Counter Charges Of Assault Trail Reedsport Affair

REEDSPORT—Charges and counter charges were filed at a furious pace in the justice court of Reedsport district Wednesday morning.

When Judge Fred Wright appeared at his office he found Fred Fourier waiting to file an assault and battery charge against both Robin Reed and his elder brother, James Reed. Fourier charged that the Reeds had attacked him and beaten him up in the vicinity of Port Umpqua Courier office Tuesday evening at about 7:30, when, in attempting to park, his car had bumped into and coupled the fender of his car under the bumper of the Reed car.

This charge was hardly filed when Robin Reed appeared at the office of the Justice of the Peace and filed counter charges of assault and battery against Fourier.

Carl C. Hendrickson and DeLoss Dickerson. In the meantime, and while Constable Clark was serving the warrants, Judge Wright in touch with the district attorney by phone and that official filed an order in the Reedsport court for the Justice of the Peace to sit as a committing magistrate and when the defendants appeared they were all bound over to the Douglas County grand jury with bonds in each case set at $100. All gave bonds for their appearance and as far as the Reedsport court is concerned it is a matter of history.
