

Turks May Get Into War by Summer's End

By FRANK O'BRIEN.
ANKARA, July 11—(Delayed)—(AP)—Conversations are afoot here which may lead to Turkish participation in the war before the end of the summer.

The talks are between representatives of Turkey, Russia and Britain.

These conferences of the Soviet and British ambassadors and Turkish leaders, principally Premier Saracoglu, have been taken up at the point where the Cairo conferences last year left Turkey's position within the United Nations undefined.

Turks Still Bitter
"They must first surmount the bitterness created by allied charges that Turkey failed to keep her word and the Turkish center that the allies failed completely to equip Turkey for war as had been promised. Actual military talks can begin there.

The United States has been fully informed of the successive steps in the conversations, which got under way about 10 days ago, taking place in Moscow and London and probably in Washington.

The Turks are said to feel that it would be beneath their national dignity to participate in the war by merely giving bases to the allies.

Before everything else the Turks want assurance on these two points:

Assurances Wanted
1. Assurance of Turkey's post-war political and territorial integrity, accompanied by a clear-cut statement of allied post-war aims.

2. A satisfactory explanation of how and when and to what extent Turkey will be armed if she should enter the conflict, plus a definite idea of precisely what would be expected of her.

The Cairo conference and the winter military talks here, by Turkish estimation, left those points unanswered.

The Turks are convinced that failure to participate in the war would be against the nation's long-term interests, but they also feel that failure to get satisfaction at least upon the first of the two points mentioned might result in even greater future ills.

The allied representatives admit both points are difficult because of the uncertainty about the post-war world and the hesitancy of allied leaders to reveal their military plans to a neutral

Fruit Spray Rule Lashed by Growers

SEATTLE, July 7—(AP)—The Washington State grange executive committee, prompted by a federal food and drug department spray hearing at Washington, asserted the government has never been able to prove a "single well-authenticated case of human injury" from eating sprayed fruit.

Nudists in Clash With Gas Ration

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7—(AP)—At least 200 members of a vast nudist retreat in the Valley of the Moon were called on the OPA carpet today to explain how they reached the place on "A" ration gasoline, some from as far away as Oregon and southern California.

25 States Grow, 23 Shrink in Population

WASHINGTON, July 12—(A)—Twenty-five states and the district of Columbia had population increases between April 1, 1940 and July 1, 1943, while 23 states had decreases, the census bureau reported today.

Asserting present state regulations are sufficient, the committee said further the government "seems determined to place even greater restrictions upon the fruit grower," and added:

"Our growers have suffered losses aggregating millions of dollars due to these so-called food and drug tolerances, and the entire industry stands in jeopardy."

ate increase, 40.7 per cent. The Pacific coast figures follow:

Washington 2,632,929 and 1,736,191, up 17.1; Oregon 1,235,482 and 1,089,684, up 13.4; California 8,466,522 and 6,907,387, up 22.6.
