doubt that the Germans set a lot of store by the robots.

ALLIED reconnaissance indicates that there is no fixed line of fortifications in France short of the old Maginot and Siegfried lines along the German borders.

That doesn't mean much. Fixed defenses have stopped NOBODY, ANYWHERE in this war. They didn't stop the Germans at the start, and they aren't stopping our side now.

BRITISH heavy bombers smack the German submarine pens at Brest to keep the nazis from moving their subs OUT.

That pretty well tells the tale. Only a little while back, we were doing our best to keep them from getting their subs out where they could attack us.

A minor, but maybe important, sidelight: French factory workers are reported to have started guerrilla warfare against the German occupation troops in Paris.

The Polish underground in Warsaw is believed to be running short of ammunition.

THE Russians are INSIDE East Prussia—actually fighting on German soil. Russian cavalry has galloped to within 30 miles of Krakow.

It is disclosed that a new allied air force is operating from bases in YUGOSLAVIA in support of Tito.

THE lack of fighting in Romania, where the bulk of the German natural oil comes from, leads us to suspect rather strongly that the Russians are planning to push over the Carpathians and boom down the Danube, thus cutting Romania off.

FAIRLY big news comes from the South Pacific. General Terushima's Jap 2nd army is reported to be retreating from the entire western end of New Guinea.

New Guinea has got too hot for the little yellow men to hold, and instead of staying to die they're trying to get out to fight again. Stern necessity may be teaching the monkey-men some rudiments of common sense.

THE Pacific is relatively quiet so far as sensational developments are concerned. It won't stay that way long.

THE fact that Congressman Hamilton Fish won out again in New York, in spite of all that

INSULT TO AMERICANS

By Charles V. Stanton

UNDER the heading "An Insult to Oregon," the Oregon Journal in a recent issue said:

There is a brief, two-syllabled word that describes the assignment by the national OPA administration of an "expert" from Washington, D. C., to check up on the lamb situation in Oregon. The action is an insult. It is a check-up on whether we tell the truth.

The Journal could have added that similar recommendations were made by the Oregon State Grange, the Oregon Farm Bureau, the Wool Growers Association, the Farmers Union, and the economic division of the Oregon State college.

We concur fully in the Journal's conclusion: The "experts" coming is an insult. Rationing of lamb in this area should be suspended immediately in behalf of housewives, markets, farmers and the industry.

But why limit bureaucratic crassness to the OPA? Do not all federal bureaus, departments, agencies and officials treat the American people as if they were liars, cheats, chislers, incompetents, ignoramuses and dopes?

We could say, parenthetically, that the New Deal might well be justified in such conclusions, seeing that the American people have been "dopey" enough to keep the outfit in power for three terms and possibly a fourth.

Our veracity is insulted at every turn by the OPA. Our competence is insulted by the WPB and the WMC. Our patriotism is insulted by censorship which challenges our ability to absorb bad news.

The press was banned from the Teheran conference, concerning which a report was dictated from the White House. The press has been denied access to the international food conference, the Bretton Woods conference on world monetary affairs, and reporters will be excluded from the International oil conference.

A foolish censorship denies to newspapers the right to publish items of news, which are then made public by dignitaries, such as the recent revelation by Congressman Magnuson of the soviet route for flying warplanes from the United States.

The "insult" is not alone to Oregon; it affects all of the American public.

We learn from the American Forest Products Industries, Inc., that there are sixteen species of wood, native to this country, which will not float in water, making them ideal for the Japanese navy, which seems to have the same complaint.

could be done to stop him, was generally passed over in the rush of big news. The big reason, probably, was that too many OUTSIDERS butted in. American voters usually resent that sort of thing.

Fish has been set up by his enemies as THE symbol of "isolationism." Isolationism, in the sense of ostrich-like hiding of our heads in the sand, is as dead as the dodo.

But this writer thinks it will become apparent the moment the war is over that the rank and file of Americans don't want to RUN THE WORLD. They will be willing to cooperate in running the world ONLY to the extent of stopping wars before they get TOO BIG TO STOP.

Some trace of this may have entered into Fish's victory.

SNAP PROBLEM KANSAS CITY Ten-year-old Billy Ithoades, weeping wildly, and a procession of worried playmates and housewives streamed into the dental office of Dr. J. Briggs Rice.

Through the confusion came explanations. Billy had been playing with this creature, and all of a sudden it had grabbed him. Dr Rice used a forceps to put the pressure on its jaws, it relaxed its grip on Billy's lower lip and the six-inch turtle fell to the floor.

DIAL LOG

By SUSAN. Something for the Girls tonight (our apologies to you for mixing the programs last week) brings you Morton Gould and his orchestra and Alec Templeton, the world-famous pianist.

Nothing special to mention except that you'll find good listening on Wednesday, too. As a matter of fact, lots of changes are coming along shortly—the usual rearrangement as shows return from their summer vacations and new shows start; but at the moment we're a little confused.

Applications for Big Game Tags Are Closed

No more applications will be accepted by the Oregon State Game Commission for the following special big game tags: Grant-Baker doe deer; antlerless elk; or Hart mountain buck and doe deer. As the number of applications exceeded the quota of these tags, drawings were held on August 2 to determine the successful applicants.

Plenty of antelope tags are available and these are now being issued in the order applications are received. To apply for an antelope tag, it is necessary to forward the fee of $2.50 for a resident or $5 for a non-resident, together with information as to the number and kind of hunting license held by the applicant.
