SUTHERLIN — The V-Girls of the Sutherland Christian church have taken on a toy mending project for their December service. The mended toys will be sent to the Doernbecher hospital in Portland for the children at Christmas time.

The girls are making an appeal to the people of Sutherland to collect all broken toys around the house that can be mended and turn them in to a collection center in downtown Sutherland. The V-Girls will mend the toys with the help of a group of boys. The work will be supervised by Rev. Newell Morgan, minister of the Sutherland Christian church.

Watch the papers for further announcements—the time and place for the collection center. In the meantime, get all old toys collected and have them ready to turn over to the V-Girls. Beverly Pope and Evelyn Garman are the girls to contact if you are unable to bring them to the center.
