DAILT DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

Why do we allow ourselves to become distracted by minor questions when we have the answer to the major ones? We need not know all the details if we have the eternal vertites. We need not know all about the hereafter, because we know that Heaven is where Christ is and that is enough. We cannot understand how the dead are raised and with what body, but we know because He lives we too shall live. We do not know when the Lord will come again to reign on the earth, and how the end of this present world will come, but this one thing we know, "that when He shall appear we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as He is." One truth alone is sufficient to meet all our needs, viz.: "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son." We may not be able to explain many things, but if we accept this one truth, everything else will fall into its proper place, for the whole is greater than any of its parts. I know not where the Islands lift.

Their fronded palms in air, I only know I cannot get Beyond His loving care, And so beside the silent sea, I wait the muffled oar, No harm from Him can come to me.
