Some Strikes End, New Ones Are Imminent

(By the Associated Press)

Nearly 15,000 workers in Detroit, Buffalo and Berwick, Pa., returned to their jobs today but approximately 6,000 others in the nation were idle and further work stoppages appeared imminent.

Strikes continued in Jersey City, N. J., Scranton, Pa., and Detroit while a new one, involving 3,400 workers, broke out in Rome, N. Y.

There was a possibility of walkouts in Akron, O., Newark, N. J., and New York.

Meanwhile, about 375 employes of the American Can company's Jersey City plants joined 1,000 other workers already idle in a wage dispute.

In Philadelphia, two officials of the Scranton Street Car Workers union who failed to appear at a regional War Labor board hearing yesterday to "show cause" why 400 Scranton Transit company workers should not return to work, were given 24 hours to decide whether they would appear before the board today.

The transit workers voted May 20 to go on strike for a new contract.

Other Strikes Threatened

CIO-United Rubber Workers in the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company's three Akron plants have voted almost three to one in favor of "permitting an interruption of work." URW officials contend negotiation machinery with the company has broken down.

Notification that employes of the Hoffman Beverage company in Newark will call a trike vote within 30 days unless a pay boost is given was sent to the regional WLB and the National Labor Relations board yesterday by the Bottled Beer Drivers, Warehousemen and Helpers union (AFL).

Teen-Age Club Dates, Dancing Class Rules Noted

On Tuesday evenings the Teen-Age club will run from 8 o'clock until 10 and continue to be open on Fridays from 8 to 11. The ballroom dancing classes for Junior and Senior High students, given by Mrs. Paul Jenkins, will be scheduled for 7 o'clock Tuesday evenings preceeding the Teen-Age club. These classes will continue only through the month of June, so any student who is not enrolled at the present may register for the next four weeks.

Starting Friday night June 1, Mrs. Vivian Kershner will be director in charge of the Teen-Age club. New membership tickets will be issued to students between the ages of 13 and 19 at no cost. However, starting June 1, there will be a 10 cent cover charge each night. No student will be admitted, however, until he produces his membership card. In this way the management of the club has a check on youth entering the club. The same elegibility rules apply as during the winter months.

1. Members must be between ages of 13 and 19.
2. Must present a membership ticket.
3. Must be a member of either Junior or Senior High student body or if not enrolled in school during school year, apply for ticket from director of club and have employer sign card and give a letter of recommendation.
4. A member has the privilege of bringing one out-of-town civilian guest in on his membership card, providing the guest is of teen age.
5. Service men of teen age who were formerly enrolled in the Roseburg schools may be admitted if with a member of the club.

Gentleman Burglar

PORTLAND, May 31.—(AP)—The burglar who entered the apartment of Helen M. La Chapelle was a gentleman.

The tenant had 22 packages of cigarets. The intruder opened a pack and smoked a single cigaret. He took another package with him, but left 15 cents.

SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION

By Charles V. Stanton

Voters in the Roseburg and Edenbower school districts will be called upon to attend a special election Friday, June 18, to determine the proposal to consolidate the two districts. With a special state election scheduled for Tuesday, June 22, at which time voters will pass upon two measures referred by the legislature, one to earmark $10,000,000 for a state building program, and the other to levy a tax on cigarettes to raise money for school purposes, it is very probable that the voters will become so weary thinking about going to the polls twice in five days that only a very small number will turn out for either election.

But these issues are of great importance and should be given a substantial expression of opinion, which can come only if a majority of the voters participate.

Edenbower school district, No. 33, is proposing to consolidate with Roseburg district No. 4. Before the consolidation can be effected it is necessary that voters in each district give approval.

Edenbower district has an assessed valuation of $350,000, a school census of approximately 100 and school enrollment of about 64. It has had a school budget requiring a levy of from 12 to 15 mills annually. If it continues its own school, it must add to its facilities and employ another teacher, which will bring its levy to approximately 30 mills.

The ratio of valuation to the school census in the two districts is about equal. Edenbower has a valuation of approximately $3,500 per capita on school census, while in Roseburg the ratio is approximately $3,100 for each person shown on the school census.

