted within a stated time. Last December, the congress extended this limitation six months to June 7th this year. Now the matter is before us again. Both the house and senate judiciary committees have reported resolutions extending the time for one year. The question now is whether the resolution will be amended to compel a court-martial, or passed as reported by committee. Meanwhile the two accused officers have waived the time limitation.

In support of the contention that this trial must be delayed until the war is over, it is argued that facts brought out might hurt our war effort, that give aid and comfort to the enemy. On the other hand, key witnesses may die or be killed in action if the trial is too long delayed, thus making it impossible for the accused officers to clear their names.

Then also, whether we like it or not, there is the political angle of the problem. Anti-administration forces believe that evidence presented by Kimmel and Short will be damaging to fourth term aspirations. They may be right. On the other hand, if the New Dealers insist upon delaying the trial, they find themselves in the position of adding fuel to the flame of suspicion that is already burning brightly. It is political dynamite any way you look at it.

The extension of the price control act of 1942 (OPA) is the next important act as well as the next controversial piece of legislation to be taken up by congress. Tuesday the senate banking and currency committee reported the bill out (S. 1764) with several amendments. The house committee completed consideration and reported its bill, H. R. 4841, late Friday.

There never has been any serious consideration of the idea of abolishing the OPA—price control. Nearly everyone recognizes the wartime need for such control. What the republicans (and a substantial number of democrats) have been endeavoring to do is refine and improve the act so as to eliminate some of the more flagrant mistakes and administrative abuses of the law.

The amendments reported out by the senate committee, in addition to changing the date of expiration of the law to December 31, 1945, include the following: prohibiting payment of any subsidies "unless the money required for such subsidies, or sale at a loss, has been approved by congress for such purpose"; authorizing individuals to petition for relief; authorizing Administrator to purchase commodities to use as evidence for violations of price, rent, or rationing regulations; fortified the Administrator with enforcement authorization; specifies a protest procedure; and gives the emergency court of appeals jurisdiction in violation proceedings to enjoin or set aside regulations, orders, or price schedules complained of, or dismisses complaint; defines suit for damages; amends section on review of rationing suspension orders; and proposes to establish an "escalator clause" for cotton products and increase the cost to consumers for clothing.

The report covers 145 pages, over a hundred of which are devoted to a supplemental statement prepared by the OPA, which Senator Taft defined as "nothing but propaganda for OPA."

The house committee amended the bill changing the expiration date to June 30, 1945, and among other amendments are the following: profits cannot be fixed where such action has no relation to price control; individual adjustments in rents may be made where, due to peculiar circumstances, they are substantially higher or lower than rents generally prevailing; subsidies in effect as of date of enactment may be continued, but no additional subsidies paid except on authorization by congress; authority to restrict use of trade and brand names or require grade labelling

Homes Building by Private Capital is C. of C. Objective

By HARRIS ELLSWORTH
Congressman, Fourth Oregon District

An effort to secure authorization for the construction of a limited number of homes to be built by private capital will be undertaken by Roseburg chamber of commerce it was reported today. Directors at their regular meeting last night discussed the critical housing condition prevailing in and near Roseburg. Many families of service men are unable to find permanent accommodations, it was stated. A considerable number of persons are employed in newly-established industries who plan to reside permanently in Roseburg, the directors report, and have expressed desire to build homes if authority can be obtained. The directors propose appeals to federal agencies setting forth the local conditions and urging that a limited number of private homes be authorized to relieve the congestion. M. O. Ream was appointed to head the committee in charge of this activity.

Considerable discussion also was given the proposed zoning plan now being formulated by a special committee of the Roseburg city council and cooperation of the chamber of commerce was offered.

Secretary Harold J. Hickerson advised the directors that responses to appeals by mail for voluntary increases in dues has resulted in an increase in revenue of $1,700 per year and that a large number of members still have not reported. The directors authorized the employment of Eleanor Micelli to serve as a clerk at the Fifth War Loan headquarters during the period of the campaign.

Airplane Plant Tied by Strike Over Negroes

CINCINNATI, June 7—(AP)—An estimated 450 workers, described by a company official as "bonafide strikers," held most of the huge Wright Aeronautical Corp. plant idle for a third day today in disregard to an AAF officer's plea to "help the invasion and halt this monkey-business."

Between 12,000 and 15,000 workers have been absent since Monday, stalling production of airplane engines and parts. The strike and resultant sympathetic walkout—as it was described by the company—resulted Monday after transfer under armed guard of seven Negro workers into a shop hitherto manned entirely by white personnel.

Oregon to Get $6 Million For Forest Protection

SALEM, Ore., June 7—(AP)—Oregon probably will receive more than $6,000,000 in federal forest protection funds this year, Governor Snell said today after returning from the east. There had been reports that Oregon would receive less than $3,000,000 in forest funds.

There are 300,000 English words stigmatized as vulgar, low, etc., and therefore are not recorded in dictionaries designed for the home.

TO A MACHINIST WITH "KNOW HOW"

If you figure you know your stuff and want a chance to show it... want to work with men who take pride in their job... if you figure a permanent company is your kind of company, then this is your ad. Here at Southern Pacific, we want men of your type to work in our big railroad shops or roundhouses... to help rebuild and repair locomotives and other railroad equipment. We think you'll like railroad work... like seeing a locomotive (that you worked on) go out and do a job pulling war freights or troop trains. And like the men you work with—the kind of fellows you'll want to have drop around to the house. New, higher railroad wages. Liberal age limits. Medical service. Fine pension plan. Railroad pass privileges. All the things that make this a really good job.

AUCTION!

FRIDAY, JUNE 9

STARTS 11:00 O'CLOCK A. M.

Schricker & Cooper, Auction

North of Roseburg on Highway 99, east side of highway.

In the furniture room now consigned are dining table, 3 leather chairs, commode, buffet, bookcase, kitchen utensils and glass door bookcase, 2 separators, including one table model nearly new. Last week we had a whale of a sale, everything going well. Some exceptionally good consignments are listed for the sale Friday the 9th.

There is always a buyer from the Coast for pigs. Bring them in. Also always have buyers for veal, canner cows or anything fat.

One 1500 lb. black mare, gentle and true. If you have any saddle horses there is a good demand.

Last week we sold better than 120 head of livestock. The larger this market grows the better it should be for the community.

Call 152 (Myers Oil Co.) Roseburg, or Jim "Ole" Cooper, Oakland, Oregon, for information.

5% on livestock, 10% on miscellaneous articles.
