such has been representing Chungking China at San Francisco—where he has commanded considerable respect among those who have seen him in action.

His elevation to the premiership may be quite significant, for he seems to get along fairly well with the CHINESE COMMUNISTS and therefore gets along with Stalin better than other Chungking Chinese.

It must be borne in mind always that there are TWO Chinas—communist China in the north and Chungking China in the south. So far both have been anti-Jap but have eyed each other like a couple of suspicious dogs.

THIS writer's advice is to keep your fingers strictly crossed on ALL news emanating from China AS YET. The real situation there is still obscured by a double censorship—China's and ours.

Let's wait and HOPE. If what seems to be happening there turns out to be true it won't be good news for Japan. After all, our FIRST job is to lick the Jap. The REMAKING of Asia will come later.

THE battle of the Ryukyus, of which Okinawa is the flaming center, is still in the Jap suicide phase.

A Tokyo radio commentator, who is referred to in the dispatches as "authoritative," says that since suicide attacks are the best weapon remaining to Japan they will be extended to all branches of the navy (air, surface, submarines, etc.).

These suicide attacks are admittedly causing us considerable naval losses. In less than a week, recent dispatches reveal, they have damaged 26 of our ships and sunk one. Secretary Forrestal calls for 20,000 more workers in Pacific coast shipyards to repair the damage that is EXPECTED as they step up these suicide attacks.

WELL just have to wait to see what the Japs are able to accomplish with their suicide warfare. Common sense tells us that it is a defense measure born of desperation. It is obviously based on the belief of their leaders that there are plenty more Japs where the suicide victims come from.

ON the other side of the world, there is an amazing and in a way disillusioning news from Syria. It is disillusioning because the French seem to be seizing this moment of international stress and strain to GET THEIRS.

THE trouble started when SYRIAN CONSCRIPTS bolted away from French military units, which FIRED INTO the Syrian crowds that welcomed the fugitives.

It spread all through the next day. Damascus was bombed by the French, with pretty heavy loss of life (accounts of the number killed and wounded vary).

LET'S QUIT LOAFING

By Charles V. Stanton

Douglas county is lagging most seriously in the Mighty Seventh War Loan. At last reports we were near the bottom of the list of Oregon counties, a place which is unprecedented for Douglas, which throughout the entire war financing program has been consistently at the top of the column.

There is no excuse for our failure, aside from the fact that we simply have been negligent. There is ample idle money in the hands of our population to meet our quota many times over. Savings accounts and bank deposits are at an all time high. We could easily have met our entire quota on the first day of the campaign, except for our apathy.

People apparently are waiting to be coaxed or inspired into buying bonds. In the previous drives, bond workers have pleaded and solicited. They have staged entertainments. They have expended much effort to promote bond sales. So far in the Mighty Seventh there has not been the expenditure of energy on the part of salesmen and community leaders that has marked previous campaigns. Actually, there is no reason why a vast amount of promotion on the part of a few people should be required. We are all equally concerned in the war and its successful termination. We have no reason to expect a few people to give of their time to prod us into doing the thing we should be doing voluntarily—and gladly. But, nevertheless, it appears that prodding will be required if we are to meet our quota.

There is, perhaps, one good reason—not an excuse—why the Seventh War Loan is dragging, not only in Douglas county, but in many other communities, and that is because of less newspaper publicity and advertising. Newspapers generally are struggling with the newsprint problem. There are a few localities, however, in which newspapers have an ample supply of newsprint. The fact that in those localities the War Loan campaign is ahead of the general average is so conspicuous that the power of advertising is most emphatically demonstrated.

In previous campaigns, newspapers have been able to give a great amount of space to both publicity and advertising, but now are finding it increasingly difficult to meet demands made for space.

The News-Review has been furnished with ample funds by the Roseburg Victory council to conduct an extensive War Bond advertising campaign, but we will not be able to approach, even remotely, the lineage devoted to past War Bond drives. No one regrets this more than the News-Review, but our shortage of newsprint makes it impossible for us to provide space as freely as before.

And while we are referring to the Victory council we believe a word of appreciation to that organization is in order. The Roseburg Victory council is a group of approximately 80 business and professional individuals and firms contributing a weekly sum to be used in cooperative war-aid advertising under the supervision of the Retail Merchants committee of the Roseburg chamber of commerce. It served as a pattern for similar organizations formed in hundreds of other cities and towns throughout the nation. The war bond certificate plan of the Seventh War Loan, in which certificates of bond purchases are sent men and women in military service, is a modification of an original Douglas County Honor Roll plan, sponsored by the Victory council, the News-Review and the Douglas County War Savings Staff as a feature of the Fifth War Loan. The campaign attracted nation-wide attention, and national headquarters obtained from the News-Review a detailed summary of all procedure and copies of materials, together with tear sheets of all publicity.

The Victory council has every right to be exceedingly proud of its accomplishments and the examples it has furnished in patriotic cooperation.

The council members have contributed generously and willingly; but for several months no payments have been made, simply because the News-Review could not provide space to utilize all of the advertising fund. There is on hand a sufficient amount to meet the advertising expense of the Seventh War Loan on an extensive scale, but it is doubtful if the newsprint shortage will make it possible to utilize all of the contribution.

We realize the handicap limitation of advertising places upon the sales staff of the War Bond committee, and, obviously, our regret is sincere because it also is selfish, as we are losing revenue which otherwise would be received.

