Fruit, Vegetable Ceiling Prices for Douglas Stores Set

The district office of the OPA has issued retail community ceiling prices on certain fresh fruit and vegetable items for the stores in the corporate city limits of Roseburg, Sutherlin and Oakland, and those stores along the highway between Roseburg and Oakland, announces L. V. Hammock, chairman of the Roseburg war price and rationing board.

Mr. Hammock states that these prices were made effective Thursday and are subject to revision each Thursday. All stores selling these items will be supplied with the necessary posters each week.

It is anticipated that this order establishing community ceiling prices on these fruits and vegetables will be extended in a few weeks to cover other areas along the highway.

Merchants desiring to know their proper mark-ups on other fruit and vegetable items should call the price clerks at the Roseburg OPA office, Hammock states.

The 1,475-mile-long "Big Inch" pipeline moves about 177,000 barrels of pettroleum products daily from Texas to New Jersey.
