In the Day's News

THE landings were made along the Riviera coast, to the east of the mouth of the Rhone. The level valley of the Rhone, one of the historic routes for invasion of Europe from the south, stretches northward from Marseilles.

British General Matland, allied commander in the Mediterranean, says: "Our purpose is to join up with the allied armies advancing from Normandy."

When these armies meet, France will have been practically liberated from the Germans.

THE comparative ease with which the landings seem to have been made suggests that the Germans may be getting out of all of France as swiftly as they can. As to that, only time can tell.

IN the Normandy pocket, von Kluge's 7th German army is still fighting for its life. News of this mighty battle is scarce as this is written, but von Kluge's escape route has been narrowed to less than ten miles.

He is said to be bringing in reinforcements where they are coming from, if he is surrounded all but 10 miles, not being apparent but the dispatches assert that they are 80% "slave troops," tossed in as a rear guard sacrifice in an effort to save his best troops and his armor.

We shall have to wait a little longer to learn whether his army is destroyed as we hope.

EISENHOWER says: "The Germans (in Normandy) held on TOO LONG, and underestimated our strength."

That is always a bad mistake. It is the job of the high command to AVOID such mistakes. That is what high commands are for.

Eisenhower's statement strengthens the belief that Hitler has killed off too many of his generals.

THE Russians, striking from the southeast, storm across the Biebrza river, the last major natural obstacle between them and East Prussia. They are following a railroad and a highway through the marshy, bog-strewn Masurian lakes country that guards East Prussia's southern border.

They are inching nearer to Warsaw and to Krakow. They are methodically liquidating the Germans trapped in the Baltic states.

THERE has been no recent news from the small neutral and satellite nations. They must be getting almost frightened enough to do something drastic. The time to make peace is drawing nearer, and so far they have no chips to lay on the table.

EISENHOWER, speaking to those whose inclination is to jump too quickly to conclusions, says: "The Germans on the Normandy front are taking a sound beating, but we are still a long way from the Rhine."

No one can say WHEN the

PROOF OF CIVIC PRIDE

By Charles V. Stanton

CIVIC pride and enthusiasm of any community can usually be measured by activities of its chamber of commerce. If residents of a community really feel their home town is a good place in which to live, they will want to promote its welfare and invite others to share its benefits with them.

Not only has the organization maintained close contact with the community's development, anticipating and meeting needs resulting from rapid growth, but it is looking into the future and is at work on many projects of greatest importance. Some of these projects, when brought to successful conclusion, will be of untold benefit.

The report covering the first six months of the year is modest and sketches only in broad terms work which has demanded a great deal of time, energy and sacrifice on the part of many officers and members.

Placed in operation a new system of membership, finance, project and inquiry records.

Established a program of dues collection on a quarterly, semi-annual and annual basis at a great saving of time, energy and expense.

Given full cooperation to the raising of funds for the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Salvation Army and other worthy organizations.

Made a contribution of time, energy and some funds to the successful completion of the 4th and 5th War Loan campaigns.

Enrolled 141 members in the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce $500 War Bond club with a total of over $90,000 worth of E bonds sold.

Spearheaded a movement towards the organization of a Douglas County Recreational district according to the Reedsport plan.

Brought into operation a modest and rapidly growing recreational program for the City of Roseburg.

Assisted in promoting a program of improving the North Umpqua highway and East Second Avenue South which will cost more than $200,000; costs to be borne by the NRA, highway commission, lumber industry, county court and the City of Roseburg.

Sponsored an application for federal aid to assist in financing an addition to Meroy hospital.

Answered 514 written inquiries regarding Roseburg and Douglas county.

Furnished the members of the realty board with a list of 238 persons indicating a desire to invest in real estate in this area.

Initiated a program calling for better rail transportation service through Douglas, Coos and Curry counties. This movement is supported by civic organizations in those counties and there are some indications that it may succeed.

Organized a local unit of the Civil Air Patrol, which is furnishing a large number of our young people an opportunity to receive special training in subjects related to military and civil aviation.

It would be interesting in connection with the above report to have a statement of total man-hours expended by officers and members in carrying out the tasks enumerated. Business men these days are harassed by many worries and cares. They must devote many overtime hours to their own enterprises. All are lacking in qualified help. Yet there has been a general willingness on the part of business men to take time they can so ill afford to lose from their private interests to labor industriously for and with the chamber of commerce. It is only because of such enthusiasm in civic matters that an outstanding report is possible. A chamber of commerce cannot operate successfully without the whole-hearted support and cooperation of all its members. The report quoted above is ample proof of community pride and optimism concerning future welfare.

Pitchers Play top Roles in Pacific Coast Ball Games

(By the Associated Press.) Pitchers stole the show in Coast league baseball yesterday, three six-hit games being pitched while two hurlers helped materially at bat.

Southpaw Fischer of Seattle stopped the Portland Beaver win streak at seven straight for a 3 to 2 victory in which he scored twice and batted in the third run.

The Hollywood stars gained a 2 to 1 win over San Francisco when Mihasek, Star hurler, slammed out a hit in the tenth inning to drive in the winning score. Mihasek scattered six hits while his mates were reaching Seats for 12.

