In the Day's News

to our own) but the aggregate of such cases mentioned in the news has been almost infinitesimally small.

These North Luzon and Okinawa campaigns occurred AFTER the Japanese lost their hold on the sea and air lanes. So VERY FEW wounded Japs could have been evacuated to the homeland.

THIS question arises naturally in our minds: What happens to a Jap when he is wounded too severely to go on fighting?

There is no clear and definite answer, but from scraps of information pieced together from accounts of eyewitness correspondents, together with scanty but significant communiques from MacArthur's headquarters, we can deduce this solution of the mystery:

The suicide-indoctrinated Japs must KILL THEIR OWN severely wounded, or the wounded must kill themselves.

HOW, otherwise, can we explain the staggering totals of Jap dead (which are based largely upon our own count of enemy bodies) and the practically total lack of evidence to as any considerable number of Jap wounded?

RECENT statistics are lacking, but the latest figures available indicate that the lives of more than 96 per cent of our wounded are saved.

THESE totals of killed and wounded in the North Luzon and Okinawa campaigns are heavily weighted in our favor, but even so they don't tell the whole story—for they include OUR NAVAL LOSSES.

The Japs who have gone to the bottom of the sea are uncounted and unguessed at.

THE Japanese high command seems to have carried on the Pacific war so far on the cynical theory that there are plenty more cannon-fodded Japs where these came from.

It might pay them to give some consideration to the fact that even the biggest barrel can run empty in time if only the bunghole is large enough.

AT any rate, the Jap commanders are fighting their war with reckless disregard of human life. We are going to the opposite extreme, saving every American life we possibly can.

The figures so far indicate rather plainly that—even leaving humanity and decency out of consideration—our way is the WAY TO WIN A WAR.

IN the fighting around Okinawa, Jap suicide planes sank 33 of our ships (destroyers or smaller) and damaged 60 of all sizes. We had a total of 1400 ships engaged. Lumping the sunk and the damaged (which are being repaired) together, the losses inflicted by the kamikazes amount to only 6.4 per cent of our ships. In the Okinawa fighting, the Japs lost 4,000 planes—kamikazes and others.

Again the figures are against them.

IN the north Pacific, one of our task forces gets into the Sea of Okhotsk and wrecks a Jap supply convoy of five vessels. If our navy can thus roam around in the Sea of Okhotsk, we can pour supplies into SIBERIA.

THE Japs say Balikpapan, on Borneo, has been virtually destroyed by a 20-day air bombardment, with our surface warships bombarding the town every third day. The Australians are spreading out north and south from Brunei bay and have the big Seria and Miri oil fields completely in their possession.

THE Jap radio is burbling about suicide preparations to defend the homeland against invasion by us. One Domei correspondent just back from a tour of "special attack" bases all over Japan flaps his wings and crows: "I even HOPE for an early landing of enemy forces on our mainland just to SENSE THE THRILL when we strike a deadly blow to the enemy."

(We might remind him of the fabled Irishman who sensed the thrill of rubbing the bull's nose in the dirt, but didn't do so well when he climbed the corral fence and tried it on the bull.)

WE CAN MAKE IT WORK

By Charles V. Stanton

The plan for world organization as outlined at the United Nations' conference in San Francisco is to be placed immediately before the United States Senate for ratification and all indications point to approval with but little delay and practically negligible opposition. Representatives from 50 nations have spent two months in composition of the World Charter, a document which may mean much to the world or which may be as worthless as the Treaty of Versailles, depending entirely upon whether the subscribing nations and the peoples of those nations are determined that it must and shall work.

The World Charter is a starting place for a program of international cooperation. We are not concerned over its reception in some places with suspicion and skepticism. There are many who say it won't work; that another war is inevitable. History may prove the critics to be correct in their views. But we must remember that the same things were said about the Constitution of the United States. It was bitterly derided by many people in high places. But our Constitution HAS worked because we willed that it MUST work. The future of the World Charter rests entirely upon the measure of DETERMINATION shown by peace-loving peoples of the world.

The machinery is ample to accomplish the purpose. The World Charter provides for a General Assembly, Security Council, Economic and Social Council, Trusteeship Council, International Court, Military Staff Committee, Secretariat, Specialized Commissions.

