DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

For hundreds, possibly thousands of years Solomon has been called "the wisest man that ever lived." If knowledge is power, then knowing how to use knowledge is even greater than knowledge itself. Archimedes claimed that with a lever and a fulcrum he could move the world. Jesus Christ, with a cross on a skull-shaped hill, did move it. Watt discovered and applied the explosive power of steam and set hundreds of wheels humming. Christ discovered and applied the explosive power of a new affection, and set millions of human hearts singing. Edison took inert material, charged it with energy and dispelled darkness with radiant light. Christ takes inert lives, changes them with His love and makes them shine above the brightness of the firmament." Solomon died about three thousand years ago and is now but a name. Christ, greater than Solomon is still here though He died on a cross nearly two thousand years ago. "I know not where the way may lead, Or if the skies be blue or dim; My hungry soul I know He'll feed And guide my weary soul to Him." Amen.
