Directors to be Chosen at Meet Of Credit Assn.

Roseburg will be host Jan. 22 to farmer and stockmen members of the Southern Oregon Production Credit association, who are assembling for their annual meeting to elect directors, hear financial reports on their cooperative credit system, and participate in discussions of problems affecting wartime and postwar agriculture.

With Eugene Fisher of Oakland as chairman in charge, sessions will get underway at 11:30 a. m., at the First Christian church. Present will be farmers and stockmen from Douglas, Coos and Curry counties. Following reports by the chairman and E. W. Jarboe of the Production Credit corporation of Spokane, the association will elect four directors. The terms of V. D. Brophy of Medford, Ben Hilton of Grants Pass, Clarence Zumwalt of Sixes, and J. P. Johnson of Coquille, expire this year.

Ernest E. Henry, president of the Production Credit corporation of Spokane, will attend and discuss problems dealing with the cooperative credit system. Battle Looms On Attempt to Boost School Revenues

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 17—(AP)—Educational interests, precipitating what may be the most hotly contested battle in the legislature, will introduce their bills to get more school revenues within three or four days, Rep. Lyle D. Thomas, Dallas, chairman of the house education committee, said today.

School administrators, teachers and parent-teacher groups will ask for $5,000,000 of income tax revenues. Thomas said the increased state aid would go far toward reducing the "deplorable teacher shortage."

Pointing out that teacher qualifications were reduced greatly to obtain teachers, Thomas said that 2,000 of the state's 8,000 teachers have emergency certificates. Next year, he said, the state will need 1656 replacements, and only 245 college students will graduate into the profession.

The state, he declared, should not depend on the property tax to finance schools, because the property tax no longer is an index of ability to pay.

Thomas said that a few teachers have gone into the armed forces, but that many have gone into more lucrative jobs. He denied it is a temporary war condition, asserting the trend began in 1929.

The house taxation and revenue committee, in the meantime, appeared disinclined to make any major tax changes. It opposed a state withholding tax system, and said it wants to leave the income tax at the present level.

Turkey Growers Given Advice on Egg Shipping

The 400,000 breeder hens that Oregon turkey growers are carrying over will produce at least 16 million hatching eggs, about half of which will be exported to other parts of the United States, estimates Noel L. Bennion, extension poultryman at Oregon State college.

Bennion suggests extra care in obtaining good new cases for shipping these eggs, and says that most box factories will cut lumber for extra heavy cases that may be used for several trips. In using the new 5x5 celled fillers and cupped flats, some shippers wrap the individual eggs in orange wrappers for protection and others fill the extra space with rice hulls, oat hulls, or fine sawdust.

Other precautions are to nail each end of the lid with four cement-coated egg case nails, and pasting a label on each end of the case showing shipper, buyer, and which is right side up. As best turkey hatching eggs range from 32 to 38 ounces per dozen, extremely large or small eggs are graded out.