San Diego defeated Sacramento, 3 to 1, when Salkeld slapped out a two-run double in the fifth inning. Joe Wood, Jr., won his second straight from the Padres with a six hit performance.

Oakland and Los Angeles split a doubleheader, the Angels win-

Derringer Gets Divorce From "Pitching" Spouse

CHICAGO, Aug. 17—(AP)—Paul Derringer of the Cubs testified yesterday his wife, Eloise, also can pitch but instead of a baseball she used a cocktail, a skillet and a dinner plate, all thrown at him.

Her hurling constituted cruelty, the 39-year-old moundman alleged, and Judge Joseph Sabath granted him a divorce. Derringer and his wife agreed to share custody of their 4-year-old daughter, Leda, for six months periods. An out-of-court property settlement was reached. They were married Aug. 19, 1937, and separated July 1, 1944.

DIAL LOG

By S. S. No. 3

Yassuh, it has been a nice week for mail from you good neighbors. Quite a few letters and cards of appreciation for certain programs, some good constructive criticism in one or two. Yuh gotta speak up and hold out for your rights (and lefts) so drop us a line whenever you feel so inclined. I feel like the man who was "indicated" on two counts by one of our newscasters one time. There's a job of stuff to tell you about tonight and Friday, so here she comes:

Thursday: Esther Geddes at the pipe organ with Music You Remember at 6:30. The Male Quartet at 6:45. Something for the Girls, starring Jean Cagney, (sister of James of the movies). Cisco Kid gets a new spot at 8 tonight, and Sky Riders, a quiz show with balloons at 8:30 (try this one for size). Friday: Auction news at 6:55. Voice of the Army gets an afternoon spot at 2:30. Don't forget Dusty Records at 3:15. Bible Adventures at 5. Superman and Tom Mix immediately following. Double or Nothing originates at Hartford, Conn., to salute the Underwood Fisher company. Name that Song at 8:30.

Frank Taylor is Elected Northwest Kiwanis Head

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 17—Frank Taylor, Tacoma insurance man, is the new district governor for the Pacific Northwest district of Kiwanis International, having been elected by acclamation at the closing sessions of the convention in Eugene Tuesday. He succeeds Charles W. Howard of Walla Walla, Wash.

Invitation of the Kelso and Longview clubs for the 1945 district convention was accepted. The invitation was extended on the standing plan that should the war be over the convention goes to Vancouver, B. C., the Kelso-Longview groups to be protected with three months notice preceding the meeting next summer.

Lieutenant governors elected include Clyde Williamson, Albany, Ore., Division 10.

Compulsory Military Training Urged by Vets

CINCINNATI, Aug. 17—(AP)—The annual encampment of United States war veterans here, unanimously adopted a resolution favoring compulsory military training after the war. The resolution declared "we must see to it that the boys comprising our fighting force shall never again be sent into battle barefoot and unarmed."

New Gun Sight Assures Air Shooting Accuracy

LONDON, Aug. 17—(AP)—A gyroscopic gun sight described officially as "almost uncanny in its accuracy" now is in use on RAF fighter planes, the air ministry disclosed tonight. The sight, details of which were not disclosed, eliminates to the last degree the chances of error due to human failure, the ministry added.

Lt. Col. M. W. Bell Heads Record Unit Of Bombardiers

AT A 12th AAF B-25 BASE—Lieutenant Colonel Maynard W. Bell, Roseburg, former News-Review sports editor, is the executive officer in a headquarters group of a "Twelfth air force B-25 bombardier unit" which has set the record of 500 bombing missions over enemy territory. Five hundred is the largest number of missions flown by any bombardier group, either heavy or medium, in the Mediterranean theater of operations.

Departing from the United States November, 1942, Colonel Bell has been stationed in Tunisia, North Africa and Algeria. He has been awarded the European Middle-East African campaign ribbon with three battle stars, the American Defense Service medal.

Colonel Bell's group has fought in some of the most vital battles in Tunisia, Sicily and Italy. Recently, it has specialized in blasting pinpoint targets during the "operational strangle" of German forces in Italy.

Colonel Bell graduated from the University of Oregon, and is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. His wife, Evelyn Marie, resides at 829 Reservoir Ave., Roseburg.

One in Every 6 Americans Found Physically Unfit

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—(AP)—One in every six Americans is physically handicapped, a house labor subcommittee has found after a survey designed to work out a program of aid. Chairman Kelley (D-Pa.) said that study also showed 3,000,000 persons in the nation confined to bed or wheel chairs.

Continual advance of therapeutics may lift some of these cases from the "hopeless" category, the committee said in a statement.

Other findings were that 800,000 persons are permanently injured in industry each year and an average of only 30,000 are rehabilitated by federal, state and private programs.

Ella Sproule versus the "Horseless Carriage"

Miss Ella Sproule is a town legend. Never could get used to automobiles. Said there ought to be a law to ban the pesky things.

Take the question of Prohibition versus Moderation. Ever today, after Prohibition's dismal failure, you can hear well-meaning people say: "There ought to be another law."

From where I sit, there ought to be, instead, more facing of the facts—more realization that no law can ever take the place of tolerance and moderation, and decent law enforcement under proper regulation.
