ing lot, it is doubtful if anyone on this train could skin so much as a weaner calf, let alone a steer. As for cutting it up!!!

By some miracle of management, this train, the City of San Francisco, is an enchanted island of pleasant living in a world that in many ways is becoming topsy-turvy.

And the cooks—well, one might as well end this paean of somewhat lyric gastronomic praise by stating that they don't adhere to the slap it in the pan and burn it quick school. It actually tastes like food.

The linen is snowy (with diesel engines, there is no soot to mar it), the silver sparkles, the china does whatever the right kind of china is supposed to do at meal-time and the steward wears an exceedingly well-cut white jacket and an honest-to-goodness smile.

IT'S time to draw the curtain on this theme before the copy reader decides that this stuff got in the wrong envelope and turns it over to the advertising department, but if in the brave new world the railroads can take the City of San Francisco as a model and add a few presumably essential plastic and electronic touches to it they won't have to worry too much over losing postwar business to the airplanes.

OUT of Wyoming into Nebraska. Out of the grass country into the western reaches of the agricultural Mississippi valley. Out of the cattle and sheep economy into the edges of the corn-hog economy.

This transition threw the early explorers off in their calculations. They couldn't quite figure what this country beyond the upper valleys of the Platte could ever be good for, and they weren't too complimentary about it in their reports. The Long for whom Long's peak in the Rockies is named, for example, He didn't exactly come out and say it wasn't worth a tinker's dam, but he chose his words carefully to convey that idea. Zebulon Pike, whose name is perpetuated by Pike's peak, wasn't much more complimentary.

In the fateful 40s, when the decision to extend the boundaries of the youthful United States of America to the shores of the Pacific was being hammered out on the anvil of public debate, more than one member of congress arose in his place, pounded the desk before him and shouted that the whole western country wasn't worth $2 and was fit only for rattlesnakes and jackrabbits.

WELL, they were wrong—as politicians often have been. Those who had FAITH IN AMERICA were right. ALWAYS, from the planting of the first colony on the bleak Atlantic beaches until now, it has been those who had faith in America who were right and those who wanted to sell America short who were wrong.

Let's keep that fact in mind in these puzzling postwar years that are coming.

CONTRIBUTE SCRAP PAPER

By Charles V. Stanton

The Douglas County Shrine club is arranging collection and shipment of waste paper on the date of Sunday, July 22, as a part of a state-wide benefit for the Oregon Shriners' hospital at Portland. We sincerely hope the Shrine club will be given every possible cooperation by all Douglas county residents.

Of course, from one standpoint, we speak from a selfish attitude, because the News-Review is most seriously handicapped by the current newspaper shortage. The more waste paper collected and converted into use, the sooner we will be able to accept more advertising accounts and extend subscriptions to a considerable number of applicants from outside Douglas county who seek to join the ranks of our readers but who must be denied until newsprint becomes more abundant.

But transcending our own selfish desire is the need for paper in the war effort. We are willing to make even more concessions in the use of paper, costly though it may be, if further reduction would hasten by one day the end of the war. (We must hasten to add that we strenuously protest the shameful and extravagant waste of paper by federal propaganda agencies and excessive and needless bureaus, while newspapers are being critically curtailed.)

Another good reason why every possible cooperation should be given in the forthcoming campaign lies in the benefit to be derived by the Shriners' hospital.

The Oregonian, in a recent issue, said:

Oregon's Shriners' hospital since 1924 has cured or restored to useful lives 3200 children who might otherwise have been lifelong cripples. With poliomyelitis increasing, the hospital's fifty beds continuously in use, and more than 200 crippled children awaiting admittance, more funds are needed. Only those whose afflictions are grave, and whose parents are unable to afford private treatment, are eligible—and there is no distinction as to race, color or creed.

Last year the Shrine sponsored a one-day scrap paper drive in Portland and set a national record, collecting 1,500 tons, resulting in $21,000 proceeds, The Oregonian reports. That drive was in Portland alone. From the state at large the returns should be very much greater.

Certainly, the cause should impel every resident who is in a position to contribute to this campaign to do his utmost in making every scrap of waste paper available for salvage.

