Douglas Entries Win Awards At State 4-H Exhibit

Douglas county entries at the 4-H state exhibit held in Portland Oct. 9 to 13, took their share of the awards in the division they were listed in.

Maxine Wright of Daves Creek was awarded championship in Division IV of canning. Red awards in canning were made to Wyllys Insley, Green, Division I; Colleen Moore of Edenhower, Division II; and Lila Meredith of Look-Inealass, Division III. Dolores Ballou of Idlewild Park received a red ribbon award on her knitting and Crystal Helms of Idlewild a white award in her knitting.

Betty Lou Weseman and Maxine Wright were given red awards on their homemaking exhibits. On the clothing exhibits taken to Portland, Barbara Townsend of Riddle and JoAnne Brant of Yoncalla both received red awards.

Maxine Wright was also among the blue award winners in the Style Revue. She placed second in the division she entered. Marjorie Wright of Myrtle Creek received a red award on her canning exhibit for the Hazel Atlas canning contest.

Marjorie Zeller, Brockway, competed with girls from 21 other counties in the Sprinkles sugar canning contest and Alice Welch of Daves Creek in the Northwest Yeast company bread-baking contest. Both girls were well up toward the top in both contests.

The state exhibit was held in the Meler & Frank auditorium. There were over 1400 exhibits at the show, consisting of clothing, homemaking, cooking, canning, gardening, woodworking, forestry, farm crops and rose and flower. In addition to the exhibits, the winning team from each county gave a demonstration. The dollar dinner contest also drew a lot of interest.

The livestock part of the show was held at the Portland Union stockyards where over 600 head of fat steers, hogs and sheep were exhibited and then sold at auction.

"This must be the last war," He is on the program of the New York Herald Tribune forum.

Mr. Roosevelt, who is to speak next on Saturday night, indicated Tuesday that he would talk about the siting up dissension over relatively minor details of the proposed world peace organization rather than keeping the grand objective in view.

Asserting a lot of people are trying to foster dissension over relatively minor aspects of the peace proposals, Mr. Roosevelt said he was getting awfully fed up with such tactics.

Of the Dumbarton Oaks conferences he said the security agreements might not necessarily guarantee peace forever but they could guarantee peace for our lives.

Other Disagreements
In a Chicago speech, Senator Bridges (R-N. H.) talked of the CIO Political Action committee headed by Sidney Hillman as "the Hillman gang" and said this group of fourth tier supporters is the "most destructive force that has yet appeared on our political horizon."

Democratic Chairman Hannegan said at New York that "Governor Dewey's brain trust apparently has no more ideas" and therefore Dewey in his St. Louis speech Monday night "repeated his falsifications on what he calls the 'Roosevelt depression' and the demobilization program of the army."

Republican Chairman Brownell, commenting on yesterday's disclosure that Mr. Roosevelt will give a speech in Philadelphia Oct. 27, said that "the jitters in the democratic high command seem to have reached up to the White House."

Mayor Kelly of Chicago told a group of Roosevelt supporters they could assume the president also will speak there before the election.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) told a democratic rally in Oberlin, Ohio, that Dewey is "now revealing himself as the brilliant and tricky lawyer trying to win the government of this country away from the people for big business."

Ball Defers Decision
Senator Ball (R-Minn.), an ardent advocate of international cooperation, told reporters he plans to listen to both the Dewey and Roosevelt foreign policy broadcasts and then announce which candidate he will support.

Replying to former Gov. Charles Edison's prediction to Mr. Roosevelt yesterday that New Jersey would go for Dewey next month because of what Edison termed the independent voters' dislike for Mayor Frank Hague's democratic organization in Jersey City, Hague said in a statement that "when the votes are counted Mr. Edison will have a rude awakening as a political prophet."

Another democratic mavor, Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, told a political rally last night that a republican victory would mean jubilation in Berlin and might have repercussions in England, Russia and South America.

In Louisiana's Sixth congressional district, Rep. James H. Morrison was re-nominated by about 3,000 votes over his second primary opponent, State Senator H. Alva Brumfield of Baton Rouge, on the basis of nearly complete unofficial returns.

Tonight's radio program includes a speech by Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) at 5:15 p. m. and a five-minute talk at 5:55 PWT (NBC) by Josephine Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., publisher.

Old School Property Near Reedsport Changes Hands
REEDSPORT — The old North Fork school building, together with the acre of ground on which it stands, was sold at public auction at the city hall in Reedsport last Saturday to William Cookson of Smith River, who bid in the ground and structure at $300. Within 20 minutes after the sale he again sold the property to John A. and Henry B. Wroe. It is said, at an advance of $100 above the price he paid. The building and grounds adjoin the Wroe property and they have been occupying the building as a residence since the school closed a number of years ago and the district was consolidated with the Smith River school district.

Tuberculosis authorities say the disease might be conquered by 1960 if every man, woman and child could be tested.

Roosevelt Praises War Fund Giving

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt in a nationwide radio appeal on behalf of war fund drives said last night that larger contributions to community war funds represent "democracy at its best" and demonstrate there is no letdown in the nation's unity.

Through war fund donations, he said, "we send a token of our own personal friendship to the brave victims of brute slavery and to those who have so long borne the burden of fighting this war."

"This gift—this expression of our free will—comes from the heart of the nation," he said. "We send a token of our own personal friendship to the brave victims of brute slavery and to those who have so long borne the burden of fighting this war."

The Pusan bulletin did not mention the fighting in Hungary, but it announced advances in northern Transylvania overran more than 80 communities, including Pannose, two miles from the Csernato-Ukraine—a thrust that placed this force within 30 miles of a junction with another driving down from southern Poland.

U. S. Third army troops drove to within four miles of the fortress city of Metz on the central sector, and on the southern end of the 460-mile allied line, French First army troops made gains on the slopes of the Vosges mountains before Belfort.

American troops in Italy advanced nearly a mile north of captured Livermano on highway 65 in their advance on ancient Bologna. In the Adriatic sector British troops driving into the Po valley captured a few more yards of the Rimini-Bologna highway.