The debt situation also is favorable. Edenbower district has a debt of approximately $1,000. Roseburg district has a bonded debt amounting to about $57,000, but it has on hand $33,000 in a building sinking fund and $30,000 in a fund for alteration and repair of existing buildings, thus having more than enough cash on hand to offset its debt. The Roseburg district has an investment in lands and buildings amounting to about $365,000, while Edenbower's facilities are valued at $10,000.

Each district will levy its own tax for the forthcoming year, even though consolidation is approved, as the election is being held too late to provide a consolidated budget in time to meet the limit for filing with the county assessor.

Edenbower will vote on two budget proposals—one to be adopted if consolidation fails to meet approval, the other a normal budget to be used if both districts vote for consolidation.

It is our opinion that consolidation of the two districts should receive unanimous approval. Roseburg district is preparing to erect an elementary school building in Riverside, which will be available to students from Edenbower. Space for Junior high students is available in the Junior high building. Senior high school pupils already are being transported to the Roseburg district, as the Edenbower levy, after the first year, would be the same as in Roseburg.

We firmly believe in the theory of school consolidations wherever possible, as educational advantages improve in proportion to the size of the school, as a general rule, due to better facilities, specialized teaching staffs, and a wider scope of activities.

Consolidation of Roseburg and Edenbower districts would appear to be a "natural" and, in our opinion, is most desirable.

Air Medal Added To Honors Won by Cpl. Royal Denton

15TH AAF IN ITALY — Cpl. Royal S. Denton, 519 S. Stephens St., Roseburg, Ore., has been awarded the Air Medal at his B-24 Liberator base in Italy. The announcement was made by Col. Leroy L. Stetonowicz, Wildrose, N. D., commander of the 451st bombardment group.

Cpl. Denton, a Squadron Public Relations feature writer, received the award "for meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy."

Since his arrival in the Mediterranean theater in December, 1943, Corporal Denton has been in charge of all publicity within his squadron, as well as acting assistant non-commissioned officer of the group public relations office.

The official citation for the Air Medal reads in part:

". . . Prior to the invasion of southern France there existed an acute shortage of aerial photographers within the group. Corporal Denten immediately volunteered his services to fly the photo position. . . . Although inexperienced in combat flying, Corporal Denton was highly commended by his superior officers for his outstanding photo coverage of the target. . . ."

Other Honors Won

Since the air-to-ground support mission on August 15, his first combat mission, Denton has participated on seven other bombing attacks upon strategic and tactical targets in Yugoslavia, Greece and northern Italy, flying as a public relations feature photographer.

In addition to the Air Medal, Denton wears the Distinguished Unit Badge with two bronze clusters as a member of a group which has three times been cited "for outstanding performance of duty in armed conflict with the enemy," the Good Conduct Medal, and the Africa-European theater ribbon with eight bronze battle starts.

A graduate of Roseburg High school, and former student at University of Oregon, Denton enlisted in the Army Air Forces on Nov. 27, 1942. He received technical training in Los Angeles, Calif.

His parets, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Denton, live at the Roseburg address.

DAILY DEVOTIONS
DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

"And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding shall keep your hearts." This is a most comforting promise of times of trouble. It teaches us how we can find and keep peace. It all depends upon the state of our hearts and minds, and it must come from God. It is possible to have peace of heart and a cheerful disposition in spite of disturbing world conditions. The secret is in learning to rejoice in the Lord always. Singing and laughter drives away sorrow. When cares begin to disturb our minds, let us spend a while in prayer, and at the feet of Christ we shall find peace and rest. Let us learn to drive away sad thoughts and think only of that which is good and pure and lovely, and of good report. All that is conducive to peace. Then whatever comes, let us learn to be content. This is difficult, but our sufficiency is of God. By faith and trust we can say: "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." Faith in God, constant prayer, uplifting thoughts are the best cures for worry. Let us learn the art of fine living.—Amen.

Huge Manpower Drop to Occur Next Half Year

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—Manpower requirements for war and war production will drop by 4,800,000 in the next six months, chairman J. A. Krug of the war production board predicted today.

Attempts to persuade released workers to move to where jobs exist have met with little success so far, Krug asserted. He attributed this to wage differentials, seniority rights, unemployment compensation and family considerations.

