Writer Tells Of Denmark During German Control

Miss Mary Lobeck, formerly of Roseburg, and now living in Copenhagen, Denmark, has written to her sister, Mrs. Edwin Rand, here, describing the German occupation of Denmark. She made her home with Mrs. Rand until 1935.

She writes, "I hope you haven't been worrying about us these years, because we have always had enough to eat, and Dad and I bought plenty of clothing when the war started, so we have not been in need of anything important. Only coffee, tea, and chocolate, and in the latter months tobacco has been a little scarce."

"It was no fun last winter. One day there was a street fight between HIPP and our resistance people and the bullets flew over our houses. I was not at home, but visiting not far off. Dad was up town and thought it was happening almost in our yard. He hurried home afterwards, and was glad it had been a little farther away."

"Once when we had the big strike I almost had to walk home. Part of the way I did go, but only for about 20 minutes. I suppose you have heard of that strike. The Germans finally shut off both water and electricity but we won the strike anyway. You have probably heard of the taking of our police also. Since that day it was no fun to be on the street."

Hiking Top Detail At Scouts' Camp

CAMP LUCKY BOY—Hiking will continue to be one of the main features at Camp Lucky Boy when the one-week period opens Sunday at this Blue River Boy Scout camp.
A limited number of scouts from the eight troops which will use the Oregon Trail council camp during the three period will take a special 25-mile, two-day trip to Carpenter mountain and Frissell Point, according to Charles Stevenson, hike director, who will lead the trip.

Un-American Inquiry Rests on One-Man Report

WASHINGTON, July 13—(AP)—The house committee on un-American activities decided today to send an investigation to the Pacific coast immediately to check on reports of subversive activities there.
"We will await word from our man, and if he indicates further action is needed we will take it," chairman Wood said. "Meanwhile, we aren't going to get all excited about these reports until we know there is basis for them."

Spilled Milk

ROCKFORD, Ill., July 13—(AP)—Alex Conratti believes he has a legitimate reason to cry over spilled milk.
A one-gallon jug of milk upset in his car when he made a turn, and the cork popped out. Conratti tried to right the jug but his car crashed into a parked car, careened across the street and hit a fire hydrant.

Back From Vacation

Meta-Marie Amiot, who is employed at the Douglas Welfare Commission office, has returned to Roseburg, following a nine-day vacation as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Olin in Oakland, Calif., and visiting in San Francisco. She is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. W. E. Amiot, who reside on East Lane street.

THE "ENEMY" AT HOME

By Charles V. Stanton

Smoke and haze from forest fires have been swirling over parts of Douglas county during the last few days. The smoke, fortunately for us, does not come from fires within our own forests but is drifting in from other sections of the state. However, it is only because of extreme diligence and a very substantial measure of good luck that destruction is not now raging through tinder-dry forests of Douglas county. It may be our turn tomorrow.

Continued warm weather and low humidity during the past few days have combined to create a most serious fire danger. The least carelessness could prove extremely costly. Observers, guards, smoke-chasers and protection crews, stationed strategically throughout our forests, are keeping strict watch for tell-tale wisps of smoke, while well-organized and trained firemen are ready at a moment's notice to speed to the scene of a fire.

Many people are apprehensive regarding possibility of widespread forest fires resulting from Japanese balloon bombs. But the threat from enemy bombs does not worry our foresters nearly so much as the constant menace from the careless camper, hunter or fisherman.

We are not permitted to tell how many Jap balloons have landed in Douglas county, but we can say this: ONE carelessly discarded cigaret butt would be far more dangerous than any Jap bombs we have received up to the present time.

The men in charge of protecting our forests are not getting grey hairs worrying about what the Japs might do to start fires. The "enemy" they fear lives right here on the Pacific coast. He is the man who tramps or rides through the forest, tossing away lighted matches or burning cigaret or cigar butts, knocking the ashes out of his pipe upon ground litter, or leaving his campfire untended. He is the man who, while loving the woods, destroys them through his own criminal negligence.

We have, too, the incendiarist. Ordinarily he gets in his nefarious work later in the season. He purposely starts fires to induce deer to come into the burned area to feed off fresh green shoots, in order that his hunting may be accomplished with less effort, or to provide range for his livestock. The incendiarist is the arch-enemy of our forests.

We would become tremendously aroused and angered should a score of Jap incendiary bombs be dropped upon our Douglas county forests. We would be ready to take up arms against such a dastardly act. Yet we are prone to view with complacency the work of the incendiarist who may set out a string of fires over a distance of several miles.

We overestimate the threat of Jap bombs because they are unique. A balloon bomb probably would be no more serious as a fire menace than a strike of lightning. Electrical storms are the chief source of forest fires. There were 18 lightning fires started in the Rogue river national forest this week, all being brought under control within a few hours after discovery. We have far more reason to fear lightning as a source of damage to our forest than the Jap balloon nuisance.

Rather than worry about the enemy abroad, we should concentrate upon the "enemy" at home; for the man who is careless with fire in the woods is more dangerous than anything the Japs have sent against our forests up to the present time.

