

Roseburg News-Review

Issued Daily Except Sunday by the News-Review Company, Inc.

Member of the Associated Press... The Associated Press is exclusive...

CHARLES V. STANTON, Editor... EDWIN L. KNAPP, Manager

Registered by the Postoffice at Roseburg, Oregon, under act of March 4, 1879.

New York—371 Madison Ave. Chicago—360 N. Michigan Ave. San Francisco—425 Market Street...

Member OREGON NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

Subscription Rates Daily, per year by mail $5.50 Daily, 6 months by mail $3.25 Daily, 3 months by mail $1.75

The Weather

U. S. Weather Bureau Office Roseburg, Oregon.

Forecast for Roseburg and vicinity: Light rain tonight and Wednesday. Highest temp. for any Nov. 76...

In the Day's News

(Continued from page 1)

we've been fighting for big ports close to the fighting front— notably Antwerp. Along the Rhine, where the next great battle will take place, the Germans have their supplies RIGHT AT THEIR BACKS.

While thus handicapped, we couldn't afford to provoke the ALL-OUT battle that will determine whether the war is to end soon or is to last longer—perhaps into next year.

In the Pacific, we're fighting at VAST DISTANCES from home. We've been fighting a long time. We've used up immense quantities of supplies.

SO far, we have been doing the bulk of the fighting in the Pacific and the British (from their India bases) relatively little.

Russian tanks are battering at the suburbs of Pest. (Yesterday they were reported 23 miles away; this gives an idea of the speed of their advance.)

The Germans and the Hungarians who are fighting on their side have fallen back into the city itself and are fighting behind defenses that have been erected during the past few weeks.

NEARLY 2,000 U. S. warplanes are still gunning for German oil plants. The Germans are fighting us off fiercely with what is left of their air force.

THE Japs are fighting with renewed determination on Leyte, indicating THEIR desperate need to hold the Philippines whose possession by us will CLOSE the South China sea.

THE Germans have cleared EN-TIRELY out of Greece, and apparently are fleeing into southern Yugoslavia and Albania.

(We mustn't permit ourselves to forget that from here on out in Europe a lot of international

SUCH IS DEMOCRACY

By Charles V. Stanton

THE feet of millions of men and women are marching to the polls throughout every corner of this land today. In imagination we can hear those feet keeping time with other millions of marching feet—feet that are leaving imprints on foreign soil; feet that in their relentless forward march strike terror into the hearts of tyrants who dreamed of world conquests.

The impressive thing about this election is that it is so normal. "Every voter must have thought that somehow it would be different this year," says James Thrasher, our Washington observer. "Grave tasks lay ahead, serious issues were involved, many lives were already lost in this war and many more were at stake. Surely these things would lend the campaign the dignity that it demanded. But they didn't, and probably because no one, not even the professional politicians, realized quite how strongly the traditional manner of electioneering has fastened itself upon us."

It is a tribute to the strength of America that this election campaign has been conducted on the same pattern as those which have preceded it. This very fact is evidence of the deeply ingrained spirit of democracy, a spirit of individual liberty and freedom, upon the preservation of which the future of this great nation rests.

M. Chanis of Columbus, Ohio, in a little campaign booklet entitled 'Would You Like to Be President,' says:

The Zaporozian Cossacks, who lived on the islands of the lower reaches of the river Dnieper, in Southern Russia, used to elect their commander-in-chief by popular vote. They then had a custom, that the day before his installation in office, the new chief had to stand in a traditional spot in the public square of the principal settlement, and any and all Cossacks could come and throw mud at him. This was the Cossacks' idea of true democracy.

The campaign, which is being concluded by the march of voters to the polls today, has had its usual quota of "mud slinging." It has been true to the form which we, as a unique people, have adopted as our own peculiar method of electing our candidates for high office.

Many of us may decry the extravagant nonsense that enters into our elections, but it has its better points.

