

Congressmen Act On Cattle Outlook

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Northwestern congressmen formed a committee yesterday to try for "a stable market and price for cattle."

Headed by Rep. White (D-Ida.) the group, in executive session, discussed with Harry Reed of the meat section of the War Food administration, the fears of stockmen that unattractive prospects for feeders will cause a glut of processed cattle on the markets this fall.

E. Mellin, secretary of the National Stockgrowers association, telephoned that the situation depended on how feed crops come through the midwest drought and Leon Weeks, secretary of the Idaho Cattleman's association, said feed lot operators were not buying because of the high feed cost, a shortage of labor and concern over the end of the war.

War food administration figures, White told the committee indicate that the nation's cattle population for 1944 will be 82,200, 600 head or "four to seven million more than we will have feed for this winter."

Allies Extend Southern France Beachhead

ed they had abandoned Cannes, there was no announcement here of an entry into that town. Indications were that the eastern front of the beachhead was relatively stable.

An official announcement said French troops had overcome the last enemy resistance in the Cap Benat region on the coast 21 miles east of Toulon.

A force of German motor torpedo boats attempted to attack ships landing troops Thursday night, the navy announced. Allied destroyers sank four of them and repulsed the others.

Germans still on the islands of Sainte Marguerite and Saint Honorat, south of Cannes, have been firing on allied troops on the mainland from heavy calibre guns installed there.

Rail Equipment Blasted.
The Mediterranean allied air forces announced that in the first three days of the invasion a Thunderbolt group commanded by Col. Earl Bates, Winnetka, Ill., destroyed or damaged 225 freight cars, 195 motor vehicles, two locomotives, 20 coastal guns, 16 grounded planes, an ammunition dump, supply dump and a German headquarters.

Of ten enemy aircraft shot down yesterday, the majority fell to fighters escorting American bombers attacking the Ploesti area in Romania. The MAAF lost 21 planes.

Bombers humiliated German communications and gunposts in the invasion zone, while for the first time since the fall of Yugoslavia to the Germans in 1941 Yugoslav pilots flew over their homeland. They were flying Spitfires in the RAF wing of the Balkan air force.

Units of Marshal Tito's eastern Yugoslav partisan army have captured the enemy base of Boljevac, 20 miles from the Bulgarian border, and liberated a large area in that vicinity, a Yugoslav broadcast communique said today.

that postwar credit be made accessible to reliable war veterans and to firms seeking to resume civilian production.

Military Training Urged.
The report suggested that controls over commodities, prices and wages be abandoned as soon as practicable; advocated ownership or control of island outposts and bases essential to the national security; recommended the development of home and foreign markets for the farmer's products, and urged universal military training.

The commission covered the subject of victory in 22 words: "complete and conclusive victory in these wars is the first prerequisite of an enduring peace and a sound and expanding national economy."

Air Medal Given Sgt. E. N. Palmer For War Service

Staff Sergeant Ernest N. Palmer, 241 S. Flint St., Roseburg, armorer gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress, has been awarded the air medal for "meritorious achievement" while participating in sustained combat operations over enemy occupied continental Europe, according to word received from the Eighth army air forces headquarters in England.

The citation accompanying the award reads in part: "The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this enlisted man upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States."

Sergeant Palmer is a brother of H. D. Palmer, Roseburg barber, and prior to enlistment was employed as an automobile mechanic and bodyman at the Doyle Wrecking yards.

He received his training as an airplane mechanic at Gulfport, Miss., and Kingman, Ariz., and was later transferred to training as an aerial gunner. In his present capacity he has charge of the plane's armament in addition to serving as a waist gunner in action.

His first combat action started with the invasion of the Norman peninsula and he has already piloted up sufficient missions to have earned an oak leaf cluster to accompany his medal.

ger, said pickets in automobiles had been following company trucks and attempting to picket their deliveries. He said trouble started last March when employees voted against joining the union and set up their own union. This, he said, subsequently was disallowed by the national labor relations board as company dominated.

Resort Changes Hands.
PORTLAND, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Dorchester house, well-known resort hotel near Ogunquit, was purchased today by Ernest H. Arbi, Portland. Former owners were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Walker.

Reds Trap Three German Divisions

(By the Associated Press)
Three German divisions were reported trapped today north of Sandomierz, citadel on the west bank of the Vistula captured by the red army. A heavy counter-attack by German armor drove a wedge into Russian lines west of the Lithuanian city of Siauliai, but Moscow said that it apparently was not a serious setback.

Moscow broadcast said the Russians had reached the East Prussian border at new but unspecified points and reported, "fighting on the threshold of East Prussia grows fiercer every hour" but the speed of the soviet offensive never slackens. Berlin said the Russians had thrown more than 150,000 men into the battle for East Prussia on an 80-mile front from Augustow in northern Poland to the Niemen river in western Lithuania.

Seine and the jaws of the Patton trap.

British troops captured elements of 18 German divisions yesterday. Germans still caught in the Normandy trap were declared to be struggling chaotically to escape eastward.

While the American Third army held the Germans compressed within a 70-mile wall of armor stretching from a point near Argentan to Dreux, Americans, British, Canadians, Poles, Dutch and Belgians drove the Germans in a confused mass toward the northeast.

French Post Successes.
Maj. Gen. Joseph Koenig announced his French resistance forces had occupied 70 villages and that all police of the Saone-Et-Loire department, 150 miles southeast of Paris in Burgundy, have joined the patriots. The villages were in a triangular area near Troyes, 85 miles southeast of Paris.

A surprise American fighter bomber attack yesterday flattened a big German headquarters in the forest south of Orleans.

The German radio said Marshal Petain and his collaborationist government were moving from Vichy to an unidentified new capital. As American tank spearheads were reported battling German security forces south of Paris, Vichy Chief of State Pierre Laval was said to have fled the capital.

From Turkey came a fresh report indicating that Bulgaria intended to break from Germany and sue for peace. Premier Bagdasarov, addressing the Bulgarian parliament, made what amounted to an appeal to the United States and Britain that they help Bulgaria get out of the war.

Remember the Apple Days?

Remember those grim days

during the Great Depression when men who couldn't find work stood on street corners selling apples?

Many of those apple peddlers had been prosperous... had had good jobs. They'd been making extra money... just as you are today. But the trouble was, they thought things would always be like that.

Are you making that mistake today?

Or are you saving your extra money so that no matter what happens after the war you will have some money you can get your hands on?

The best way to make sure that you will never be a street-corner peddler is to put your extra money into War Bonds.

War Bonds are the best investment in the world. Every $3 you put into them today will pay you back $4 ten years from now. And... best of all... you can never be broke while you've got a sheaf of War Bonds in your pocket!

So buy War Bonds...and more War Bonds.

And hang on to them!
