In the Day's News
 miles from Riga, on the Baltic.
 In the center, they have stormed across the Bug and are less than 100 miles from Warsaw—and still going.
 In the south, they have Lwow pretty well surrounded. The Germans seem to be blowing it up and getting ready to leave.

In Normandy, the weather stays pro-Nazi—as it has been from the beginning. Torrential rains bog down Montgomery's tanks
 east of Caen. Lowering skies continue to hamper our air operations. Pro-German rain pours on the Italian front.

ONE more rumor, before we quit for the day:
 The Vichy radio (German) says
 TURKEY IS COMING IN—ordering our ships into harbor, etc.
 If Turkey IS moving in, it is a dependable sign the Germans are cracking.

IT is not surprising to learn that our marines and infantry are pouring ashore on Guam. We've been preparing the way now for more than two weeks.
 Admiral Nimitz' communique says the landings are continuing
 "against MODERATE enemy ground resistance." That probably means that the resistance from the burrowed-under Japs is pretty tough.

After Saipan, they will fight
 like wildcats to hold Guam.
 GUAM is believed to be garrisoned
 by about 20,000 Japs—
 roughly the same as at Saipan. It has the same hills and caves and crevices as Saipan—and in these hills and caves and crevices the Japs may be expected to die to the last man as at Saipan.
 It will be a hard and bloody fight—but we will WIN. We have what it takes to win.

ON the home political front,
 OFDR was one of the minor casualties of the startling world developments of the past few days. For once, his luck in the TIMING of the news deserted him.
 He had planned a dramatic acceptance of his fourth nomination—traveling across the country in great secrecy (probably not over a half million people knowing about it) to a "bristling Pacific Coast wartime base" to take the microphone on the great night of the Chicago convention.
 The Germans and the Japs chose this time, of all times, to steal the spotlight with news so intriguing (even if phony) as to take possession of people's minds to the practical exclusion of everything else.

Fire Damage Slight
 A spot fire on the roof of the
 T. W. Suckling apartment house, 526 S. Main St., Roseburg, caused minor damage last night. The fire was discovered at midnight and was extinguished before it had spread to more than a small section of the roof.

THE NEED OF SINCERITY

By Charles V. Stanton

*The tumult and the shouting dies;
 The Captains and the Kings depart;
 Still stands the forlorn sacrifice,
 "Hunk" Wallace—gout of New Deal art.*

WE must humbly apologize for mutilation of Rudyard Kipling's beautiful lines, but now that the vice-president has been casually brushed off—drowned with faint praise—a victim of typical New Deal political double-cross, proving that the democrats have no hesitancy changing ONE horse in the middle of the stream, we simply couldn't resist the paraphrase. Not that we hold any brief for Wallace. Should anything happen which would prevent President Roosevelt from serving his full term, in the event of re-election, we believe Senator Truman would prove a far better substitute than Wallace. But no one can deny that Wallace received a raw deal from the New Deal.

MORAL: There's only ONE indispensable man! Now that the "Captains and the Kings" have departed from Chicago and the "tumult and the shouting" are on transcription platters, we can begin to examine into the pattern of the forthcoming political campaign. We can toss the platform into the discard. The president has never permitted himself to be bound by any platform or pre-election promises. The words look nice on paper and sound well on the air, but the time spent on composition was wasted insofar as any bearing they might have on the president's acts following election, unless he has changed mightily in the matter of keeping promises.

The convention has revealed the probable campaign trend. Mr. Roosevelt has donned the uniform and will parade as commander-in-chief. Instead of the fireside chats of the last contest, he will identify himself with the military departments of government, as he did when he broadcast his acceptance speech from a Pacific coast naval base. We may even be treated to speeches from foreign battlefields. Dewey is to be the campaign's Little Lord Fauntleroy, the republican Boy Scout, too youthful and inexperienced to even be considered as a possible commander-in-chief. The records of 1932-36 will be dusted off to form the background for the president's Great Humanitarian pose, carefully obscuring the fact that the administration has produced nothing but chaos and extravagance since the first term. He will be the ONLY man capable of international statesmanship. Coupled with smearing, mud-slinging and vilification, this probably will be the outline of the New Deal program.

