DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS
To a False Patriot.
He came obedient to the call. He might have shirked like half his mates, who while their comrades fight and fall. Still he goes to swell the front-line ranks. And you, a patriot in your prime, you waved a flag above his head and hoped he'd have a high old time, and slapped him on the back and said you'll show 'em what we British are. Give us your hand old pal, to shake, and look him round from bar to bar and made him drunk for England's sake.

That's how you helped him yesterday. Clear-eyed and earnest, keen and hard. He held himself the soldier's way. And now they've got him under guard. "You don't hurt you; you're all right; your easy conscience takes no blame. But he, poor boy, with morning's light, he cuts his heart out sick with shame. What's that to you? You understand nothing of all his bitter pain. You have no regiment to brand; you have no uniform to stain. No vow of service to abuse. No pledge to king and country due. But he had something dear to lose. And he has lost it thanks to you. (Punch.)"

Organization Formed to Block Return of Japs

KENT, WASH., Oct. 5 (AP)—An organization to "map out an orderly program for preventing the Japs from resettling" in the White River and Puyallup valleys was formed here yesterday by the district's farmers, business and professional men. Called the "Remember Pearl Harbor" league, the group was formed by elected representatives from Renton, Kent, Auburn, Sumner, Puyallup, Orton and Pile, according to Benjamin Smith, Kent dairyman and president of the group. The organization was started when reports were published that Japanese were being permitted to return to the district. Japanese operated extensive truck farms in both valleys before the exclusion act of 1942. Stephen Chadwick, Seattle attorney and former national commander of the American Legion has been retained to represent the league.

Shortage of Substitute For Butter Predicted

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Margarine manufacturers, reporting heavy demands for their product from consumers unable to buy butter, predict a shortage of the butter substitute. The industry is operating on a government quota basis, making 167 per cent of its production in the basic years of 1940-41. Until about a year ago this quota was set at 180 per cent. J. W. Dickinson, vice-president of the John E. Jellico Company, said today that the government would have to increase the allocation if more margarine was to be provided because of the butter shortage. Dr. Harry A. Ruehe, executive secretary of the American butter institute, said the butter supply is "very, very short," and added there was little chance for improvement until late November or early December.

He also urged additional health facilities, expansion of the campus by buying new land for an athletic field, and erection of a student union building.