Sgt. Miles Cooley Freed From Nazis, on Way Home

Mrs. I. A. Dunlap of Sutherlin has received word that her grandson, T-Sgt. Miles Cooley, who is with the army air corps, is en route home. He has been a prisoner of war in Germany. Sgt. Cooley is well-known around Roseburg and Sutherlin.

Cans for Mailing Foods Overseas to Be Available Here

Seal your foods for overseas mailing in tin cans, says Miss Doris McWhorter, war food Assistant for Douglas county. Foods keep better when sealed in tin cans and when they bear the Dept. of Agriculture label requiring no further inspection by censors.

Beginning June 2, a sealing service will be available at Miss McWorter's office, Federal building, Roseburg. Tin cans may be purchased at the office, filled, and returned for inspection,, labelling and sealing. There is no charge for this service except the cost of the cans. Hours for tin can sealing are Saturday forenoon and Monday 8 to 5.

Foods sealed in tin cans successfully are limited cheifly to fudges, hard candies, dried fruits candied fruits, nuts, cookies of the firmer types, fruit cake, and cheese. For information concerning foods not included on this list, call the county agent's office or write to Miss Doris McWorter, war food Assistant, Box 512, Roseburg, Oregon.

This county service is under the direction of Miss McWorter. Oregon has been one of the leading states in the overseas mailing project. The use of tin cans or tin boxes are the only types of containers giving assurance of reasonable success in mailing food overseas. Reports from servicemen receiving this type of a package have been very favorable, comments Miss McWhorter.

NEWS OF OUR MEN—WOMEN IN UNIFORM

It was a thrilling sight to see Americans, who had been prisoners of war for from 12 to 14 months, embark in transport planes for flights back to the United States, T-Sgt. Bruce Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, writes in a letter to his parents. He was with the 65th division in Patton's Third army, which feinted a thrust at Berlin, then turned southeast. Ferguson's outfit was detailed to guard prisoners of all nationalities, including a group of American aviators, who were released from German camps. A graduate of Roseburg High school, with the class of 1932, he was employed with the U. S. forest service at Tiller, prior to entering military service. His wife and small daughter reside in Oregon City.

Elwin Robertson, who is with Patton's Fourth Armored division in Germany, writes that he is well and keeping very busy. "Roseburg will look good," he writes in a letter to friends.

William F. Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Craig, Roseburg, has been enrolled at Childress army air field, Childress, Texas, for an 18 weeks' training period as a bombardier-navigator.

Sgt. Lee P. Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Carroll, Umpqua, is with the Ninth air force service command unit in Germany, a unit which recently was commended for outstanding operational status in maintenance of aircraft. He is an airplane mechanic with a mobile reclamation and repair squadron.

Harvey D. Vallier of Roseburg, son of Mrs. Shirley Colby, 220 Terrace Ave., has been promoted to technician fifth grade in the 846th engineer aviation battalion, now in Germany. He is employed as a radio operator. Prior to entering military service he was employed as a logger. He has been overseas for 27 months.

Wayne J. Hall of Sutherlin has been promoted to the rank of corporal at Camp Beale, Calif., where he is stationed at the army service forces personnel replacement depot.

James Judd, son of Mrs. Emily E. Judd, Roseburg, has been advanced to technician, fifth grade, according to word received by the mother. He is located in Brisbane, Australia, in the office of the fiscal director.

PFC Donald V. DeVore, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. DeVore of Canyonville, is currently assigned to the AAF redistribution station No. 4 at Santa Ana army air base. PFC DeVore, a truck driver in the 12th air force, entered the service in January, 1942, and went overseas June 4, 1942. He is entitled to wear the European Theater of Operations ribbon, with six battle stars.

Oakland Soldier Freed From Nazi Prison Camp

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Green of Oakland have been informed by telegram and letter, that their son, Sgt. Claude B. Green, who was a prisoner of war in Germany, has been returned to military control.

He was reported missing in action March 3, while on a bombing mission over Germany.

The parents received official notification from the War department that he had been released from prison camp and was back with American forces. At the same time they received a V-mail letter from their son, stating he is in good health and expects to be home soon.

Contempt Citation in Hospital Probe Revoked

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—The house veterans committee today rescinded its contempt citation against Albert Deutsch, New York newspaperman, and voted to recall him for further testimony about conditions in veterans hospitals.

The contempt complaint, voted a week ago when Deutsch, writer for PM, refused to identify persons he said had told him of conditions in veterans hospitals, was knocked out on a voice vote during a turbulent session of the committee.