Certainly no candidate can enter into a high office in this land, after undergoing the campaign nightmare, without realization that the people of this country are still sovereign. Voters may be gullible, disinterested, ignorant, honest, studious, informed, patriotic or subversive, according to their own condition or inclination, but any candidate well knows that it is the hands of those voters, marking an X upon a secret ballot, or tabulating opinions upon a machine, which decide his political future. This fact also is known to the voter, who, in addition to the power of a free ballot revels in his right to speak his mind concerning the candidate. When an officer knows his fate rests with the voters, he will be more anxious to please and will be less arrogant and dictatorial than if he could not be made a target for their criticism.

But while our campaign has been in progress, as Thrasher so neatly says: "factory chimneys have kept on smoking as Roosevelt and Dewey supporters, side by side, have combined to turn out the tools of war. Meanwhile Germany has been entered and the Philippines have been invaded, and men have died in battle, and victory has come closer."

Our feet, marching to war or marching to polling places, still dominate the parade of liberty, freedom and a higher plane of civilization. Those who would try to halt this parade must and will be trampled into dust. We as Americans can take both war and elections in stride. We did not even change our pace.

Tomorrow our decision probably will be known. Our differences will be laid aside. Shoulder to shoulder we will march on, purposefully, proudly.

Some of us, like the little boy eating spinach, may not like the taste, but nevertheless we eat. Our grumbling forgotten, we will rally around the one selected as our chief executive, determined that the purposes to which this nation has been dedicated shall be fulfilled. For such is democracy.

politics will be mixed up with the fighting. It has always been that way in Europe and won't be greatly different this time.)

WPB HEAD

HORIZONTAL 2 Chamber of WPB. 3 To Julius A. 4 Guinness (tab). 5 Beach. 6 Atmosphere of public service. 7 Scene. 8 Sketched. 9 Tellurium (symbol). 10 Ages. 11 Grain. 12 Encountered. 13 For. 14 Period. 15 Employ. 16 Decay. 17 Merchandise. 18 Woody plant. 19 Force open. 20 Writing fluid. 21 Beverage. 22 Foundation. 23 Either. 24 Laughter. 25 He is an expert on problems. 26 Trouser. 27 Elderly. 28 Arid land. 29 Spider's home. 30 Spool. 31 Farm building. 32 Type of tree. 33 Orient. 34 Journey. 35 Before. 36 Barrel. VERTICAL 1 Barrel.

Twelve and Won Club to Meet... Answer to Previous Puzzle... Crossword puzzle grid with clues.

OUT OUR WAY

HEROES ARE MADE - NOT BORN

Still Has That 'Something'

Her looks belie her 70 years. Mistinguett of the "million dollar legs" re-enacts in Paris her pose in the old poster on the wall—a pose that endeared the famed actress to theatergoers of two generations. Nearly 20 years ago, all France was aroused over her projected duel with the wife of a wealthy Parisian in which Mistinguett chose the weapons—"cream puffs at 20 paces."

KRRR Mutual Broadcasting System, 1490 Kilocycles. BEST BETS FOR TODAY TUESDAY: 6:00—Gabriel Heatter. 6:15—Election Returns. 7:15—Lowell Thomas. 8:30—Freedom of Opportunity. 9:00—Newspaper of the Times. 9:15—State and National Returns. WEDNESDAY: 9:00—Boake Carter. 10:15—Terry's House Party. 11:15—Open House. 1:30—Headlines in Harmony. 3:15—Dusty Records. 6:15—Screen Test. 8:30—Cisco Kid. 8:00—Atin Line. 8:30—Building Drummond. 9:00—Newspaper of the Air. REMAINING HOURS TODAY: 4:00—Fulton Lewis, Jr., Plough Chemical Co. 4:15—Time Tabloid. 4:30—Music and Lyrics. 5:00—Good News Program, Assembly of God Church. 5:15—Superman. 5:30—Tom Mix, Ralston's Purina. 5:45—Night News Wire, Studebaker. 6:00—Gabriel Heatter, Forhan's Toothpaste. 6:15—Election Returns. 7:15—Lowell Thomas, Standard Oil. 7:30—Musical Scrapbook. 7:45—Song of Good Cheer, Copco. 8:00—Local Election Returns. 8:15—A Date With Annaloris. 8:30—Freedom of Opportunity, Mutual Benefit Health & Acc. Assn. of Omaha. 9:00—Alka Seltzer News. 9:15—Rex Miller. 9:30—National and Local Election Returns. 1:30—Sign off. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8: 6:55—Schrieker Auction. 7:00—News, J. A. Folger Co. 7:15—Rise and Shine, Smith