What will be the republican theme? Dewey has shown his political astuteness by keeping his mouth shut. But he must start talking soon. We imagine one of Dewey's first acts will be to cast off the mantle of the reactionary, isolationist, die-hard G. O. P. and emerge as a spokesman for the liberal-thinking republicans. It's our opinion that if he doesn't, he's sunk. But will the republicans conduct a campaign based upon a positive approach to war, peace and domestic issues, or will they confine their efforts to carping-criticism, mud-slinging and "viewing with alarm?"

The New Deal left the party convention with the backing of the machine bosses, the malcontents, the special privilege groups the Hillman-led labor factions and radical forces, which, when counted with the millions of federal office holders who will vote to hold their jobs, form a considerable slice of our voting population, which already may be counted on the New Deal tally sheet. But the balance of power lies in a great group of sincere Americans who, if they are not to vote the New Deal into office for a fourth term, must be convinced of the need for a change. They can only be convinced by a sincere and honest approach, which carries assurance of correcting the obvious abuses of governmental authority prevalent today. If the republicans fail in sincerity, they will fail of election.

Nazi Prisoners Give Opinions on Upheaval at Home

CAEN, France, July 22 (AP)— Newly captured German prisoners, commenting on the attempted assassination of Hitler, said today they long had known of a bitter quarrel between the Fuehrer and the German high command.

"The generals want to get Hitler out and make a quick end of the war," said Corp. Werner, 49, of Munster, a member of an elite Nazi division. He was captured yesterday near Cagny.

"Of course the whole thing may be a fake to whip up sympathy of the German people for Hitler. Many of our people are sick to death of the war, but when they hear the leader narrowly escaped death they say, 'What a terrible thing to attack our poor dear Fuehrer!'" Asked how he felt personally about Hitler, Werner stiffened his shoulders and a fanatical gleam entered his eyes.
 "I put everything on him," he said. "I know things look bad for us, but I still think the Fuehrer has some secret great weapon that will win the war for Germany."
 He added that the German people were too afraid of the Gestapo to voice their feelings.
 Himmler Called "Butcher"
 Commenting on the announcement that Heinrich Himmler had taken control of the home armies of Germany, the prisoner said, "I've got to admit I don't think much of Himmler. He's a butcher. If anybody steps out of line it's on the wall—they'll be shot."
 "If Hitler were assassinated it would be a bad blow for Germany but Goering would immediately take over," said Karl Elghsen, a tanky youth who once served as Hitler's bodyguard and fought on the Russian front.

 "I know in my division there is a strong undercurrent of feeling against continuing the war. In the old days when we were winning, everything Hitler said went, but now the invasion of France has started, we have been left in a terrible pickle. We feel the one big thing now is to get the war over, whether we win or not."

G. O. P. Will Carry Northwest, Cake Tells Party Guide

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)— Herbert Brownell, Jr., chairman of the republican national committee, said he had received reports of "tremendous enthusiasm" and "bright prospects" for the Dewey-Bricker ticket in Oregon and Massachusetts, and that electoral votes of the entire northwest might go to the republicans.
 Brownell said at a press conference that the reports came from U. S. Senator Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts and Ralph Cake, national committeeman from Oregon.
 "Mr. Cake told me that after a conference with the republican state chairman of Oregon and the republican candidates for the U. S. Senate and congress from that state he was confident the Dewey-Bricker ticket would carry Oregon by a safe margin," the chairman declared.
 "Mr. Cake reported tremendous enthusiasm for the ticket in his state."