House leaders nad told Chairman Rankin privately that the contempt citation could not be sustained in a floor test.

Dixonville Man Witness Of Franklin's Battle

Bombing of the U. S. S. Franklin was witnessed by W. A. Tison, A. M. 2-c, who is spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Tison at Dixonville, following his return from combat with the navy off Okinawa. Tison, aboard a sister ship of the Franklin and only a few miles away at the time of the bombing, was able to witness the gallant fight which the Franklin survived in one of the war's naval epics. He has been transferred to one of the newest of the navy's super carriers and will go to Norfolk, Va., following his visit at home.

DIAL-LOG

By SUSAN

We're coming in on the slow freight on this one, but we hope you heard it today anyway. "So Stands the Seventh" will be a weekly feature on Thursdays from 1:00 to 1:30 for the duration of the Mighty Seventh War Loan, so be watching for it next week. Anyway, here is a bit of information that isn't too late: This is the last night of Treasure Hour of Song at 6:30, and, in addition to the regular songbirds, Licia Albenese and Francesco Valentino, youl'll hear another Met opera star, Jan Peerce. The concluding number on tonight's show will be the Final Trio from "Faust" with the three artists. Next week "Starlight Serenade" will replace Treasure Hour of Song for the summer months and will feature songs by Bea Wain and Nestor Chayres. Bulldog Drummond at 8 tonight and Wings Over the Nation at 9:30, to round out the evening's entertainment, with the addition of the Newspaper of the Air at 9 and Rex Miller at 9:15, and that's the picture for tonight. Remember too that tomorrow morning is filled to overflowing with good listening spots. Lanney and Ginger, William Lang, Morton Downey, Something to Talk About . . . and we might even have a special feature for you on the Wheel, but we can't promise that for sure. It's an idea that hasn't jelled yet.

Class Meeting Announced — The United Workers class of the First Christian church will meet Friday at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Paul Blaschke at 806 Winchester street.

Bond Drive Progress to Be Radio Program Topic

"So Stands the 7th," a new radio program, originated exclusively in Douglas county, will be broadcast each Thursday from 1 to 1:30 p. m. from Radio Station KRNR, the first program in the series having been released today. The half-hour program will give listeners close contact with the progress of the Mighty Seventh War Loan campaign, as they will hear telephone conversation between six principal communities giving reports on bond sales in each section.

Information regarding sales ideas, unusual individual efforts and other interesting items will give a progressive current picture of standings in war bond sales on a community and county-wide basis.

New Manager for Shell Company Arrives Here

Joe Spousta, Eugene, has arrived in Roseburg to take the place made vacant by the resignation of Roy Sunderland, Shell Oil company manager for the Roseburg area. The assignment originally had been offered Bud Husted, Cottage Grove, who, however, after unsuccessful efforts to find suitable housing for his family in Roseburg, requested permission to remain in his present location.

Mr Spousta has been with the company for 10 years, serving at Portland, Medford, Silverton and Stayton prior to his appointment as industrial supervisor at Eugene, where he has been located for the past two years.

Mr. Sunderland, who has been employed with the company for 20 years, is going to Brookings, Ore., where he has purchased a mercantile business.

Glass has been developed which is so tough and resistant to heat and breakage that it can be used for piping.

Lee Mapes Sticks His Neck Out

We had a meeting at the Town Hall Friday night, and when Homer Bently spoke up for a new roof for the schoolhouse, Lee Mapes interrupts him.

"How long you been in this town?" Lee demands.

"Fourteen years," says Homer proudly.

"Then you keep quiet!" says Lee. "We can't have transients running things in our town."

I'm glad to report that all of us voted Lee down and let Homer have his say. I'm glad not just because the school did need a new roof, but because it doesn't do to let intolerance and prejudice creep into a community.

"Whether a man's stayed "put" a lifetime or a year, whether he works with his head or his hands, drinks beer or buttermilk—so long as he's a good American he has a right to speak his mind, and have his opinions (however different they may be) respected.

the FEED BAG

Vol. VII No. 20 — Published Weekly by the Douglas County Flour Mill Mfgrs. of Umpqua and Sunrise Poultry and Dairy Feeds — May 31, 1945.

