Communist Assn. Backing Roosevelt, Browder Testifies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Earl Browder testified today some members of his dissolved communist party are affiliated with the CIO political action committee and also AFL groups, but he refused to give any names.

The testimony was elicited through questions put by Rep. Brown (R., Ohio) of the house campaign expenses committee.

Browder, one-time general secretary of the communist party in the United States, outlined the steps by which the communist political association succeeded the old communist party with himself as the head of both. He said his organization of 100,000 is supporting President Roosevelt for re-election but isn't spending or soliciting any money in a "partisan" sense.

The campaign expenses committee today voted to subpoena records of the Committee for Constitutional Government after it refused to submit a list of contributions and the source.

The committee was founded by Publisher Frank E. Gannett of New York state, who insisted at a recent hearing that it is not engaged in politics but merely strives to "educate" the people in favor of constitutional government.

Price Ceilings for Concord Grapes to Be Issued Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The preliminary draft of a price regulation covering concord grapes for fresh market sales is for a ceiling of $35 a ton plus packing allowances in most states for which maximum prices are being set, it was learned today.

The proposed regulation, under final study, sets the $35 ceiling in all grape states except Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, where the price contemplated is $52 a ton, plus packing charges.

These same prices, without packing allowances, are the proposed processor ceilings. It was understood. The suggested ceilings are slightly higher for some states than those of last year.

OPA announced yesterday it was not planning any change in the present maximum prices of table grapes for home consumption. Provisions of the concord regulation are due to be announced in the next few days.

The driver told police he passed up some Negro soldiers at a downtown stop and they followed his bus to the depot. The soldiers threatened him, he said. A police escort conducted the bus to the interstate bridge and another bus, with military police in charge, hauled the soldiers.
