DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

There must be no bitterness in the reconstructed world. No matter what we have undergone, we must try to forgive those who have injured us. The teachings of Christ radiate ideas that should elevate the soul of man far above the common passions of hate and degradation. Jesus taught us to help our unfortunate fellow-beings to work and strive for their betterment. It may be difficult for us not to feel bitterness for the injuries we have suffered, but we must remember that recrimination and hatred will lead us nowhere. We should use our energy to better purpose. So that every nation will be enabled to use its native genius and energy for the reconstruction of permanently progressive world, with all nations participating on a just basis. The goal of our common struggle at the conclusion of the war should be to shape the future so that this world must be thought of as one great state. Christ taught us to hate the evil in men, but not the men themselves. Only thus can "righteousness cover the earth as the waters cover the seas." Amen.