NOT ABOUT FEED, BUT ABOUT SHARING RIDES.

People are funny, don't you think? When this danged war first started nothing was too good for the service man. We staged big parties for the boys when they left the home town, promised to meet them with a brass band when they returned, hold their jobs open for them, and in general, give them the honor and appreciation they deserved.

But of course, we didn't think the war was going to last so long. And even if it did, we thought we could keep our patriotic fervor and love of the self-sacrificing service man up to pitch for years, even. But apparently four years is a long time to carry coal for the fires of patriotism and gratitude. Some of the fires have been out for some time, and a lot of them are burning plenty low.

Same thing happened twenty five years ago. We marched along the street and sang the war songs with them as they went to the train. We filled the air with shouts, laughter and confetti when they came home, (though it was only a year and a half). And the boys sold apples and pencils on the streets a few weeks later.

Driving back from Medford Sunday afternoon, we stopped and picked up a GI Joe. The first thing he said was "Well, thanks a lot, folks! I had about given up. I have thumbed every car for over an hour, and you are the first to stop. Do I look so terrible?"

On the contrary, he was a swell looking chap, clean and neat. He had several campaign ribbons on; North Africa, Anzio, Salerno. He is now stationed at Camp White. Had a date with a girl at Grants Pass for Sunday afternoon, and here it was nearly night. We hope she waited for him, and excused him for being late for the date.

As we rode along, he soliloquised: "What the H--- have we been fighting for? Is it to make the world a better place to live in? Or is it to make good jobs for part of the people to get so high hat they can't see a service man when they drive past? I'm sure I don't get it myself." We wondered, too.

Just out of the Pass, we found a sailor. Stopped and invited him in. "Gee, thanks, folks. Ive been waiting a long time." "Where you going, Sailor?" "Up to Corvallis. Want to surprise my wife and kid. Hoped to get there this evening. How much farther is it?" "Oh about 200 miles." "Well, no chance tonight then."

"How long you been in, Sailor?" "Oh, a little over three years". He had been in a lot of hot fighting. Was on an old LCI. Just in from Okinawa. Had been hitching rides for 36 hours, and was tired and sleepy. We suggested he take a nap, and we would wake him at Roseburg. He slept like a baby.

But the wild, terrified look on that sailor boy's face when we awakened him from a sound sleep as we drove into Roseburg—is a sight we will be a long time forgetting. His eyes popped open instantly: he was wide awake; he looked right and left, and up; probably looking for subs or planes. When he realized where he was a sheepish grin spread over his face. But we didn't have the heart to laugh at him, or with him.

Friends, these boys and ten million others are enduring hardships, fighting a war, bleeding and dying, while you and I stay home and make good money in comfort. Do you think they expect too damn much when they ask us to give them a lift? Maybe they are just back, like this soldier and sailor. Maybe they are just going home for a last short leave before "shoving off". In any event, can't we take a few seconds to stop the car for them to get in, and another few seconds to let them off? We're going anyway, and it sure doesn't cost much to take them with us.

They haven't counted the cost. Why should we? There's a bond drive on now, but these boys will still be looking for a ride after the bond drive is over the top.

NOT SO BAD.

Ed Peterson, out Brockway way, feels pretty well satisfied with Umpqua feeds. He started 1243 chicks this spring. All New Hamps, and part of them from the winning flock in the California egg laying contest. The chix are all the way from three to twelve weeks old, and the total loss to date is fourteen. This includes the ones Ed stepped on, and the ones the trough fell on, too.

We just wonder how many Ed would have had, if he were using some of the highly advertised feeds.

EASILY SATISFIED.

Reporter, (near front lines): "If you could serve some place other than here at the front, where would you like it to be?"

Mud-covered GI: "Oh, I could stand it in some dirty noisy old war plant making a lousy $150 a week".

GET TURKEYS OUT.

Considering the fact that wild turkeys and game birds raise their young in all kinds of weather, it is remarkable how much codling some folks give their poults. It must be remembered that turkeys are not far from the wild state, and should be raised accordingly.

Air tight brooder houses are dynamite. Poor ventilation is TNT. Turkeys grow so fast that before we realize it, they are too big for their houses. Get them used to lower temperatures early, and get 'em out doors to roost before you lower their disease resistance by oxygen starvation.