Schools Offering Musical Treat For Education Week

Observance of National Education week in the Roseburg schools is being greatly curtailed because of conditions arising from the war. Paul S. Elliott, city superintendent, reported today, but an elaborate musical program, open to the public without admission charge, and a city-wide collection of waste paper have been arranged as the two outstanding features of the week. The purpose of National Education week, Elliott stated, is to bring about a closer relationship between the general public and the schools and a better understanding of educational problems in order to encourage higher standards in education. Instituted by the American Legion and the National Education association, aroused by the large percentage of illiterates among men selected for military service in the first World War, National Education week, Elliott stated, has stimulated a rapid advance in educational facilities and aided in reducing inequalities. In the schools, special emphasis is placed upon responsibility of students in the community in which they reside, with good citizenship as the keynote. Roseburg students will present a program at the senior high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Thursday at which time massed choruses and bands will appear in a widely varied musical entertainment. The general public is invited to attend. No admission will be charged. Friday the high school students will conduct a city-wide waste paper collection.

DIAL LOG By SUSAN. Everyone is interested in election returns only tonight, so here's a list of what to expect this evening. Tomorrow we'll be back on regular program schedules again. 7:30—Lone Ranger. 8:00—Main Line, Southern Pacific. 8:30—Building Drummond, 42 Products. 9:00—Alka Seltzer News. 9:15—Service Salute, E. G. High. 9:30—Fulton Lewis, Jr., Kampfer's Sav-Mor. 9:45—Music for the Night. 10:00—Sign off. Roseburg Printing Company Phone 100 P. O. Box 960

Two Prisoners Escape From McNeil Island. TAGOMA, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Two prisoners who escaped from the McNeil Island federal penitentiary Saturday night were still at large today. It is believed that they are wearing clothing taken from clotheslines on Fox island, which is two or three miles from McNeil, where their discarded prison clothing was found yesterday. Penitentiary officials said the men reached Fox island by some means not yet known and there stole a rowboat in which they crossed to Wollochet bay. The rowboat was left on the beach. The escapees are Donald Dillon, 38, who was committed from Seattle for violation of the Dyer act, and Ernest Lopez, 23 who was committed from Los Angeles for a gas rationing violation. NIGHT COUGHS due to colds... eased without "dosing". Rub on VICKS VAPORUB APPROVED BY 2 GENERATIONS

SAW DUST SLAB WOOD 16 IN. Prompt Delivery Now. DENN-GERRETSEN CO. Phone 128 402 West Oak St.

One Stop Service Center Machine Shop Welding Truck and Car Repairs General Saw Repair Paint and Body Works Umpqua Saw & Machine Shop Phone 508 515 Fullerton Street

Notice to Legionnaires and Auxiliary Regular meeting Umpqua Post No. 16 and Auxiliary Tuesday evening, November 7, will be held at K. P. hall Important business. Report of building committee and discussion. Refreshments and social hour. Election returns after meeting.

we have a "Knack" for Recapping! US TIRES BUY WHERE YOU SEE THE U.S. TIRE SIGN TIRES ARE SCARCE—RECAP IN TIME U. S. TIRE STORE Stephens and Mosher Telephone 470