there will be no departure from our predetermined program. Susuki, Japan's new mystery premier, quoted by the Japanese news agency Domei, says: "I do not expect America's war efforts against Japan to change because of Mr. Roosevelt's death."

WE are naturally curious as to this man Truman, who is now our leader. We feel that as yet we do not know him. We want to know him. So we watch his every word for a hint as to what he may be.

In his words spoken in Washington Monday morning, in his first message to the congress and to the world, there is much to reassure us and nothing to upset us.

IN Europe, the sands are running low in the Nazi hourglass.

The Germans announce as this is written that the Russians have started their long-awaited all-out assault from the Oder, along a 100-mile front, east of Berlin. It appears to be expected that the red army will outflank the city both to the north and to the south, effecting junctions with us and the British on both sides and so isolating the German capital.

What news we have from the Oder comes entirely from the enemy. Moscow has nothing to say.

MILLER breaks his long silence to issue an order of the day to his armies on the eastern front.

He plays upon German fears of Russia. He says the "Jewish-bolshevik arch enemy" has launched his massed attack and is trying to destroy Germany and wipe out our people. He screams incoherently of German women and girls who are to be reduced to the status of prostitutes, of children who are to be murdered and of the remainder of the German people who are to be led away to Siberia.

What he is seeking, obviously enough, is to whip up the German people to such a peak of frenzied fear that they will ALL die in defense of him and his Nazi crew. It is a sickening exhibition.

A DYING tiger lashes out with desperate last sweeps of its claws. In similar manner, the dying Nazi beast strikes at one of our bridgeheads over the Elbe at Magdeburg, driving our advanced force back to the western bank.

We hold our other bridgehead over the Elbe and PUSH ON from it.

The Canadians reach the North sea, trapping the Germans left in Holland. The British are within two miles of Bremen. To the south of Berlin, our Americans reach and pass Leipzig and push on toward Dresden. Farther to the south, we approach to within a few miles of Nuernberg.

The Russians drive on up the Danube from captured Vienna.

IN Italy, General Clark announces that the "last big battle" is beginning. The Germans in the Po valley fight with stubborn determination. Our job is to SMASH them before they can get back to the mountain hideout.

THE Russians are pushing westward across Moravia, nearing Austelitz and Brunn, wiping out the German-held, slave-operated Czechoslovakian war factories. We are nearing the Czechoslovak border from the west.

ON Okinawa, recent dispatches report a notable decrease in the Japanese fire before Naha. Our guns appear to be getting the

THE MIGHTY SEVENTH

By Charles V. Stanton

Douglas county is facing a gigantic task in raising its assigned quota of $1,197,000 for the 7th War Loan. The task is doubly difficult because we must raise $740,000 through sales of Series E bonds to individuals—50 per cent more than in any previous campaign.

There is no question of our ability to reach this goal. Bonds sufficient to oversubscribe the assignment could be sold if people who have money lying in banks would invest their idle funds in war bonds.

We are particularly pleased to note that the Treasury department in preparing its advertising campaign for the 7th War Loan campaign is stressing the investment value of war bonds. We have previously expressed our opinion that sale of bonds could be greatly increased if the general public could be brought to realize that there is no better investment for the average individual, with modest earning power, than war bonds.

Instead of three war bond campaigns per year, as we have had in the past, there will be only two in 1945. But it is planned to raise as much money in two drives this year as was secured in three campaigns in 1944. That is the reason for the higher quotas. Furthermore, the campaigns will be of longer duration. The "Mighty Seventh," as the current campaign is designated, already is underway, insofar as the payroll deduction campaign is concerned.

Experience has shown that the payroll deduction program is by far the most effective method of buying bonds. Nearly all wage earners today are receiving more money than they actually need. Very few people working for wages today are struggling to make ends meet. On the other hand, we see workmen spending money foolishly and recklessly. Such sights are more prevalent in the densely populated areas, where large scale war industries are established, than in our own community, where wages for lumber workers are less inflated than in almost any other essential industry.

But a minority group of wage earners are "making hay while the sun shines." They realize that the present era of high wages will not last forever; that competition for jobs will automatically result in lower incomes. Consequently they are saving for that "rainy day." They are living comfortably but are not wasting money and are investing their surplus income to meet future anticipated needs. These people are investing to the limit in war bonds. The payroll deduction program offers a simple and easy method for accumulating a backlog of investment dollars which can be utilized when needed.

Wage earners are being urged during the 7th War Loan to utilize the payroll deduction method of increasing their savings. It is requested that this deduction be made as large as the wage earner can afford.

NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Briggs of Myrtle Creek have received word that their son, Bruce Briggs, has arrived at Staggard field, Texas, where he will receive training in the army air forces.

Pfc. Raymond Labore, grandson of Mrs. F. J. Miles, 430 N. Stephens street, Roseburg, has been overseas in the south Pacific war area for the last 15 months, and is a member of an American unit credited with almost continuous fighting and having killed 100 Japanese within a month with a loss of three Americans killed and 10 wounded.

The South American arrow poison, curare, is being used today to protect patients against injury likely to occur in shock therapy for mental diseases.

We hope you'll bear with us for the next few days; in other words, we're apologizing ahead of time for the errors we foresee.

Something weird is happening on Okinawa, AGAIN (they have tried it several times before) there is an attack by Japs armed only with SIX FOOT SPEARS, tipped with metal points.

WHY spears? They can't as yet be short of guns and ammunition. You explain it—if you can. This writer can't.

It must be just another queer quirk of the sub-human Jap mind.

THERE is another 400-plane B-29 fire raid on Tokyo that leaves large areas of the city in flames. If the Japs think it is tough, haven't seen anything yet. When they should remember that they our mighty fleets of bombers, that have laid Germany in ruins, arrive in the Pacific, they will find out what bombing is like.

Seals Down Sactos in Lone League Game

(By the Associated Press) While games of member teams were being postponed because of travel delays, the San Francisco Seals turned back the Sacramento Solons, 11-9, in a Pacific coast league slugfest last night.

The Seals pulled themselves up on the league ladder by last night's win which was credited to Pierrey. An early lead saved the Seals when the Solons rallied in the seventh for five runs. Pierrey gave way to Barthelom, recruited from the New York Giants, who stopped the Senators.

Browns Win Ninth Straight Opener in American League

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer) Nine straight opening day victories for the St. Louis Browns went into the record books today as a companion piece to their 1944 feat of copping a first American league pennant.

Luke Sewell's gang took up where they left off last year by knocking off Detroit, a feat that paid big dividends in winning their first flag when they did it 13 times in '22 starts.

Newhouse was the victim of the Browns' 7-1 uprising as Jalcuck allowed only six well-scattered hits.

Onesamed Pete Gray broke in to the majors for the Browns with a single and was robbed of a sure double on a circus catch by Crummett.

Standout individual performance of the openers was turned in by the New York Yankees' Russ Derry, starting his first full season in the big show. Derry, a Mill Grove, Mo., farmer, belted two homers in his club's 8-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

The second game in a seven-run seventh inning rally with the bases jammed.

Homer Features Oddity Frankie Zak of Pittsburgh provided the day's oddity during the game with Cincinnati, won by the Reds in the eleventh, 7-6. With two on, Zak's shoestring came untied and he asked and received a call of "time" from Umpire Seals. Fitcher Walters didn't hear the ump and dished up a home run ball to Jim Russell. But it was all disallowed.

Achiu, Morelli to Headline Next Mat Bill in Roseburg

Walter Tinkit "Sneeze" Achiu, the Chinese grappler and one of the most popular professional wrestlers ever to appear in Roseburg, will again be featured on Matchmaker Don Owen's show at the armory arena in Roseburg Saturday night.

The former Dayton university football star won a popular victory over tough Tony Ross here last week and will be matched against an even more formidable opponent this week—Tony Morelli. The Italian villain is just as tough and tough as the "Toledo Terror," but will toss at least 10 more pounds at Achiu than Ross did.

Achiu, who has wrestled many heavyweights during his lengthy and colorful career, is confident of being able to handle the heavier Morelli and he has demonstrated here in the past his ability to break nearly any hold with his famous ju-jitsu tactics.

Morelli, a former steelmill worker and one of the most villainous matmen in the business, has appeared in the Pacific northwest previously, but has just returned from a successful tour of the east coast and southeastern states. This will be his first appearance here.

Morelli should be a natural opponent for Achiu, assuring Douglas county mat addicts one of the most colorful and rugged battles of the season. The Italian will be opening a campaign to gain the Pacific coast junior heavyweight title now held by Georges Dusette. He is too heavy to make the light-heavyweight class.

Owen promises another outstanding supporting program and will announce the preliminary principals later in the week.

WRESTLING

Brooklyn's 82 decision over the Phillies and Raffenberger. Davis allowed eight hits and came through with a homer. Sandlock slammed three hits.

Kuhel and Rookie George Binks each connected safely four times in Washington's 14-8 smothering of Philadelphia's Newsum.

Timely Chicago hitting, combined with Cleveland defensive jitters, gave Thornton Lee the verdict over Reynolds in a 5-2 game at Cleveland.
