MR. AND MRS. BILLINGS ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE OF THEIR DAUGHTER, JOYCE

YONCALLA — Mr. and Mrs. Hal Billings announce the marriage of their daughter, Joyce Maxine Billings to Robert Edwin Hoagland, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hoagland of Crosswell. The wedding took place Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 6, in the parsonage of the Methodist church, with Rev. Mrs. C. L. Camp officiating. There were no attendants. The bride wore an afternoon dress of light blue wool, and a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a popular Yoncalla girl, having graduated from Yoncalla high school with the class of 1944. The groom is ship cook third class. After a short honeymoon, the happy couple will leave for Seattle, Wash., where the groom will attend a training school.

Those present at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Hoagland, parents of the groom and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Campbell and son, James.

FINE CONCERTS PLANNED BY ASSOCIATION FOR THE COMING YEAR

The Community Concert Association board is making extensive plans for a fine year of entertainment for the members, according to an announcement made today by the president, Miss Gladys H. Strong. Members of the association have been given the opportunity of renewing their memberships this week and are asked to get them in by Sept. 15, after which new members will be taken into the organization.

Music lovers throughout the county showed their interest last year by joining the association and making it possible to bring world-renowned artists to Roseburg in concert. Members only are privileged to attend the concerts, as no tickets are ever sold for any one concert. No new memberships are accepted following the close of the campaign. Adult memberships are $5 plus the government amusement tax of 20 per cent and student memberships are $2 plus the 20 per cent tax.

McCormack Raps Dewey's Talk on Demobilization

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—House Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts today accused Governor Thomas E. Dewey of "brazen disregard of the truth to get votes" when he charged the democratic administration with failing to plan for demobilization of the armed forces.

McCormack told the house that the republican presidential nominee "hit below the belt" in his recent Philadelphia and Louisville speeches, "in an attempt to create a false issue."

"Discussing Dewey's charge, McCormack said that "he will stop at nothing to try and get votes."

Dewey, in his opening campaign speech at Philadelphia quoted Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, as having said that "we can keep people in the army about as cheaply as we could create an agency for them when they are out."

The democratic leader said that "no connection with the War Department" Governor Dewey knows or ought to have known that General Hershey has nothing whatsoever to do with demobilization.

"The democratic leader said that the War department announced demobilization plans the day before Dewey's Philadelphia speech and furthermore, that congress has considered the question in detail."

"It is made it the charge without the knowledge of the War department, order," McCormack asserted, "he should do the manly thing and undo whatever harm he has already done. He should publicly admit that he seriously erred."

General Hershey has absolutely no connection with the War Department. Governor Dewey knows or ought to have known that General Hershey has nothing whatsoever to do with demobilization.

McCormack said that "he will stop at nothing to try and get votes."

Dewey, in his opening campaign speech at Philadelphia quoted Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, as having said that "we can keep people in the army about as cheaply as we could create an agency for them when they are out."
