OUT of the bulk of Japan's home-based air force.

TREMENDOUS possibilities are unfolding among them BLOCKADING all Japan to weaken it for final invasion, PLUS continuous pounding of the Jap airplane factories until they are ruined.

Another point: Note the TIMING of the blow. The little yellow men are supposed to be getting ready to move their aircraft industry to Manchuria. We hit in all-out strength BEFORE they can get it moved.

Another point: While the Japs are fighting one of their typical suicide delaying actions on Luzon we leave Luzon behind to be mopped up and GO ON AND HIT TOKYO and the Jap mainland—thus rendering useless their bloody battle of delay.

That's POWER! CAPTURED enemy plans indicate that the Japs intended to make an all-out defense of Manila and its great bay but were OVERWHELMED TOO QUICKLY where they didn't look for it. Heavy concentration of their artillery around Nichols field indicates that they expected us to come from the south.

We OUGHT TO have them and came from the north. We're out-thinking them again by hitting the Jap homeland while their forces on Luzon are dying uselessly in a hopeless effort to delay us.

AS this is written, we have little in the way of direct results, but we can safely take it for granted that when 1500 of our carrier planes attack FOR BLOOD they will get results that will be worth while in damage to the enemy.

What we're getting today is practically a ringside account from a navy observer in a B-29 high above the smoke of the roaring battle below. His account is based on what he sees plus the pilot conversations he listens in on.

He radios his story to our bases, which relay it on to us. The fleet is still keeping radio silence. There will be much more to tell as the hours and the days pass.

ON the western European front, the Canadians now hold 20 miles of the south bank of the Rhine (the Rhin) turns to the west just above where the Canadian army is attacking.

With the flood created by the blowing of the dams at the head of the Roer receding, the Germans are concentrating artillery and buzz-bomb fire on our U. S. 1st and 9th armies, which are waiting to move eastward across the Roer valley into the Cologne plain some 20 miles west of the city of Cologne. The nazis evidently expect this to be an attack in force.

Our 1st army patrols are reported to be already across the upper Roer valley.

REEDSPORT PLANS HOSPITAL

By Charles V. Stanton

ENTERPRISING residents of Reedsport are proceeding with commendable energy and enthusiasm toward development of a community hospital project. Preliminary organization has reached the point where an architect is engaged in preparation of plans and specifications.

The city of Reedsport recently secured from the county, through an agreement reached with the county court, a tract of land to which public title had been taken because of tax delinquency, and this property is proposed as a site for the projected hospital building. It is planned to finance construction through donations from individuals, industrial plants, business firms and through community fund-raising activities, while application also is being made for federal aid, which is authorized to assist communities with civic problems arising from population growth occasioned principally by the war.

Reedsport's plight is one which demands prompt consideration. The community is overcrowded and is growing with great rapidity. Business and industrial expansion is assured for at least several years to come and, instead of a postwar slump, Reedsport is certain to experience boom conditions.

Yet this rapidly growing community, which includes Scottsburg, Gardiner, Reedsport, Winchester Bay and the intervening areas, has no hospital service. A great many residents are engaged in sawmilling, lumbering, mechanical work, fishing, etc., all hazardous occupations in which serious injuries frequently are encountered.

At present, men who suffer accidents must be taken to North Bend, Coos Bay or, occasionally, to Eugene. Frequently the delay in getting the patient to facilities, where adequate hospital service is available, seriously complicates the case, whereas prompt treatment would materially lessen the period of recovery and in critical cases might spell the difference between life and death.

The community now has only one practicing physician. It is desperately in need of at least one more doctor and particularly a surgeon. There is prospect of obtaining a qualified and experienced surgeon in the event the community can provide hospital facilities, but until a hospital is assured, no surgeon will seriously consider entering practice in the lower Umpqua field.

Instead of sitting back and bemoaning the condition which faces them, Reedsport citizens are tackling the problem vigorously, and are proposing to carry the project through to successful completion.

The example being set by the people of Reedsport is one which should be closely scanned by other communities. Many problems of similar character will face nearly all Douglas county communities during the coming months. As population increases, provision must be made for adequate medical and hospital service, schools must be enlarged, sanitary and municipal services must be extended.

Communities can wait until they are face-to-face with a crisis and then attempt to find a solution, or they can start now with advance planning. Those who plan and work in advance, we believe, will be the ones who enjoy the greatest progress and receive the most benefits.

Reedsport is showing exceptional civic enterprise in the way it is attacking its hospital problem, along with numerous other difficult community affairs, and the spirit being demonstrated in its methods promises much in the way of future growth and enrichment.

Capt. Bonebrake Adds Purple Heart To War Laurels

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE FIGHTER STATION, England—Capt. Robert R. Bonebrake, 28, of Roseburg, Oregon, an Eighth air force P-51 Mustang pilot, has been awarded the Purple Heart for injuries received while engaged in action on an operational mission over enemy occupied territory on September 1, 1944. He was also awarded the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh oak leaf clusters to his air medal at the same ceremony.

Capt. Bonebrake is a veteran, having flown more than 65 combat missions over Europe with the 783 group conveying heavy bombers and attacking the Nazi transportation system. He is one of the Eighth air force's high scoring pilots, having destroyed three German planes in air battles and three while strafing Nazi airfields.

Citation accompanying the award of oak leaf clusters read: "For meritorious achievement in aerial combat and for the destruction of an enemy aircraft while on combat operations over German occupied territory."

The Mustang pilot has fully recovered from his injuries and is again flying against the nazis. Capt. Bonebrake also wears the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Capt. Bonebrake was educated at St. Mary's university, San Antonio, Tex. His wife, Mrs. Betty R. Bonebrake, lives at 1301 Lake drive, Taylor, Texas.

OUT OUR WAY

Sutherland School Building Project Advances Nicely

SUTHERLIN—Although weather conditions have been anything but satisfactory, work on the new grade school building has been progressing very nicely. All of the footings for the walls have been poured and workmen are now laying a thick gravel coating inside the footings upon which will be poured the concrete slab for the floors. There is a great deal of optimism concerning the possibility of obtaining two additional class rooms to be added to this four-room unit. Ivan C. Parker, superintendent of schools, states that according to the 1944 school census, taken last November, there will be 51 pupils in the first grade next fall. There are 49 in the first grade this year, requiring two teachers, and if the enrollment is anywhere near what the census indicates, there will be the need of another class room and, of course, another teacher.

Planning on the assumption that the new school will be built with six rooms, it is anticipated to have two first grades, two second grades and the third grade and the fourth grade in the new building. The fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades will continue in the old school building, as will also the high school. The north room of the Arts building will again revert to a shop, the south room to a home economics apartment and the center room to a hot lunch and recreation room.

The old school building is being renovated at the present time. Additional sanitary facilities are being installed. A partial new wall under the southwest corner of the building is being poured and the installation of new safety doors, drinking fountain and the renovation of the High school science room will begin shortly.
