In the Day's News

There was evidently quite a crowd around at the time.

WHAT we'd like to know is who tossed or planted the bomb. And WHY.

There are vague hints today that at least some of the generals who got blasted were from Hitler's personal military stable. This General Hofmeister, who was nabbed by the Russians and TALKED the other day, suggested pretty strongly that there is a rising quarrel between Hitler's "intuitive" school of war-making and the hereditary, professional German war leadership.

Did some of these professionals (or one of their stooges) heave the bomb?

OR was a bomb really thrown at all? Is this bomb business just eye-wash? About all we outsiders can be sure of is that we can't be very sure of ANYTHING yet.

As in the case of Tojo, something more tangible should emerge later.

WE can be very sure, however, that our enemies aren't happy. They see DOOM approaching. The acts of men facing approaching doom don't always follow a clear and logical pattern. A cornered wolf doesn't always do the thing you expect it to do. Sometimes you don't know why it does what it does.

This much is CERTAIN: Back in the days when they were WINNING EVERYWHERE, the Japs and the Germans weren't acting as they're acting now.

MONTGOMERY'S drive out of Caen is continuing. He seems to be turning to the left, toward Havre. That might be significant. For one thing, he wants to clear the Germans out of range of the canalized river that is Caen's port. We need ports and more ports.

There is evidently a big tank battle on in the plains east of Caen. Its results aren't apparent as this is written.

THE Russians are pushing westward. They've CROSSED THE BUG at one point. They're hitting hard everywhere. They seem to have everything that is needed at the moment.

DOWN in New Guinea, the wisdom of MacArthur's by-passing strategy is being demonstrated so far. The 45,000 Japs who have been trying to get out of his by-pass trap don't seem to be doing very well. They are still hemmed in.

BACK in Chicago, Henry Wallace, damned with faint praise by Roosevelt, put up a battle that one can't help admiring. Nobody likes a quitter, and no matter what else he is Wallace is proving that he isn't that.

WALLACE is the kind of person who sees visions and hears

AN EMERGENCY APPEAL

By Charles V. Stanton

THIS is an emergency appeal! We need $31,000 in purchases of E bonds! Somewhere along the line a cog has slipped and Douglas county has not received full credit for bonds purchased to date in the Fifth War Loan campaign.

Clearance through the Federal Reserve bank at San Francisco gives the county credit for only $498,000 in E bond sales. Our quota is $529,000. County headquarters have reports from issuing agencies showing sales amounting to $544,000. Some issuing agency has either erred in its reports to headquarters or has failed to clear sales through the Federal Reserve bank, or else some of the Douglas county sales records have been mislaid. We rather think the fault for failure to give credit lies outside of Douglas county. State or coast headquarters, handling millions of individual sales, could not be blamed for temporarily mislaying a report or failing to keep records up to the minute.

But somewhere along the line, bond sales totalling around $56,000 have not been credited to Douglas county, and, as they say in the funny papers, "time's awastin'."

In order to obtain credit for meeting our quota of E bonds sales must be cleared through the Federal Reserve bank by July 31. It will take at least three days to get sales records to San Francisco. Therefore, July 27 is about the latest date upon which we can count to have sales credited.

The war bond committee relaxed its pressure when it was found that the quota had been reached. That has proved to have been an error. We should have kept the campaign at full heat. Plenty of money is available in Douglas county to bring our E bond sales well past the quota. We can't permit our county to be listed as failing to meet its assigned goal, particularly when we are so near the mark.

Do you remember how, after leading the state in meeting our monthly quota, we failed one month by just $1,000, and the next day a buyer came forward with a $15,000 purchase? Are we going to let that happen again?

Regardless of the fact that we well know our quota has been met and that the error probably will be discovered at some future date, we cannot fall short of the mark. We can't let them do that to us! We have the remedy at hand. Sales totalling $31,000 will put us in the clear.

We have no time to waste on campaigning. This is a matter for immediate voluntary action. If you have pride in your county and are able to buy one or more E bonds, get to your bank, postoffice or other issuing agency immediately and invest that money in bonds. Don't wait until Thursday, the very last day. Do it at the earliest opportunity.

It also is urged by the committee that concerns operating on the payroll plan and having purchase of bonds falling due Saturday, July 29, buy the bonds early in the week. Several thousand dollars worth of bonds will be bought with payroll deductions July 22 and again July 29. If these purchases can be combined and made early in the week of July 23, it will be of great aid in assuring the $31,000 we need to reach our goal.

Tojo has been kicked in the pants. Someone attempted to bomb Hitler and missed. We can help boot Tojo's successor and complete the job in which the assassin failed if we will buy bonds.

This is an emergency appeal. Buy more bonds! Buy now!

voices. For example, he says: "All I know is that there is strong evidence of a fine liberal sentiment here in Chicago, and it is encouraging. There is a tremendous ground swell of liberal sentiment—possibly a ground swell the like of which this country has not seen in many years—among the delegates to this convention."

IMAGINE that in this convention of political bosses and jobholders gathered to proclaim their belief that the time has arrived in America when ONLY ONE MAN is capable of leading us!

But Wallace BELIEVES it. He's that kind.

OPPOSITION to Wallace at Chicago fell into two classes: 1. Those who knew they had to swallow FDR, fourth term and all, but rebelled at swallowing Wallace again. 2. The shrewd, practical politicians who knew that Wallace would be a handicap rather than a help and who didn't want to carry any excess weight in this race. They could AFFORD handicaps when Wallace was shoved down their throats in 1940, but NOT NOW.

It was this second consideration that influenced FDR when he kissed Wallace off with his faintly praising letter.

BYRDS name was placed in nomination as a die-hard Southern gesture to prove that the convention wasn't unanimous.

HERE was a cynically revealing sidelight: Senator Truman, who is supposed to have received the nod of approval from on high, said to the reporters, "I will WIN. I wouldn't be in the race if FDR didn't approve."

Pat Alarson of Canon City, Colo., removed one heart, and then another, and still another from the hog he was dressing. Despite its three hearts, the hog had lived a normal life before being sent to slaughter.

DIAL LOG

By SUSAN.

Screen Test and all the rest of the good shows tonight. As a matter of fact, we're almost afraid to suggest that you listen on Saturday to anything special. However, by Sunday, we'll surely be back on the beam—so you can take a cross-country hop in a make-believe helicopter with Bobby Hooley and his pals. The take off from Hooley Hall is scheduled for 10:30. Mysterious Stranger at 2:30, and a new series of "Lest We Forget" is starting at 3:15. Then, dropping down to 6 o'clock you'll hear Walter Hampden, starring in the Adventures of Leonidas Witherall, and solving the case of the "Man Who Died Laughing"—6:30 and California Melodies, and at 8 o'clock a brand new program has its premiere. Presenting the world's most beloved hymns and other traditional religious music, the new concert series, "Music of Worship," will be conducted by Alfred Wallenstein. Sky Riders at 9:30 and Human Adventure at 9:30. The last named is being prepared for recording to be sent overseas for broadcast. This week their program will be "Valley of Death," a dramatization of the work of Dr. Howard Ricketts, who discovered the cause of Rocky Mountain spotted fever. That's about the story for this week end. Be seeing you on Monday.