The Jap realizes that widespread forest fires on the Pacific coast would be of advantage to him in the war effort by slowing down production, shipping and redeployment of troops. We should, therefore, use extreme personal diligence that through our own carelessness we do not give aid and comfort to the enemy by causing fires in our forests, a thing he is spending millions of dollars to do through use of his freak invention, but an act we can accomplish through a simple flip of the wrist.

Kiwanis Park Job Bee Changed to July 18

Horace Berg, president of the Kiwanis club, announces that the date of the "construction bee" at Kiwanis park has been changed from 6:30 p. m., July 17, to the same hour on July 18. A call has been issued to all service club members of Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis to assist at that time in completing the improvements at the park.

Daniel D. Gage, OPA Rent Director, Resigns

Daniel D. Gage, OPA rent director for three years, has resigned effective August first, to return to his home in Eugene. McDannell Brown, Portland district OPA director, announced. His successor will be named shortly.
Before his OPA service, Gage was on the staff of the school of business administration at the University of Oregon.

Wildlife Head Opposes Easing of Duck Hunting

PORTLAND, Ore., July 14—(AP)—The U. S. fish and wildlife services do not want states to ease hunting regulations on ducks and geese this year, Director Ira N. Gabrielson declared here.
He said the laws should be kept strict because of reduced flocks and an increase in hunting and fishing. Gabrielson condemned attempts to restore "baiting" of duck lakes or use of live decoys.

War Veteran Dies

Ott Lewis Ebert, 50, World War veteran and resident of Los Angeles, died at the Veterans hospital Thursday. The body has been removed to the Douglas Funeral home and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Olympias, Dunham's Tied for Lead of Softball League

The three-way tie for leadership in the Roseburg Softball league was broken last night when the Elks club was relegated to third place, leaving Olympia Supply and Dunham's still tied for top spot as a result of their respective wins.

The Elks took a four-run lead in the first inning of the game with Dunham's as the result of a walk, fielder's choice and three hits, one a home run. The Lodgesmen added one run in the second inning and another in the sixth. The Elks apparently were coasting into an easy victory as Dunham's had gathered only four runs, when their hurler, Young sprained his ankle in the seventh inning and was relieved by Amos. Before Amos could get warmed up, Dunham's collected three runs to win the ball game.

Sutherland took a 2 to 0 lead over Olympia Supply in the fourth inning of the second game, but a combination of errors, coupled with one hit, gave the Olympians three runs in the fifth to which they added another in the sixth.

Peterson, who was wild as a March hare, when sent into Tuesday's game as a relief pitcher, had the Sutherland boys eating out of his hand last night, permitting only one safety in the seven-inning contest.

Summary: R. H. E. Elks 4100010-6 7 5 Dunham's 0301003-7 5 3 Young, Amos and Baughman; Ellison and Myers. Sutherland 0002000-2 1 6 Olympia 000031x-4 3 2

Beavers Increase Lead; Win Streak Of Rainiers Ends

Portland's Beavers, best when the chips are down, have boosted their Pacific Coast league lead half a notch to two and a half games.

Duplicating previous performances when their position was threatened, the Beavers slapped out a 7-1 victory over the San Francisco Seals last night as Seattle's winning streak ended at 10 straight. The second-place Rainiers took their tenth in a row in the first game of a double-header with the Hollywood Stars, winning 6-5 in extra innings, but met defeat 10-7 in the nightcap, halted by the time limit at the end of the fifth.

In California engagements, the Oakland Aacorns blanked Sacramento 4-0, while the Los Angeles Angels went on a rampage to beat the San Diego Padres 16-1.

Double Main Event Is Offered Wrestling Fans

Tonight's professional wrestling show at the Roseburg armory will have been billed as a double main event—in view of the interest shown in two promising matches to be presented by Don Owen on his weekly card.
The headliner will match Walter "Sneeze" Achiu, the Chinese jiu-jitsu exponent, against Jack "Hoosier" Hot-Shot Lipscomb, one of the most brutal villains in the sport. Achiu will be out to top Lipscomb's strides toward two coast championship engagements.

Lieut. Roy Hatfield Back From Caribbean Service

LIEUTENANT (jg) ROY Hatfield, Jr., of Route 1, Roseburg, has returned from a tour of duty in the Caribbean, where he served with navy patrol bombing squadron 214.
Using big Mariner flying boats, the squadron ranged over thousands of miles of ocean on convoy coverages and anti-submarine sweeps. Pilots and aircrews frequently found boredom their chief enemy during long hours of wearying routine patrols. Although one plane was forced down, its crew was saved and the squadron lost no personnel during its twenty months of duty—a reflection on the skill of both flying and ground crews.

Japanese Mothers Kill Children and Themselves

ON MINDANAO, Southern Philippines—A prisoner told 24th division officers that 40 Japanese women and children had been found with their throats cut. The incident renewed speculation that many other Japanese civilians may resort to mass suicide and murder.
According to the prisoner, the group of women and children were abandoned by the Japanese army and when they were caught between the lines by an artillery duel, the frantic mothers killed their children and themselves.
