THOMAS E. DEWEY Says:

"We need a house cleaning in Washington. I should like to clean house on those political satellites."

House Cleaning
Which have fastened themselves on your pocketbooks and mine for twelve years. I should like to get rid of that crew to whom my opponent is so indispensable.

"We should start, of course, with Harold Ickes and Madame Perkins and then we would go through with the elegant collection of loafers contributed to the Government by the Kelly machine in Chicago, the Peurdegast machine in Kansas City, and those destroyers of civil liberty on the Federal payroll from Jersey City. Then we would go through the Sidney Hillman crew of the P.A.C. and, finally, or perhaps first of all, clean out those who hold their office and whose political and philosophical affiliations are with the man whom my opponent had to pardon so he could wage this campaign — Mr. Browder."

Lt. Col. Bell of Roseburg Obtains Eyeful of Rome

AT A 12TH AAF B-25 BASE — The allied governments try to make life as pleasant as possible for the men overseas, furnishing as much recreation and entertainment as the war will permit. Recently, one Twelfth air force B-25 Mitchell bombardment group crew Lieutenant Colonel Maynard William Bell, Roseburg, Ore., a well-earned vacation in the Eternal City.

Colonel Bell found Rome to be the most beautiful city he has seen in the Mediterranean theater. The boulevards, apartment houses, city parks, hotels, monuments and department stores, rival those of Los Angeles and Washington, D. C.

All men and women in uniform are given the opportunity to see the Pope.

And the payoff in the trip to Rome: American ice cream at the Red Cross.

Federal Land Bank Cuts Melon in Form of 10 Perct.

A 10 per cent dividend payable to all stockholders of record Sept. 30, 1944, has been declared by the Federal Land bank of Spokane, R. E. Brown, president, today advised R. L. Strickle, secretary-treasurer of the local National Farm Loan associations at Roseburg. The stockholders consist of national farm loan associations, with the exception of a few borrowers who have obtained loans direct from the bank, Mr. Strickle said.

"This dividend, which approximates $400,000 is the first declared by the bank in more than 20 years," Brown told Mr. Strickle. "It carries out the cooperative function of the institution to return savings to its stockholders and reflects the improved financial condition of the bank made possible through sound operations and the general improvement in agricultural conditions."

The office at Roseburg serves farmer-owned national farm loan associations in this district, and is one of 60 such offices serving cooperative associations in the long-term farm loan business in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

"Although pay-offs continue heavy," said Mr. Strickle, "applications for new loans continue to be received in such numbers that we are far ahead of the goal set by the bank for new business in this district. At the end of Sept. we had passed our quota for the entire year. The very low rate of interest for long term farm financing, which can be repaid any-

What Editors Say About WAYNE MORSE

WAYNE MORSE

Has Rare Courage
Oregon has the opportunity to send to the United States Senate a man with the capacity to become a statesman of the first rank in the person of Wayne Morse. He is a man of high intelligence and of rare courage. His work in the field of labor relations has given him national distinction, so he will not have to wait for years to establish his place in the senate. The country will benefit from his forum.

Will Be "Best Ever"
Senator Guy Condon's warm endorsement of Wayne Morse over the Roseburg radio last night was greeted with enthusiastic applause. And properly so, for here is a pair of Oregon men it would be hard to beat. Throwing it to Harris Ellsworth for good measure, this state would then have the strongest representation in Washington, D. C., that we have ever had. "Ever" covers a lot of territory but that is precisely what we mean.

Has Broad Views
We think Morse was nominated by Oregon republicans because of his ability and training, his advocacy of a government of law as against a government by men (the New Deal), his broad views on domestic and international questions.

Stands Issues Honestly
Wayne L. Morse makes a particularly strong running mate in his race for the full term. He has gone direct to the people honestly and frankly on issues in which they are vitally interested, and he courageously rested his fortunes on their decision.

Commands Respect
His colleagues on the War Labor Board, as well as representatives of both management and labor, learned to have a wholesome respect for his force and independence.

Is Sane Liberal
His record indicates that if Mr. Morse were sent to the Senate he would give that body a new injection of plain speaking on what he describes as "sane liberalism" and Republicanism of "action, not reaction."

Does His Own Thinking
He would reinstate a government by law and head off the trend toward government by men. In short, he is another who is doing his own thinking and not letting oil and labor or any other lobby do his thinking for him. We need — desperately, we repeat — more of that sort.

Is Real Spokesman
What Wayne Morse said before he was nominated has significance that counts in the great national campaign now getting under full swing for the presidential election. Extracts from his early speeches define the issues which now face the American people. There is no spokesman for the republican party who at any time during the last twelve years expressed more clearly or more forcefully what is at stake in the coming election. Morse is the real spokesman of the virtue republicanism which today is the hope of America.

Ended Waterfront Strife
Wayne Morse is given credit by both labor and employers for so exercising fairness and sound judgment as labor arbitrator as to bring to the Pacific Coast waterfront peace when it was torn by labor strife.

Government by Law
He has demonstrated one sterling quality of principle; he believes in a government of laws and not of men.
