Smith River Job Again Urged On U. S. Government

REDSPOUR — Members of the Port of Umpqua commission, in its regular monthly meeting, in this city last Monday, petitioned the commerce committee of the United States senate, through Senator Guy Cordon, a member of the committee requesting a review of a former project adversely reported on during the second session of the 73rd congress.

The project concerns improvement of Smith river, in Douglas county, by dredging and other improvements to navigation. At that time the committee decided that owing to conditions this improvement was not necessary.

Considerable change in those conditions are noticeable at this time as the Smith river has shoals in places and bents which distribute mail to the residents on the river find that their progress is becoming more haphazard.

The government owns a vast amount of timber in this region and to make it, as well as privately owned timber, available to market, log rafts on Smith river must be used. A number of logging companies are operating in this area cutting logs for the mills at Gardiner and Reedsport and they are finding it difficult to float these logs to market on account of river shoals. Immediate improvement of the river by the government is quite necessary.

Wanted—Lady to care for children age 1 and 2, daily, from 8:30 to 6:00. Preferably at my home. Mrs. Virginia Morris, Hillcrest Motel.
