COURT OF HONOR IS ENJOYED BY MANY

SUTHERLIN—About one-hundred and fifty scouts and their parents enjoyed a six o'clock potluck dinner and court of honor at the Methodist church Saturday evening. Long tables decorated in the Valentine motif, and red, white and blue candles, accommodated the largest crowd that has ever been present at a court of honor in Sutherland. The menu was planned by Mrs. Vern Holgate, Mrs. Maurice Vogelphol and Mrs. Lloyd Cornish and serving was done with the assistance of Mrs. Harry Barker and six members of the first class scouts: June Young, Betty Squire, Patty Rose, Beverly Ege, Jean Ritchey and Beverly Vansteenburg.

Following the dinner members of the Girl Scout's second class patrol put on a shadow skit entitled: "Opened by Mistake."

Demonstrations in knot tying, fire building, first aid and signaling by the Boy Scouts followed. A badge contest between Lang and Donald Squire resulted in the former being voted troop bugler for the ensuing year.

Court of honor was opened formally in the church proper with the Cub Scouts presentation of colors and a prayer by Rev. R. Matthews, Harry Chenoweth, Boy Scout committee chairman, was in charge of the meeting and gave a short talk on the need of parent cooperation in the management and successful operation of a Scout troop. He also gave the information that one-third of all school children in the Sutherland school belong to the Scouts, there being about 170 members. Mayor William DeWitt also gave a very good talk, stressing the need of parent cooperation and the townspeople in general, in helping with the work and expense of the new Scout building which is now under construction. Mr. DeWitt pledged himself and his company to do everything possible to get behind this worthwhile project.

The presentation of merit badges conducted by Scout Master Clifford Watson, assisted by Rev. Newell Morgan, proved the advancement of many of the members of the troop.

Those receiving their tenderfoot badges were: Norman Branton, Maurice Vogelphol, Jr., Kenneth Briscoe, Bill West, Donald West, John Smith, Edward Whitney, Jack West, Merton Rosendale, Wilbur Wells and Baird Smith.

Second class rank badges were received by Donald Patterson and Kenneth Rose. First class rank badges went to Richard Firman, Melvin Walter, Thomas Chenoweth and Gene Culver. Richard Coenenberg received the Star Scout badge. Life Scout badges were given to Donald Robertson, James Lang and Wayne Musgrove. One hundred percent attending both the Yoncalla grade and Woodworking and Public Health. He was also given the office of troop scribe. James Lang received merit badges for Gardening, First Aid, Handicraft and Physical Development. Richard Coenenberg received Safety, Pathfinding, Public Health, Personal Health and First Aid. Wayne Musgrove won his Woodcarving, Woodworking, First Aid and Physical Development. Lloyd Holgate received Personal Health and Public Health. Donald Robertson received his Pathfinder, First Aid and Athletics.

The new Cub Scout troop leaders were introduced, Thomas Young and Rev. Robert Matthews taking charge. Den mothers are: Mrs. Akers, Mrs. F. Reller and Mrs. O. T. Durr. Den chiefs chosen from the Boy Scout troop are Earl Pleuard, Donald Patterson and Bill West. This troop, the first to introduce Scouting to Sutherland, was organized several years ago, in fact those now having the highest ranks in the present troop were members of this troop.

Scots, Yanks Lunge Deeper Into Germany

Patton has been noted.

Patton Extends Gouge

Gen. Patton's tanks and infantry thundered forward through the Eifel mountains on a 50-mile front. Vanguard units reached within two miles of the heavily fortified road center of Saarburg, a key to German defenses along the Moselle.

Patton's drive was threatening the compact coal and steel treasures of the Saar district, which also was endangered by the increasingly aggressive American Seventh army 35 miles to the south.

Patton was eight miles deep in Germany along the Moselle. He was beyond or within the Siegfried line along his entire 50-mile assault front.

Patton Also Advances

Lt. Gen. Patch's troops advanced on a 12-mile front to within less than three miles of Saarbruecken, moved into the outskirts of the suburban French rail center of Forbach and scooped up six border villages.

Saarbruecken, blasted by eight successive days of artillery fire at the start of December, is a city of 135,000, the capital of the Saar and the center of five railroads and five main highways fanning out toward the Rhine.

In the southern outskirts of Forbach, Patch's Americans surrounded the medieval castle of Schlossberg and trapped the German garrison inside.

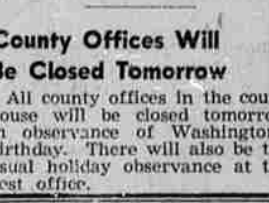

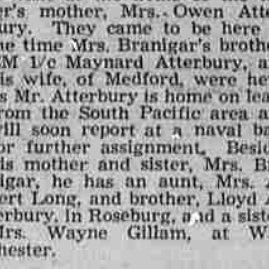

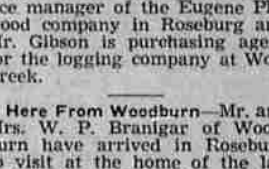

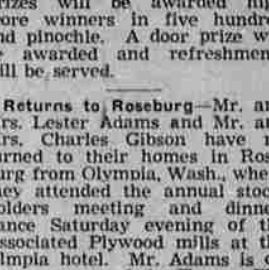

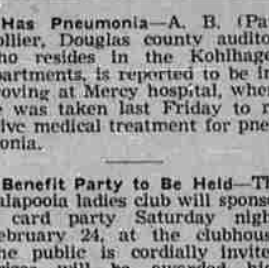

Rear Smash Poised

The British Second and American First and Ninth armies stood in mighty strength along the receding Roer river between the Canadians and Patton's Third army. The Germans repeated that an offensive was imminent across the Roer toward the great cities of the Rhine and the Ruhr valleys.

British empire troops fighting with Gen. Cremer's command gathered momentum and drove deeper into the center of German defenses in synchronized thrusts through Buchholt and Halverboom, villages near besieged Calcar.