The campaign in Douglas county will require a small measure of voluntary cooperation. A house-to-house canvass will be made in the city of Roseburg. All that will be asked of Roseburg residents is that they bundle their scrap paper, separating magazines, newspapers and cardboard, tying each bundle SECURELY. Small scraps should be packed in to strong cartons, which, in turn, should be tightly bound with strong cord.

Outside the city of Roseburg, it is asked that residents of each community deliver their paper to central receiving stations. Notice will be given concerning the places where paper is to be delivered. Trucks will be sent out to transport all contributions to the Roseburg loading station.

By your cooperation in this drive you can accomplish several purposes. Your paper will aid the war effort. The dollars paid for that paper may aid in restoring some crippled child to health. You will help relieve the growing scarcity of paper products for civilian use. And your conscience will be satisfied. It isn't too early to start searching the attic or cellar for your contribution to the forthcoming campaign.

Santa Claus Role For Old World Over U. S. Ability

BY WEWITT MacKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It won't be long now before we have an answer to the greatest question that has grown out of the European war—whether the Big Three can stand solidly together in the reconstruction of a shattered continent as they have stood together on the battlefields.

If President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill are able to keep the Berlin conference in the channels of unity and mutual confidence, then we shall have won the peace as we have won the war.

It won't be surprising if one of the results of the conference would be to let the rest of Europe understand what our Russian and British allies already know, and this is that there are limits to the resources which America can devote to the rehabilitation of the old world. The mistaken idea seems to prevail in many capitals that our Uncle Sam is Santa Claus. There's nothing he would like better than to play that role, for he has the disposition, but he just hasn't the wherewithal to meet all the demands being made on him.

Germany Staggering Problem
The punishment and remodeling of Germany presents staggering problems. There are territorial adjustments, perhaps the breaking up of the Reich, the form of government to be permitted, and the reparations.

sia's attitude toward Japan—at least Tokyo is looking for this. Numerous boundary readjustments are also on the fire, and hundreds of thousands of civilians to be transferred in order to avoid fresh minority problems. The whole continent is reeking with tense political situations, and the fiery Balkans are on the verge of upheaval.

One of the most urgent problems naturally is the feeding of a hungry Europe. That must be done quickly—and it's going to tax the resources of the whole world. Failure will mean that thousands must die.

Restrictions on Local Deliveries Are Eased

WASHINGTON, July 16—(AP)—The ODT Saturday eased its restrictions on local commercial delivery operations.

The agency authorized use of one used light or medium truck for new local carrier operations. It also approved extension of current local delivery services. In both cases, however, operators will be required to show new or additional deliveries will in no way interfere with existing programs for conservation of truck transportation facilities.

ODT emphasized that the changes do not affect regulations covering the frequency of deliveries.

Truman, Anderson, Byrnes Praised by Stockman

PENDLETON, July 14—(AP)—Prediction that only a few negative votes will be cast against the United Nations charter came today from Rep. Stockman, here for a couple of months before returning to Washington, D. C. "It's the best thing we have and must be given a trial," he said of the charter. Praising President Truman, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and James Byrnes, Stockman said Truman has showed "excellent judgment" in choosing men Anderson and Byrnes have the acclaim of both major parties, the congressman stated.

Achiu Wins Over Lipscomb; Katonen Defeats Franco

Jack Lipscomb, the Hoosier Horrible, was at his meanest in the headliner of the weekly wrestling menu at the Roseburg armory last Saturday night, which was the reason for Referee Jack Kiser's action in halting the bout in the third and deciding round and awarding victory to "Sneeze" Achiu, the Chinese grappler. That hectic session saw Lipscomb knock Kiser down as a climax to frequent disputes and warnings. Upon regaining an upright stance, Kiser lurched the means under the ropes and raised Achiu's hand in a significant verdict. The round lasted 15 minutes, 32 seconds.

The first fall went to the Hoosier in 15:43 on a headlock after the Oriental had been softened up with about everything in Lipscomb's unorthodox repertoire. In the second round, lasting 14:23, Sneeze retaliated by twice putting Lipscomb through the ropes and onto the floor, first with his feet and then with a brace of shoulder butts. As Lipscomb, after the second toss, stood outside the ropes for a breather, Sneeze reached over, grabbed his foe in a headlock, lifted him over onto the mat and slammed him down for a fall.