The General Assembly permits of not more than five representatives from each of the 50 nations, each nation to have one vote. The Security Council, which controls the police powers, has permanent seats for the "Big Five" nations, with six other nations to have representatives for two-year terms on a rotating basis. The Economic and Social Council will do research work on the causes of war. Its membership will consist of representatives from 18 nations, each elected for three-year terms. The Trusteeship Council consists of balanced representation from nations holding trusteeships over dependent peoples and nations who do not have trusteeships. The International Court, consisting of 15 judges, each from a different nation and elected for nine-year terms, will be the court in which disputes between nations will be heard. The Military Staff Committee will serve as advisor on military affairs to the Security Council, particularly with relation to the armed forces needed to make the Charter effective. The Secretariat is an administrative staff. Specialized Commissions will be set up in whatever fields may be found necessary by the Economic and Social Council "for the promotion of human rights."

The purposes of the Charter are set forth in its preamble as follows:

> To save succeeding generations from the scourge of war, which has brought untold sorrow to mankind, and
> —To reaffirm faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person, in the equal rights of men and women and of nations large and small, and
> —To establish conditions under which justice and respect for the obligations arising from treaties and other sources of international law can be maintained, and
> —To promote social progress and better standards of life in larger freedom, and for these ends
> —To practice tolerance and live together in peace with one another as good neighbors, and
> —To unite our strength to maintain international peace and security, and
> —To insure, by the acceptance of principles and the institution of methods, that armed force shall not be used, save in the common interest, and
> —To employ international machinery for the promotion of the economic and social advancement of all peoples.

As a group of nations we have expressed a desire to live together in harmony and to join forces in controlling those nations which would make war. We have set up machinery to achieve that purposes.

We can, if we desire, view the experiment with suspicion and an attitude of skepticism. We can withhold judgment until the effectiveness of the World Charter has been demonstrated by experience. But if we have sufficient determination, that the plan MUST work, then we can MAKE it work so that "nation shall not lift up the sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

DIAL-LOG

By SUSAN

Plenty of program changes coming up for the first of the week in KRNR's programming. 'Pears like as if we'll have to break down and tell yoh what's what.

Eltone Britt and some western guys start a new series beginning Monday at 10:30 a. m. They'll be there every Monday, Wednesday and Friday—they're called the Mentholatum Mountaineers, which is a name they took a purpose so you couldn't guess the sponsor. That program nudged Kampfer's Swap Shop ahead for 15 minutes, so you'll hear it beginning Monday at 10:45 a. m. Johnson Family at 1:15 Starting Monday.

By the way have you listened to Del Ramsdell's new 10 minute show each morning at 8:45 for Bishops—its called What Do You Know. Del shuffles up a new set of questions each morning and asks listeners to telephone him while he's on the air with correct answers—first correct answer by phone gets a free picture sitting from Bishops—on Fridays he asks for answers by mail and directs his quiz principally to out-of-town listeners.

You band music fans will be glad to know that Here Comes the Band returns Monday night. You'll hear it at 8:30 for a full 30 minutes with the Victory Military band. Early Wiley, realtor is the new sponsor.

After this Sunday Cedric Foster moves up to 3:30 p. m. Sundays. Earl Wilson and Helen Hayes Sunday night shows go off for the summer after tomorrow night.

President Truman speaks Monday morning at 9:45.

Oyster Ceiling Set

WASHINGTON, June 30—(AP)—A temporary ceiling price of $11.40 on Coos Bay oysters, for a case of 48 No. 1 cans, was announced today by the OPA. The previous ceiling was $11.20.

The ceiling on tall can packs was listed at $18.

Top Wrestlers in Tonight's Events At Armory Here

A double main event which would provide all of the fireworks needed for a Fourth of July celebration will be presented to Roseburg wrestling fans tonight at the armory. In the top half, Buck Davidson will be out for a win over Jack Kiser, the popular "Tiger Man." Kiser sets a fine example for the young lads, as he doesn't drink or use tobacco and is always in top shape. Kiser said that he was a little stale in his last appearance here, but was back in the groove now, and Mr. Davidson had better be on his toes.

Ernie Piluso, the Portland shipyard worker, will tangle with the powerful Finn, Paavo Katonen, in the first half of the program. The winner of this match has been promised a bout with George Dussette for the junior heavy crown.

Katonen has agreed to present a short exhibition of commando tactics before the matches begin. Defenses against attack by club, knives, and common choking will be given. Katonen says he will give anyone a club and defy him to hit him with it. The program will get under way at the usual time—8:30 p. m.

Beavers Add One Game to League Lead Over Rainiers

(By The Asociated Press)

Portland's Beavers and San Francisco's Seals highballed down the Pacific Coast league track today with throttles wide open—the Beavers with a 5½ game first place lead and the Seals within two games of the second-spot Seattle Rainiers.

Portland added a full game to its margin over Seattle by downing Sacramento 4-1 for the third consecutive night, while the O'Doulmen racked up their fourth one-run victory in a row over Los Angeles 4-3.

