

"Little People" of Russia Honored By Stalin's Toast

LONDON, June 26—(AP)—The Moscow radio said today that Premier Stalin had proposed the following toast to "the little people" of Russia at a victory banquet in the Russian capital:

"I should like to drink to the health of people of whom few hold rank and whose titles are not envied, the people who are considered to be cogs in the wheels of great state apparatus but without whom all of us—marshals and army commanders—are, to put it crudely, not worth a tinker's damn, because if one of the cogs goes out of commission the whole thing is done for."

"I propose a toast for the simple, ordinary, modest people—for those cogs who keep our great state machine going in all branches of science, national economy and military affairs."

"There are very many of them. Their name is legion. They are tens of millions of people. They are modest people. Nobody writes anything about them. They have no titles and few of them hold ranks."

"But they are the people who support us as the base supports the summit."

"I drink to the health of these people, our respected comrades."

Two-State Liquor Deal Under Probe

PORTLAND, June 26—(AP)—Members of the Oregon state liquor control commission and Administrator Ray Conway were to appear today before the state legislative committee investigating the Oregon-Washington $7,300,000 liquor distillery purchase. State Senator Paul Patterson, Hillsboro, committee chairman, reported after yesterday's hearings that auditors found no evidence of fraud in the deal. The auditors said liquor stocks checked accurately with purchase receipts.

Patterson said the committee plans to ask about a "gentleman's agreement" involving 10,000 bottles of whiskey which he says Washington owes Oregon.

He said the division of liquor warehouse receipts left Oregon a short 5 of 1 per cent of her share, and that Washington was to adjust the matter later.

Other questions include what is to be done with empty barrels. They are worth about $65,000, he said.

The auditors said that on part of the stocks, most of the older whiskey went to Washington, which might boost Washington's profit margin.

In Roseburg—Domingo Sabala and son, Pete, of Wilbur were in Roseburg Tuesday shopping and visiting.
