The other main item, "kabobs," proved satisfying in all respects. Alaska

The eyes of the world are upon Alaska. Called "Seward's Folly" when it was purchased from Russia for $7,200,000, it is today realized to be truly "The Great Country," as the natives have always called it. Linking the Occident to the Orient, in the dawn of the Pacific Alaska will be on the trade-routes of a stupendous new world commerce. Itself a rich storehouse of fabulous treasures in minerals, timber, fish, fur-bearing animals, and even of areas of great agricultural fertility, it provides the West's greatest challenge to the spirit of the pioneer. Commercially served by modern steamships which ply sheltered inland seas of incomparable grandeur, Alaska will be the mecca of both tourists and enterprisers in the fascinating new world of the peace.

"Wish my Daddy was home to wear it!"

THAT'S a wish your mother shares with you, little lady. She knows, however, your Daddy still has to finish the job that took him so far away from you. But you may be sure he is counting on you and mother to keep things at home just as he left them—his civilian clothes brushed and fresh—the pup healthy and frisky—a smile on your lips and a song in your hearts.

And remember, there's one thing the Daddy you're homesick for would especially like to have someone tell him soon in a letter. What is it? Just that everyone in your neighborhood really did something handsome in buying 7th War Loan Bonds.
