RHS Basketeers Lose Opener To Springfield, 34-26

The Roseburg Indians took another one on the chin last night dropping their basketball game to the Springfield Millers 34 to26, but only after a second-half battle which had a capacity crowd yelling itself hoarse. Three cripple shots and a couple of free throws gave the Millers the contest in the closing minutes of the game after the Indians had staged a rough and tough comeback in the third period.

Springfield gained a running start when Lake and Burnam started shooting over the Indian defense early in the game, ringing up seven tallies before Rose burg could break the ice. The second period saw only five points made—three by Roseburg rind two by Springfield—as both learns tightened defensive play, the Millers going into the half-time rest period with a lead of 11 to 5.

GOOD TO HAVE AND TO HOLD

By Charles V. Stanton

ONE predominating factor of the 6th War Loan campaign should not be overlooked. That is the manner in which corporations, investment houses, and other agencies, versed in financial matters, oversubscribed their quotas in the first few days of the drive. These concerns know good investments. Their response to the offering of 6th War Loan securities is convincing proof of the soundness of War Bonds,

Public response to the campaign just completed was far better than had been anticipated. Even Treasury department officials had the opinion the 6th War Loan would be difficult to promote. There was a feeling that complacency, created by favorable progress of the war in Europe would make it extremely difficult to attain established goals, particularly in the matter of E bonds.

The E bond campaign, it is true, did make a slow start, but, once under way, it reached heights which astounded war finance departments. The German breakthrough probably stimulated individual cooperation in the closing period of the drive, but the trend was well established before Von Runstedt's legions opened their surprise counter-offensive.

Particularly was this true of large companies and corporations which had topped their quotas early in the campaign. Theirs was the largest share in the total amount to be raised, yet they oversubscribed, and without pressure or special urging.

If any person doubts the value of War Bonds as good security the very fact that these large concerns invested so freely should put at rest any uneasiness. Corporation heads must be astute in financial matters. When they buy millions of dollars worth of War Bonds, the individual, who is offered a series designed to best suit his personal need, should have no fear that he is investing unwisely.

Douglas county, which has been at or near the top in every War Bond campaign to date, made another fine record in the 6th War Loan. Many people are entitled to credit for exceptionally fine work. The campaign committee, the war CURRENT LABOR TROUBLE finance staff, community workers, high school students and Editor News-Review:

The sudden turn of events caused the Millers to blow up higher than a V-2 buzz bomb, and the whole first team was yanked and a second string sent into the game to give the regulars a chance to steady themselves.

The Indians, cutting loose with a rough style of ball-hawking, quickly closed the gap to come within two points of the Millers, a position they held until the last three minutes of play. As the game became progressively rougher, numerous fouls being called, Springfield outscored Rozeburg from the free throw line and also succeeded in converting three cripple shots to walk off with the ballgame, the first league match for either team.

Roseburg journeys to Grants Pass tonight for a nonconference confest.

due. Those who actively participated have the satisfaction of a job well done, and we know the residents of Dougias county as a whole are appreciative of the efforts put forth by hundreds of individuals to make the campaign such a marked success.

But just because the 6th War Loan campaign has been concluded is no reason we should stop buying War Bonds. The war goes on and must be financed. This is one part of the war effort in which we all can participate. We can keep the war effort in which we all can participate. We can keep the war effort in which we all can participate. We can keep the safely invested and is available upon need.

It has been made possible for us to cash our bonds without difficulty. We have been promised the existing arrangement will be continued. A great many people took advantage of the elimination of red tape connected with converting bonds back into cash, although the percentage of bonds turned in was much lower than is generally realized.

But War Bonds should be surrendered only when cash is needed for emergencies. We have been furnished proof. NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—A return bout between youthful Billy Arnold, boxing's latest sensation, and the veteran Fritzle Zivic of Pittsburgh seemed assured today on the heels of Zivic's upset victory over the previously unbeaten Philadelphia high school student, who gained prominence with 28 knockouts in 31 bouts. For this reason I feel that the facts should be explained with respect to the misleading advertisements of this company. These facts which I have stated on procedure in cases such as this are not merely union position, but is a procedure set up by federal law and can be verified by anyone who might desire to do so.

Sec. District No. 7, IWA-CIO inence with 28 knockouts in 31 bouts.

The 31-year-old Zivic, a 5 to 1 underdog, gained an eight-round split decision over his 18-year-opponent here last night.

Arnold, who at 144 pounds gave away nine pounds in weight, carried the fight to Zivic throughout the eight rounds and in one round the third, apparently had Zivic in a bad way. He punched away at Zivic's body and landed his famed right hand punch several times, but Zivic shook off its effects and came back strong.