Oakland was tripped up by Hollywood's Stars 7-2. San Diego's Padres squared their series with the Rainiers at 2-all with a 6-5 win.

Portland broke a 1-1 deadlock with Sacramento in the first of the sixth with a three-run attack that put its game on ice.

San Diego came from behind in shading Seattle 6-5. Farmer Hal Turpin was working on a narrow 4-3 lead when the Padres got to him for three runs in the last of the eighth, all of them being scored on Third Baseman Lyman's wild throw to first after fielding a slow infield dribbler.

Eleven Troops Fill Lucky Boy Scout Camp

CAMP LUCKY BOY—Eleven Boy Scout troops are using Camp Lucky Boy, summer training camp of the Oregon Trail council, during period one which opened last Sunday.

Scoutcraft, handicraft, water activities, hiking, campfires, and other Boy Scout camp activities were scheduled by troop leaders for the one-week stay.

Six hundred Boy Scouts from Coos, Curry, Douglas, Benton, Lane, and Lincoln counties will be at Camp Lucky Boy with their troops this summer during the nine-week season.

Rent Control — How it Operates

(Editor's Note—This is one of a series of articles authorized by the Rent Control division of the OPA for the general information of landlords, tenants and owners of rental property. Specific information may be obtained at rent control board headquarters in the OPA office, Roseburg.)

Sometimes hotel managers post a sign stating that occupancy is limited to five or six days. Pressed for an explanation, a guest is sometimes told this is so because the OPA requires it.

OPA says nothing about how long a guest may stay. A hotel manager has the right to ask any tenant on a daily or weekly basis to vacate at any time, of course. Even here there are exceptions. OPA says that a guest who stays over a certain number of days can ask for a weekly rate, and, if the hotel's quota of weekly rentals is not filled, the guest must be given such a rate, and that the guest who has not requested such a rate may not be evicted. Many hotels set the six-day limit to avoid such requests, and in this they have the good will of OPA, since otherwise a scarcity of badly-needed transient accommodations might develop.

Nor does OPA say how low a rent maybe. It says only how high it may be. Landlords can, if they chose, rent below the ceiling without any order from OPA whatsoever, and without establishing a new rent ceiling.

Winning Streak of Olympians Snapped By Elks in Batfest

The rampaging Elks club nine, which has been winning consistently since adding to its pitching strength, toppled the league leading Olympia Supplymen in a free scoring game last night, taking the contest by a score of 15 to 11, while Dunham's took an overtime battle from Sutherlin, 9 to 6.

The Elks ran wild in the first inning of their game with the Olympians, landing on Peterson for nine hits and 11 runs in the first frame. Peterson, however, gained control in the second inning, but ran into more trouble in the third, being nicked for four hits and four runs, but gave up only one hit in the remaining innings.

The determined Olympians started whittling away at the early lead gained by the Elks and pushed over seven runs in the first two innings and broke loose in the fourth for four hits and three runs. Walton went to the mound to relieve Amos and dashed the hopes of the Olympians by limiting them to two hits and one run for the balance of the contest.

Dunham's Triumph

Despite good pitching by Vang, who chalked up nine strikeouts, Sutherlin dropped a nine-inning contest to Dunham's, 9 to 6. Sutherlin pushed over a run in the last of the seventh to tie the score at 6-all. The eighth inning was scoreless, but Dunham's secured two safeties and three runs, being aided by errors, in the ninth to win the ball game.

Vicksburg Wound Heals, Will Celebrate July 4

VICKSBURG, Miss., June 29—(AP)—Residents of this old Civil war siege city will hold their first city-wide Independence day celebration since ante-bellum days next Wednesday as a gesture toward national unity to bind old wounds.

With their sons and daughters engaged in the nation's greatest war effort, Vicksburg citizens have decided to lay aside those bitter memories of the past and go all out for the city's glorious fourth.

Vicksburg fell to the unionists July 4, 1863, after a 47-day siege. Citizens of this old confederate stronghold, keeping alive the memories of starvation and the blood-spilling of their fathers, have never felt like celebrating before.

Graziano Knocks Out Cochrane in 10th Round

NEW YORK, June 30.—(AP)—Welterweight Champion Freddie "Red" Cochrane was knocked out by Rocky Graziano in the 10th and last round of their non-title bout at Madison Square garden last night, but he made good his pre-fight statement that he was "no bum."

Graziano, a 1 to 2 favorite, flattened Cochrane in 16 seconds of the 10th with a hard right flush on the chin.

The bell had saved Cochrane from a ninth round knockout. He had been nailed by a right, Graziano's best punch, just before the gong rang at the count of five.