Finn Defeats Franco
Embellished with an elaborate tattoo, Roseburg-born Louis Franco, for the past three and a half years on duty in Uncle Sam's navy, made his homecoming debut as a wrestler in the semi-final of the card, with Paavo Katonen, the 150-pound Finn, as his opponent. Although outweighing eight pounds, Franco, by dint of speed and cleverness, broke every hold clamped on him by the Finn, except the one that subdued him in the first and third rounds—the deadly hangman. The first was recorded in 9:43, the third in 6:14.

Francis got the second fall in the quick time of 3:46 with his specialty—a rolling arm scissors, in which he held one of the Finn's arms in a vise-like clutch and roughed him all over the mat, to the accompaniment of yells of delight from the crowd, numbering around 500. The Finn, in the first and third rounds, knee gouged, slugged and butted the lighter man, drawing salvos of boos, which crescendoed at the finale to a roar of derision. As the left ring he voiced to a ringsider this tribute to his defeated opponent: "He's a lot better boy than most people think he is."

Capt. Fred Kinsel Wins Air Medal

Captain Fred Kinsel, son of Mrs. W. R. Kinsel, Wilbur, has been awarded the Air Medal for "Meritorious achievement by participating in more than 250 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the dangerous and difficult Assam-China air routes, where enemy interception and attack was probable and expected." Mrs. Kinsel has been informed. The copy of the citation received by the mother states: "Flying at night as well as by day at high altitudes over impassable mountainous terrain, through area characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions, necessitating long periods of operation on instruments, and often encountering severe icing conditions and mechanical difficulties requiring courageous and superior performance of his respective duties to overcome, he accomplished his missions with distinction. His achievement, in the face of the hazards and difficulties faced regularly and continuously with steadfast devotion to duty reflects much credit upon himself and the army air forces of the United States."

Captain Kinsel, a former member of the Roseburg police force, served as an instructor with the army air forces prior to his transfer to the air transport command. He went to India in December 1944.

Traffic Violators Fined

Traffic fines paid in the Roseburg justice court were reported Saturday by Judge Thomas C. Hartfiel to include John R. Kobbe, $10, no tail light; Carroll L. Pitts, $10, no headlights; Delbert G. Cobb, $20, axle overload; Merritt L. Clark, $10, passing with insufficient clearance; Robert G. McArthur, $10, no vehicle license, and $10, failure to register certificate of title.

Beavers, Rainiers Stay Neck and Neck By Twin Bill Wins

(By The Associated Press)
The Portland Beavers today were still three and one-half games ahead of the Seattle Rainiers who had pressed them for leadership of the Pacific Coast league.

The Beavers and Rainiers took both ends of their doubleheaders yesterday, Portland turning back San Francisco, 8-4 and 5-4, and Seattle downing the Hollywood Stars, 5-3 and 4-0. Before that Seattle had crept to within two and one-half of the leaders.

Oakland copped a rare series from Sacramento Sunday, four games to three, by dividing with Sacramento, 1-0 and 0-5. Displaying its pitching power, Los Angeles rolled over the humble Padres, 3-1 and 4-0, to advance into Sixth Place.

Although he was knocked off the mound by a Seals rally in the eighth inning, Purford claimed his 15th victory in the first game at Portland. Heiser finished the hurling chores. Closely pressed in the nightcap, Portland went out to win in the seventh and filled the bags with three singles. Gullie drove in the final run.

Seattle's twin win was assured in the first frame of the second game when they punched over three runs and then held the Stars in check. It was Chet Johnson's sixth straight win. Kimball had been assured the matinee win by a five-run fourth.

Robert G. Brown Estate Appraised at $44,145

Robert G. Brown, who was found dead in his room at Oakland last June 11, left an estate appraised at $44,145.71, according to a report filed with Roy Agee, county clerk.

Brown, 66, who had been a resident of Oakland for several years but was not well known. He lived in a room in a boarding house and was in the habit of going unannounced trips to Portland and when he was not seen about the town as usual, his absence aroused no attention.

He is presumed to have died May 18, but the body was not discovered until June 11.

A niece, Zona I. Fuller, Hillsboro, is the only known relative. Appraisal of the estate, chiefly in stocks and bonds, was made by Fred F. Hughes, H. L. Fuller and A. W. Brown.
