Marry at Impressive Church Ceremony

Tall white cathedral candles in candelabra, baskets of white double syringa and altar bouquets of Calla lilies and fern formed the lovely setting for the wedding of Miss Carolyn Cordon, beautiful daughter of U. S. Senator and Mrs. Guy Cordon, of Roseburg, and Lt. Donald Crouch, of the U. S. Army Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Crouch, of Portland, and nephew of Mayor W. F. Harris, at St. George's Episcopal church in this city. Rev. William Blaker, rector of the church, performed in the impressive ceremony at 4:30 o'clock in the presence of more than a hundred friends and relatives of the couple.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. Robert Kelly played softly on the pipe organ and accompanied Mrs. Vera McClintock Jones, who very charmingly sang "O Perfect Love," which was followed by Mrs. Kelly playing the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. Miss Patricia McClintock and Miss Joanne "Hurney," dressed in floor-length formal of pale pink, lighted the candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Judge Carl E. Wimberly, a close friend of the family and former law partner of her father, who remained at his post as United States Senator from Oregon in Congress, was stunning in a floor-length white slipper satin wedding gown fashioned with a full length train, long sleeves, princess bodice and sweetheart neckline outlined with a design of seed pearls. The wedding veil was full length and was held in place by a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. She wore a gold cross necklace and carried a white Bible, topped by two enormous white orchids with deep purple throats.

Mrs. Allen Cordon, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and was beautiful in a shell pink floor-length gown of marquisette, fashioned with tiny crystal buttons from the neckline to the waist. She wore a bandeau of pale pink, blue and white blossoms in her hair and carried a round snower bouquet of bouvardia, pink rosebuds and blue delphiniums. Lee Wimberly, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man and H. H. Turner and Delwin McKay were ushers.

The bride's mother was very lovely in a floor-length gown of aqua blue crepe, fashioned princess style. Her sleeves were bracelet length and she wore a bandeau hat fashioned from aqua-colored flowers. Her gloves were white and she wore a large fuchsia-colored orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother was charming in an aqua-colored ensemble and matching hat and her corsage was also a fuchsia-colored orchid.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on East Lane street. Gorgeous bouquets of mixed spring flowers of syringa, bluebells, delphiniums and pale pink rosebuds were artistically arranged about the rooms. Decorations at the church and home were in charge of Mrs. L. L. Wimberly, assisted by Mrs. Albert Micelli.

The buffet table was especially lovely with its attractive lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered white decorated wedding cake topped by a miniature soldier bridegroom and bride. Two low bowls of syringa flanked the cake, which was encircled with tiny sprays of the white blossoms and tall white tapers. Mrs. F. E. Raymond, of Portland, and Mrs. W. O. Cordon, of Eugene, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. J. C. Hume and Mrs. Roy O. Young alternated in pouring and serving punch. Mrs. Carl E. Wimberly assisted about the rooms and Miss Patricia McClintock and Miss Anita Young, sorority sisters of the bride, Miss Mary Margaret Ellsworth, Miss Florence Hamilton, Mrs. Robert C. Snoddy, Mrs. Ray Puckett and Miss Joanne Hume assisted in serving. The guest book was in charge of Miss Gertrude Hatfield, Winnie Hawn, Minnie Hartshorn, Tillie I. Johnson, Ella Lenox, Vivian Logsdon, Elsie Mills, Eileen Rapp, Ruth Reese, Lydia Roadman, Emma Taylor and Ona Williams.

A business meeting followed the dessert-supper and plans were made for a potluck picnic for the members and their families to be held Friday, July 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dent.