OUT OUR WAY

HEROES ARE MADE--NOT BORN

DIAL LOG

By SUSAN
 We missed Point Sublime last Monday night—being a conscientious gardener by spurs and spells—and they tell us we missed the best show they've had for months. Doggone it. Here's hoping the garden won't get so dried up this week-end because we'd sure hate to miss out on it again. We didn't hear Sherlock Holmes, either—by 10 o'clock we were plumb wore out, and in bed—but we'll try to catch up on all our listening tonight. "The Strange Case of the Aluminum Crutch" is tonight's episode—with death striking suddenly on the Scottish moors and Holmes' talent being extended to the utmost to discover the sinister murderer.
 Tomorrow 2. m. at 10:45 is American Woman's Jury—good entertainment here. How many times do you agree with the verdict of the jury as broadcast? Tuesday afternoon we'll practically promise you that you'll hear Welcome Inn at 2—remember that this is your request program and that this is Esther Belt at the piano. In the evening it's Esther Geddes at the organ, bringing you Music You Remember at 6:30. It seems that some confusion arose from the two Esthers, but they are two separate and distinct personalities. As a matter of fact, one's a blonde and the other a brunette, but they both play mighty purty music.

Impending Defeat Of Nazis Can't be Hid, Hull Declares

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)— Secretary of State Hull said today that Heinrich Himmler would not now be able to "conceal from the German people the fact that many German generals believe that Germany has lost the war."
 Hull described Himmler, to whom Hitler has delegated supreme authority within Germany, as Hitler's "chief executioner" and said the efforts to restore an appearance of unity in the high command were at this stage "frantic attempts."
 "Hull's comment, in part: 'The attack on Hitler and his explanatory speech clearly indicate that a realization of Germany's impending defeat is spreading in the reich. He and two of his most important military advisers have now denounced as criminal traitors a "clique of former generals who had to be chased from their posts for a leadership as cowardly as it was incompetent."
 "Hitler has furthermore been compelled to remove the chief of the German staff and to appoint his chief executioner, Heinrich Himmler, as commander of the army in Germany. These frantic attempts to restore the apparent unity of the German command illustrate the divergence of views between the army and the party which has developed as a result of the steadily deteriorating military position of Germany."

Eric Johnston Tells Dewey Of Russian Outlook

PAWLING, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—The restful atmosphere of his Quakerhill farm claimed Gov. Thomas E. Dewey again today after a busy week climaxed by a lengthy discussion of conditions in Russia with Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States chamber of commerce. Johnston returned July 13 from Russia, where he talked with Premier Joseph Stalin, visited factories, and was a front-line observer of the Russian army in action.

 He said he told the republican presidential nominee that the United States had "great trade opportunities with the Soviet union" but that the granting of "long-term credit to Russia "will be essential."
 By "long" credit terms, Johnston explained, he meant 15 to 30 years.
 Asserting the United States "can do any amount of business with Russia, depending entirely upon the length of credit terms," he said there is a "tremendous market" in the soviet for durable goods.
 Johnston said that "both as a republican and as a businessman," he would support Dewey.

Monetary Plans Call for U. S. To Put Up Top Sum

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., July 22 (AP)—The united nations monetary conference, after three weeks of hard work, comes to an end tonight with the signing of documents for an international monetary fund and a world bank for reconstruction and development.
 These two projects, which a conference resolution termed "important for peace and prosperity," subsequently will be put before the legislative bodies of 44 united and associated nations for approval.
 They are expected to come before the American congress some time early next year.
 The successful conclusion of the conference's labors was reached late yesterday with an agreement for an $8,800,000,000 reconstruction bank whose purpose will be to make loans and guarantee those of private investors in postwar reconstruction and development projects.
 The monetary fund, which also totals $8,800,000,000, is designed to promote international trade by providing foreign exchange, or currency, to those nations who may be short of it because they are unable to sell as much abroad as they import.
 Of the total bank capital, the United States will subscribe $3,175,000,000, the United Kingdom $1,300,000,000, the soviet union $900,000,000, China $600,000,000, and France $450,000,000, with the remainder apportioned among 39 other nations in varying amounts.
