DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

"Be still and know that I am God." This is the voice of Eternity speaking to the creatures of time. The timelessness of the psalms has given them a large place in the life of intelligent people. With such testimonies out of the past, why such confusion today? Yet Abraham's question is a common one, "Will Thou destroy the righteous with the wicked?" Amid trouble and disaster, this psalm strikes a note of confidence and hope. God is our security. The psalm paints a dramatic picture—a tottering earth, toppling mountains, roaring waters, but the city of God is there, and "God is in the midst of her. She shall not be moved." When the history of the present century is written, it will make bewildering reading. Admiration will be expressed for its products and achievements, but we have regarded lightly the institution of religion and have drifted toward the inevitable goal: "Sin when it is full-grown bringeth forth death." But when we turn back to God, we shall find that He is "our refuge and strength. A ever present help in trouble." Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet. Lest we forget, Lest we forget. —Amen.