Unable to give normal space either to advertising or publicity, the News-Review is urging every reader to accept his or her responsibility voluntarily. Let's quite loafing on the job. Let's buy those war bonds without being urged, prodded, entertained and coaxed. Let's get Douglas county out of the tail-end division—a spot completely foreign to our people—and back up at the top of the list, where we belong. We can put our quota of E bonds over the top immediately if everyone will give individual cooperation.

British and French forces. (That is to say: "Stop shooting, or WELL SHOOT TOO.")

The British ultimatum has all the earmarks of international dynamite.

THE trouble is that the Levant states (of which Syria is one) are STRATEGIC GROUND. They command communications through the Suez canal. There is OIL all around. They are the traditional material of which international complications are made.

They were mandated to the French after the last war. The French obviously want to hang onto them now as a part of the empire they are seeking to rebuild.

It is clear that the British mean business.

With a red hot political campaign on, in which he'd like nothing better than to catch Churchill's Conservative government in a bear trap, Allee, leader of the Labor party, tells the house of commons (in regard to the Syrian ruckus) that "every-one joins in deploring the bloodshed between our allies, but under the circumstances we had no option in our responsibility to restore order."

THIS flare-up in Syria, which has been out of our minds entirely since clear back in 1943, when the Germans started stirring up trouble there, is an excellent illustration of the explosive nature of the world situation today.

Portland Blanks Seattle to Stretch Its League Lead

(By the Associated Press) The Beavers continued their return to winning form after a two-week losing streak and stretched their Pacific Coast league lead to three and a half games.

The Beavers, overcoming the double handicap of injuries, shut out Seattle last night for their fourth victory in five starts.

In the race for third place the San Francisco Seals also made it four out five over Oakland to creep within a game of the Aconis. Sacramento blanked San Diego for the second night in a row to remain half a game behind the Seals, while Los Angeles evened its series with Hollywood at two-all.

Portland's 5-0 victory over the Rainiers was never in doubt after the first six innings as Helsler pitched flawless five-hit ball behind the early five-run lead to which his mates spotted him. Patrice, 18-year-old Seattle mound ace, was charged with the defeat.

Ex-Mates Defeat Gibson San Francisco's 5-2 win over Oakland came in a highly touted "slugfest" game at the expense of "Sad Sam" Gibson, former Seal hurler, now with the Aconis. Gibson is credited with have made uncharitable remarks about the Seals when he was released before the start of the season, and both teams had beaten the drums loudly on their intention of winning his ex-teams.

Sacramento's 5-0 blanking of San Diego stretched the Padres' string of consecutive scoreless innings to 23. Babbitt turned in a four-hit job on the hill for the Solons.

Another four-hitter was tossed by Hicks in the Angels' 9-2 decision over Hollywood.

DIAL-LOG

By SUSAN

Here are a few special times to check on 1:30 on the dial for your listening pleasure tomorrow. There's sentiment and music on the 10:30 sweetheart time in the morning, and there's Norel that Song at 1:30. Naturally you've been listening to both of these, plus Your America at 1. And tomorrow there's a new who-who-in-the-2-to-2:30 time, G. C. Chesterton's beloved "F" that he's known with a log in his eye listening to Mutual Don Lee at that time, and of course he needs no introduction to readers of crime and detection fiction. Remember, too, the Abbotts are guest detecting on Quick as a flash as it bows out for the summer.

We'd like to call your attention especially to Bookmarks at 1:30. There's a special album of music scheduled for this half hour that is, well... delightful is the only word we can think of at the moment. It's "Peter and the Wolf," narrated by Basil Rathbone, with Leopold Stokowski conducting the All-American orchestra. It will be enjoyed by both children and adults. We know Mark this down as a "don't miss." You'll also hear the second performance of "Off the Record" at 6:45. Sorry we don't know what is on tap for you here.

Rex Miller will be heard in the 9:15 spot this Sunday evening, his first Sunday broadcast for us. We now carry his commentary on Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday evenings at 9:15 in addition to his daily Monday through Friday broadcasts at 4:15 in the afternoon. Try listening to him for a while. He may be an acquired taste with you, too, but what he says makes good sense and we find that we grasp the ideas he presents, which is more than we can say about some of the other commentators on the air.

And remember the new 7-15 a. m. Smile Tune show coming

Reds Getting Rid Of Top Germans, Senator Charges

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said yesterday, high London and Paris authorities had heard reports that the Russians are "liquidating" professional people in Berlin and other occupied German areas they control.

Brewster stated these reports had come to him on his trip with the senate's Mead committee investigating the status of U. S. war materiel in Europe. He returned with Senator Ball (R-Minn.), and made his statement concerning the Russians in an interview.

He asserted the "liquidation" reports mentioned lawyers, business men and "other professionals."

Brewster said the Mead committee was denied access to the areas under soviet control.

"The Russians should realize that these reports—which we heard from competent authorities—will continue as long as they refuse access to the American press," he asserted.

Brewster said the story the committee members heard was that the Russians are "fraternizing" with the ordinary German but were "liquidating" the top crust.

"They are not following our policy of non-atomization," Brewster said. "The report is that they are developing and encouraging the proletariat."

Sen. Ball said he understood that U. S. army authorities "are bringing pressure" on the Russians to open up the areas they control to Americans in authority.
